Nuptials Read In Santa Rosa

St. Rose's Catholic Church in Samuel A. Asti of that city, and Theodore Edward Siemens. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Siemens of Chiloquin.

The rites were read by the Rev. Louis Persano. Mary McCarthy was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over satin with a floor length tiered skirt, short sleeves and a scalloped neckline. A crown of pearls held her fingertip veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of feathered white carnations, stephanotis and a white orchid with white satin streamers. She also carried a 50-year-old white prayer book belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Asti. Traditional touches were a blue garter and sixpence in her slipper.

Mary Clavin, San Francisco, maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Valerie Williams and Marie Barilani, Cloverdale, wore ballerina frocks of orchid nylon over tulle and net headpieces. They carried cascade bouquets of orchid beauty carnations.

Janice Asti, junior bridesmaid for her sister, also wore a nylon dress and carried orchid carnations.

Best man for his brother was Richard E. Siemens of Corvallis. Ushers were Dennis Asti, brother of the bride, and Robert McConathy, Chiloquin.

Mrs. Asti wore for the wedding a shocking pink silk sheath with matching hat and shoes and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. Mrs. Siemens chose a beige lace dress with matching accessories and corsage of lavender orchid.

Following the ceremony, the couple was feasted at a buffet luncheon at the IOOF Temple. White gladioli and stock were used for decorations. A five tiered wedding cake surrounded by white rosebuds, lily of the valley and fern centered the bridal table. The cake was served by Mrs. John Matulich, an aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Albino Tavaszi, Susan Travaglini, cousin of the bride, passed the guest book. Assisting were Mrs. Lloyd Ely, Mrs.

Church Rites Unite Couple

A recent ceremony officiated by the Rev. C. O. Tremaine at the Free Methodist Church united in marriage Gail Newland and Larry K. Seal.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Newland of this city, was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned with a long sleeve bodice of Chantilly lace and scalloped neckline edged with seed pearls. The full skirt was of tiers of lace over organza. A shoulder length veil was held in place by a crown of pearls. She carried a white carnation nosegay atop a white pearl-covered Bible, gift of the bridegroom.

Bridal attendants were Shannon Seal, sister of the bridegroom, and Patty Cole of Salem. They wore white cotton brocade frocks and carried pink nosegays. Their pink net headpieces were gifts of the bride.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Seal of Seaside, was attended by Roy Barnes of Ontario, Sonny Newland and Grant Seal, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Tessa Green was the pianist and accompanist for the soloist who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Mrs. Newland was attired in a two-piece teal blue ensemble with white accessories. Mrs. Seal chose a navy blue outfit with pink accessories. Both mothers wore white rosebud corsages.

A. J. Asti, Mrs. Thomas Wealand, John Matulich, Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Travaglini and William Landucci.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Southern California. For traveling, Mrs. Siemens changed to a lavender silk-linen sheath with a lavender feather hat, black patent accessories and white orchid corsage. She attended Ursuline High School and Santa Rosa Junior College. She is employed by Wells Fargo-American Trust Company.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Chiloquin High School and Oregon State College, is a pharmacist at the Medico Drug Company. They will be at home at 1986 Army Drive in Santa Rosa.

Hawaii To Be Home Of October Newlyweds

Double ring rites in Mt. Laki Community Presbyterian Church on Oct. 8 united Sharlene Ren Finchum and Frederic Gerald Croydon, who later flew from San Francisco to Hawaii to establish their first home in Honolulu. Family members and close friends were present for the informal two o'clock ceremony read by the Rev. Andrew Jarvis. The altar was decorated with red roses and lighted white tapers.

Mrs. Albert Herringshaw played traditional wedding music before the nuptial service.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Finchum, said her vows in a street length gown of rose patterned white satin in brocade made by her mother. The straight sheath was fashioned with dropped waistline and elbow length sleeves. A white satin circle encrusted with seed pearls held a short veil and she carried long stemmed red roses tied with wide red satin streamers. A sword-shaped beauty pin, once owned by the bride's great-grandmother and now by her grandmother, Mrs. Inez Short, she wore as other young brides in the family have before. In her slipper was an 1803 penny which had belonged to her late grandfather, Lum Short.

Sole attendant for her sister was Coleen Finchum, whose attire was a red velvet sheath dress with red net overskirt. Her bouquet was of white roses.

The bride's brother, Jerry Finchum, served as best man and her brother-in-law, David Meeker, ushered guests to their seats. Mrs. Finchum wore for her daughter's wedding a soft blue lace dress with blue feather hat and black accessories. A corsage of pink rosebuds was pinned at her shoulder.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church parlors. The ornately decorated four tiered cake was the handiwork of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Inez Short; her mother, Mrs. Finchum, and her aunt, Mrs. John Short.

Mr. and Mrs. Croydon drove to the Willamette Valley for a brief honeymoon before flying to San Francisco and on to Honolulu. Their address in the island city is 819C Kinau Street.

The new Mrs. Croydon attended band. He attended the University of Hawaii and is presently a member of the Honolulu Police Force. The bridal couple was entertained at a shower and reception before their marriage Oct. 1 at Mt. Laki Church. Table decorations were lovely orchids flown from Hawaii by the bridegroom's father. Over 100 guests included relatives, friends and college and high school classmates of the bride.
