

Coach Claims Beavers Played Rough; My, What's This Game Coming To?

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ernie Davis of Syracuse is a cinch All-American this season—if he lives through the next three games.

There is no guarantee that he will. He is the number one target of rival teams and, as such, is the constant victim of vicious piling on and what is known as "kamikaze tackling," zooming in helmet first on a player already going down.

And let's not forget that 25 players already have died on the nation's gridirons this year.

Davis' potential as a stretcher coach—or worse—is emphasized by Coach Ben Schwartzwalder in a damning diatribe against officials who refuse to call piling on penalties.

Schwartzwalder, the one-time paratroop major, sums up this negligence as a "great laxity" which amounts to "sheer murder."

Pleads With Officials

"Let Davis leave one inch exposed and they give it to him with knee or helmet," charges the Syracuse coach. "I always plead with the officials at halftime but they haven't called one single piling on penalty in the last three games. I tell them to give us the same treatment if we're guilty, because it should be stopped."

"Maybe it's just good coaching," he gives it the tongue-in-cheek treatment. "But as for Davis, we don't dare run him inside. On that kind of a play we have to use him as the man in motion or they'd kill him."

Schwartzwalder wasn't overemphasizing Davis' plight, Davis, he said, is the number one target "because he's our team this season" and there apparently is little official concern over Syracuse because "it seems like we've been the 'bad guys' since 1959." That year, Syracuse won all 10 games and defeated Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

Couldn't Raise Arm

Pointing a finger at such rivals as Oregon State, Pitt and Penn State, Schwartzwalder said that Davis has been pounded so mercilessly that during one three-game period he couldn't raise his right arm and that to prevent serious injury he has been swathed in extra large pads.

"Ernie has survived a lot of pounding, particularly against Oregon State," the major said. "Against Penn State, when he took one step to the right, 10 men on the defense moved with him. Actually, they only had three men assigned to him and last week Pitt covered him with two men."

As one example, Schwartzwalder told of an incident in the Pitt game last Saturday.

"Pitt's number 78 (six foot, two inch 233-pound tackle Gary Kaltenbach) was really racking Davis up," Schwartzwalder recounted. "So once when he came near me on the sidelines I told him 'don't kill Davis. We've got three more games left.'"

"That big number 78 laughed at me," said the Syracuse coach, "and actually did ease off."

Take Full Shot

But the ordinary routine for the opposition, where Davis is concerned, is to take a full shot at the Syracuse star.

"The opposition seems to be wherever he goes—with or without the ball," Schwartzwalder asserted.

It's even worse that it was during the Syracuse tenure of Jimmy Brown, now a pro star with the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

"One of Brown's invaluable assets was that he was practically indestructible," the major analyzed. "The worst injury he ever had was a split lip when he hit a sideline marker. But they never piled on him the way they do on Davis."

Which is a sad commentary, indeed, on these tragic football times.

Major League Commissioner Seeking Return Of 'Spitball'

NEW YORK (AP)—Believers of big league baseball pitchers, stung by a record 2,730 home runs last season, have a strong ally in Commissioner Ford Frick.

"I hope they bring back the spitball," Frick said today. "The pitchers need help. Most of the rule changes the past few years have favored the batter. Something has to be done to give the game more balance."

According to Frick, a proposal to legalize the spitter was submitted to the major league rules committee last month. The group is expected to consider it during the major's annual meetings early in December in Tampa, Fla. Jim Gallagher, veteran executive most recently with Philadelphia, is the committee chairman.

"A similar proposal was submitted to the committee a few years ago but was turned down," Frick recalled. "This time I think there's even more need for the spitter. The fans will eventually get tired of seeing all these home runs. The spitball would help bring back the stolen base, the hit-and-run and the sacrifice and would give the fans something new."

Frick pointed out Joe Cronin, American League president, and Frank Shaughnessy, former president of the International League, also are in favor of the spitball's return.

The spitball, outlawed in the early 1920s, moves up to the plate like a knuckler, only faster, Frick said.

LAST PUBLIC WORKOUT
HIGHLAND MILLS, N.Y. (UPI)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson has his last public workout today before moving on to Toronto to train for his Dec. 4 title defense against Tom McNeely of Boston.

BOWLING SCORES

Holiday Lakeview

BEETLEBOB LEAGUE		SAGEBRUSH LEAGUE
W	L	W	L
Bliss AAA Towing	28	Blv. Oregon	19
Explos Auxiliaries	24	Ed's Welton	17
Oregon Food Store	19	Snack Bar	14
One Hour Martenizing	17	Gray Insurance	14
Holiday Bowl Coffee Shop	17	L.O.S. Church	14
Acme Concrete	15	Elder Ranch	13
State Farm Ins.	12	Quilting Time	13
Moulinograft	8	Sieberts T.V.	10

HOLIDAY BOWL LEFTOVERS LEAGUE		CACTUS LEAGUE
W	L	W	L
Team No. 1	3	Sieberts T.V.	17
Team No. 4	2	Marketier	17
Team No. 5	2	Lakeview Refrigerator	16
Team No. 2	2	Lakeview Tractor	14
Team No. 3	2	Latter Day Saints	13
Team No. 6	1	Loveness Tractor	13
Team No. 7	1	Jilly Way Dairy	12
Team No. 8	1	Pacific Power & Light	10

PANDORA'S HOLIDAY LEAGUE		KINGSLEY
W	L	W	L
Lidell's Drugs	17	N.C.O. Open Mens	26
Jack's Super Market	15	Fanny Cleaners	19
Rob's Drive In	15	Soud Cellar	11
Western Oil & Burner	15	Team No. 1	7
Auto. Transmission	15	Team No. 2	7
Automatic Transmission	14	Team No. 3	7
Henry Store	14	Team No. 4	7
Leo's Store	13	Team No. 5	7
Little Johns	10	Team No. 6	7

TWILITE LEAGUE		FALCONETTES LEAGUE
W	L	W	L
Vacuum Cleaner Center	26	Bowling Belles	20
Ranch Club	24	Heights	17
U.S. Hospital	22	Flintstones	17
Interstate Pump	22	Pin Tickers	13
Dennis Shell	19	Pin Tickers	13
Plastic & Dairy	19	Pin Tickers	13
Canvass & Cushion Shop	18	Pin Tickers	13
Canvass & Cushion Shop	18	Pin Tickers	13
Wash. Telephone	15	Pin Tickers	13
J.C. Rene	13	Pin Tickers	13
Admiralty Ward	12	Pin Tickers	13
Admiralty Ward	12	Pin Tickers	13

SATELLITE LEAGUE		MONDAY MIXED LEAGUE
W	L	W	L
Lucca Cafe	26	Past Blue Ribbon Beer	28
U.S. Hospital	24	Squirt	23
Skateland Wheels	24	Olympia Beer	22
Clean Linn & Supply	22	Lucky Lanes	20
The Bank of Klamath Falls	20	Lucky Lanes	20
Crater Lake Machinery	19	Lucky Lanes	20
Jay Hawk Oil	16	Lucky Lanes	20
State Police	16	Lucky Lanes	20
Pacific Coop	8	Lucky Lanes	20
Drews' Manstore	6	Lucky Lanes	20

BORDERLINE LEAGUE		KF FOUR MAN LEAGUE
W	L	W	L
4 I's	10	Pelican Auto Laundry	42
Alley Oop	10	Bon Bazaar	40
Pinheads	8	Golden Creme Donuts	40
Knacks	8	Schultz Beer	40
Tule Taters	7	Summers Lane Richfield	40
Gramps & Grannies	5	R & C Sales	40
Fouling Four	5	Amidon's Business Machines	40
Pin Faders	5	Pioneer Vending	40
Kookie Keaders	5	Nov. 2 results: Amidons 2, Pelican Auto Laundry 1, Bon Bazaar 2, Pioneer Vending 1, Schultz Beer 2, Summers Lane 1, Golden Creme Donuts 2, R & C Sales 1, High team game, Amidons 80, high team series, Amidons 224; high ind. series, Betty Mashke 214; high ind. series (women), Jody Bailey 44.

BORDERLINE LEAGUE		KF FOUR MAN LEAGUE
W	L	W	L
4 I's	10	Pelican Auto Laundry	42
Alley Oop	10	Bon Bazaar	40
Pinheads	8	Golden Creme Donuts	40
Knacks	8	Schultz Beer	40
Tule Taters	7	Summers Lane Richfield	40
Gramps & Grannies	5	R & C Sales	40
Fouling Four	5	Amidon's Business Machines	40
Pin Faders	5	Pioneer Vending	40
Kookie Keaders	5	Nov. 2 results: Amidons 2, Pelican Auto Laundry 1, Bon Bazaar 2, Pioneer Vending 1, Schultz Beer 2, Summers Lane 1, Golden Creme Donuts 2, R & C Sales 1, High team game, Amidons 80, high team series, Amidons 224; high ind. series, Betty Mashke 214; high ind. series (women), Jody Bailey 44.

California Coach Seeks Healthy '11'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—University of California, still suffering the throes of a losing streak, is pointing for the Air Force on Saturday in no uncertain terms.

But Coach Marvin Levy indicated today he may have trouble finding a healthy team.

"Things could change by Saturday, but right now we will be without the services of quarterback Randy Gold, halfback Hirm Burgess, fullback George Pirovich, tackle Larry Lowell and wingback Jack Trumbo," said Levy.

Larry Balliett would go in as the signal-caller if Gold is unable to start.

The Air Force brings a record pretty much like California's. It has won 2 and lost 5. Cal is 1-5-1. Notes and quotes from other figures at the weekly session of the Northern California Football Writers' Association:

Jack Curtice, Stanford—"That Mel Renfro of Oregon is a scallawag. He can do everything. And my scouts say he is just as good, if not better, when he plays on the defense."

Levy—"When UCLA meets Southern California the battle could go either way. UCLA has the best team blocking I've seen since coming to California. The USC passing will test the UCLA aerial defenses. UCLA and Washington have about equal backfield speed."

Warren Goodrich, Air Force—"Just when we have our best Falcons for a half-time show, we are having our worst season. Our team is real light—and we can field a backfield that averages only 138 pounds to the man and stands 5-8 high."

Coach Bob Titchenal, San Jose State—"We played our most perfect quarter in the first period against Arizona State. Our Chon Gallegos still heads the nation in passing with 90 completions out of 149 attempts for 1,103 yards."

Pat Malley, Santa Clara—"We play the Seattle Ramblers next. They have five men from their last two Rose Bowl games, including Ray Jackson and Joe Jones. We have 29 freshmen and sophomores on our club."

Vic Rowen, San Francisco State—"The Far Western Conference championship race is wide open, now that Nevada upset Sacramento State. We play Sacramento next and we'll have to play our best game to win."

The writers named Dick Scott of University of Pacific, which upset Idaho, as the Northern California "back of the week" and chose Oscar Donahue, San Jose State, "lineman of the week" for his play against Arizona State.

Houston 3rd-Sacker

Transplanted Brooklynite Hopes To Get Rich In Texas

BROOKLYN, N.Y. (UPI)—Bob Aspromonte is a Brooklynite who thinks he's going to strike it rich in Texas—but it isn't oil fields he's concerned about digging up—it's ground balls.

The slim, 6-3 good-looking Aspromonte right now is the Houston Colts' starting third baseman for their maiden season in the National League and he plans to keep it that way.

"I was a victim of circumstances last season," said the 23-year-old Aspromonte, who rode the Los Angeles Dodgers' bench for most of the 1961 campaign. "Walter Alston (Dodgers' manager) had no other choice except to play his experienced hands while shooting for the pennant," he said.

Expansion Is Great

"This expansion is a great thing for myself and a lot of other ball players," said Aspro-monte of the senior circuit's addition of the New York Mets and Houston.

Aspromonte, nicknamed "Slats" for his physical resemblance to Marty Marion, the St. Louis Cardinals' former star shortstop, was rated a top major league prospect when signed by the old Brooklyn Dodgers, back in 1956.

Since then it's been the minor leagues or the big league bench for Aspromonte. "But I'm still young," he said, "and I think we'll have a good ball club at Houston this year. It was hard to crack the lineup with established players like Daryl Spencer, Charlie Neal, Junior Gilliam and Maura Wills," said the third member of the Aspromonte family to play organized ball.

US AAU Boxers Head For Ireland

LEEDS, England (UPI)—A touring United States AAU boxing team headed for Ireland today, content that the squad had gained some measure of revenge for a sound thrashing administered by British fighters last week.

The Yanks, clobbered in all 10 bouts by an English ABA unit during the first meeting, split eight bouts with the British Monday in a second go-around. The U.S. hopes to do even better in Dublin on Friday.

James Caldwell of Swano, Wis., gave the U.S. its first victory after his mates had dropped four straight Monday night.

Lightweight: Paul Warwick outpointed Woodie Marcus, Pocatello, Idaho.

Light welterweight: John Caldwell, of Swano, Wis., outpointed Brian Brazier.

Welterweight: Phil Baldwin, Muskegon Heights, Mich., outpointed Harry Dean.

Light middleweight: Roy McMillan, Toledo Ohio, outpointed Kevin O'Reilly.

Middleweight: Leotis Martin, Toledo, Ohio, outpointed Johnny Caiger.

outpointed Don Rouse, of Murray, Utah.

Lightweight: Marc Warwick outpointed Woodie Marcus, Pocatello, Idaho.

Light welterweight: John Caldwell, of Swano, Wis., outpointed Brian Brazier.

Welterweight: Phil Baldwin, Muskegon Heights, Mich., outpointed Harry Dean.

Light middleweight: Roy McMillan, Toledo Ohio, outpointed Kevin O'Reilly.

Middleweight: Leotis Martin, Toledo, Ohio, outpointed Johnny Caiger.

Kingsley

LEEDS, England (UPI)—A touring United States AAU boxing team headed for Ireland today, content that the squad had gained some measure of revenge for a sound thrashing administered by British fighters last week.

The Yanks, clobbered in all 10 bouts by an English ABA unit during the first meeting, split eight bouts with the British Monday in a second go-around. The U.S. hopes to do even better in Dublin on Friday.

James Caldwell of Swano, Wis., gave the U.S. its first victory after his mates had dropped four straight Monday night.

Lightweight: Paul Warwick outpointed Woodie Marcus, Pocatello, Idaho.

Light welterweight: John Caldwell, of Swano, Wis., outpointed Brian Brazier.

Welterweight: Phil Baldwin, Muskegon Heights, Mich., outpointed Harry Dean.

Light middleweight: Roy McMillan, Toledo Ohio, outpointed Kevin O'Reilly.

Middleweight: Leotis Martin, Toledo, Ohio, outpointed Johnny Caiger.

outpointed Don Rouse, of Murray, Utah.

Lightweight: Marc Warwick outpointed Woodie Marcus, Pocatello, Idaho.

Light welterweight: John Caldwell, of Swano, Wis., outpointed Brian Brazier.

Welterweight: Phil Baldwin, Muskegon Heights, Mich., outpointed Harry Dean.

Light middleweight: Roy McMillan, Toledo Ohio, outpointed Kevin O'Reilly.

Middleweight: Leotis Martin, Toledo, Ohio, outpointed Johnny Caiger.

Vet Eagle Lineman

Expects Some Boos

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Veteran lineman Chuck Bednarik said today he expects to get booed next Sunday, when the Philadelphia Eagles tangle with the Giants in New York in a crucial National Football League game.

The stellar Eagles' center figures that some New York fans won't forget his booming tackle in last year's victory which rocked back Frank Gifford and sidelined him the rest of the season with a severe concussion. It was a game-saving tackle and a clean one, Gifford conceded later.

"Some people are funny," said Bednarik. "But the boing won't bother me. Absolutely not. I'm just going to play my ordinary game."

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Veteran lineman Chuck Bednarik said today he expects to get booed next Sunday, when the Philadelphia Eagles tangle with the Giants in New York in a crucial National Football League game.

The stellar Eagles' center figures that some New York fans won't forget his booming tackle in last year's victory which rocked back Frank Gifford and sidelined him the rest of the season with a severe concussion. It was a game-saving tackle and a clean one, Gifford conceded later.

"Some people are funny," said Bednarik. "But the boing won't bother me. Absolutely not. I'm just going to play my ordinary game."

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Veteran lineman Chuck Bednarik said today he expects to get booed next Sunday, when the Philadelphia Eagles tangle with the Giants in New York in a crucial National Football League game.

The stellar Eagles' center figures that some New York fans won't forget his booming tackle in last year's victory which rocked back Frank Gifford and sidelined him the rest of the season with a severe concussion. It was a game-saving tackle and a clean one, Gifford conceded later.

"Some people are funny," said Bednarik. "But the boing won't bother me. Absolutely not. I'm just going to play my ordinary game."

Chamberlain 48.8 Average Leading Loop

NEW YORK (AP)—As usual, lowering Will Chamberlain is leading the National Basketball Association in scoring, with a 48.8 average, and in rebounding.

The defending champion Boston Celtics don't have a player among the top 10 scorers listed in the weekly league statistics released today, nor do they have an individual leader in any department.

But with six players averaging in double figures, the Celtics have won all four outings, lead the Eastern Division standings and have an average margin of victory of 24.8 points.

Chamberlain, the giant Philadelphia center, was held to a season low of 25 points by Boston's Bill Russell last week, but boosted his scoring total to 342 points.

Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor, his closest challenger, trails by 35 points. He has 307 for a 34.1 average.

Rookie Walt Bellamy of the new Chicago Packers leads in field goal accuracy, hitting .330 of his shots. Clyde Lovellette of St. Louis is next at .329.

Philadelphia's Paul Arizin leads in free throw accuracy, .927, followed by Cliff Hagan of St. Louis, .892. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati leads the playmakers with 91 assists in seven games, followed by Richie Guerin of New York with 71.

Chamberlain has 205 rebounds in seven games, a 29.2 average.

NEW YORK (AP)—As usual, lowering Will Chamberlain is leading the National Basketball Association in scoring, with a 48.8 average, and in rebounding.

The defending champion Boston Celtics don't have a player among the top 10 scorers listed in the weekly league statistics released today, nor do they have an individual leader in any department.

But with six players averaging in double figures, the Celtics have won all four outings, lead the Eastern Division standings and have an average margin of victory of 24.8 points.

Chamberlain, the giant Philadelphia center, was held to a season low of 25 points by Boston's Bill Russell last week, but boosted his scoring total to 342 points.

Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor, his closest challenger, trails by 35 points. He has 307 for a 34.1 average.

Rookie Walt Bellamy of the new Chicago Packers leads in field goal accuracy, hitting .330 of his shots. Clyde Lovellette of St. Louis is next at .329.

Philadelphia's Paul Arizin leads in free throw accuracy, .927, followed by Cliff Hagan of St. Louis, .892. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati leads the playmakers with 91 assists in seven games, followed by Richie Guerin of New York with 71.

Chamberlain has 205 rebounds in seven games, a 29.2 average.

NEW YORK (AP)—As usual, lowering Will Chamberlain is leading the National Basketball Association in scoring, with a 48.8 average, and in rebounding.

The defending champion Boston Celtics don't have a player among the top 10 scorers listed in the weekly league statistics released today, nor do they have an individual leader in any department.

But with six players averaging in double figures, the Celtics have won all four outings, lead the Eastern Division standings and have an average margin of victory of 24.8 points.

Chamberlain, the giant Philadelphia center, was held to a season low of 25 points by Boston's Bill Russell last week, but boosted his scoring total to 342 points.

Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor, his closest challenger, trails by 35 points. He has 307 for a 34.1 average.

Rookie Walt Bellamy of the new Chicago Packers leads in field goal accuracy, hitting .330 of his shots. Clyde Lovellette of St. Louis is next at .329.

Philadelphia's Paul Arizin leads in free throw accuracy, .927, followed by Cliff Hagan of St. Louis, .892. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati leads the playmakers with 91 assists in seven games, followed by Richie Guerin of New York with 71.

Chamberlain has 205 rebounds in seven games, a 29.2 average.

Sharpshooter Sets Sights On Title Tiff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Herman Marquies, who expects to become the undisputed world bantamweight champion, raised his sights today on the North American title following an easy win over Ronnie Perez.

And if everything goes as co-manager Al Avila hopes it will, Marquies next will face fellow countryman Joe Medel of Mexico for that crown either here or in Los Angeles.

A steady sharpshooter who never lets his opponent off the hook, Marquies scored a ninth round cut eye technical knockout over the light-hitting Perez Monday night to retain the California state bantam championship.

Both boxers weighed in at the limit of 118 pounds and the gross also was of bantamweight proportions—a pint-sized 82.250.

Doctor Don Lastreto, the commission physician, ordered the 12-round bout halted at 1:41 of the ninth after a brief look at Perez's eye. Both optics were bleeding and the little guy from Hayward, Calif., was just about out of gas both from back-pedaling and being tagged.

Marques had outpointed Perez last June for the state title and had floored him in that contest. Ronnie stayed upright Monday night at Kezar Pavilion, but never had a chance against his relentless pursuer.

Marques, much faster as well as stronger, opened a cut along side Perez's left eye in the fifth round and did the same thing to the right during the seventh. The winner was sharp with left hooks to the head and hooked Perez with a good right cross in the fifth.

Perez's best rounds were the sixth and seventh. He steered Marquies with several left jabs during the sixth and rallied during a brief exchange in the seventh, but outside of that he didn't have it.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Herman Marquies, who expects to become the undisputed world bantamweight champion, raised his sights today on the North American title following an easy win over Ronnie Perez.

And if everything goes as co-manager Al Avila hopes it will, Marquies next will face fellow countryman Joe Medel of Mexico for that crown either here or in Los Angeles.

A steady sharpshooter who never lets his opponent off the hook, Marquies scored a ninth round cut eye technical knockout over the light-hitting Perez Monday night to retain the California state bantam championship.

Both boxers weighed in at the limit of 118 pounds and the gross also was of bantamweight proportions—a pint-sized 82.250.

Doctor Don Lastreto, the commission physician, ordered the 12-round bout halted at 1:41 of the ninth after a brief look at Perez's eye. Both optics were bleeding and the little guy from Hayward, Calif., was just about out of gas both from back-pedaling and being tagged.

Marques had outpointed Perez last June for the state title and had floored him in that contest. Ronnie stayed upright Monday night at Kezar Pavilion, but never had a chance against his relentless pursuer.

Marques, much faster as well as stronger, opened a cut along side Perez's left eye in the fifth round and did the same thing to the right during the seventh. The winner was sharp with left hooks to the head and hooked Perez with a good right cross in the fifth.

Perez's best rounds were the sixth and seventh. He steered Marquies with several left jabs during the sixth and rallied during a brief exchange in the seventh, but outside of that he didn't have it.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Herman Marquies, who expects to become the undisputed world bantamweight champion, raised his sights today on the North American title following an easy win over Ronnie Perez.

And if everything goes as co-manager Al Avila hopes it will, Marquies next will face fellow countryman Joe Medel of Mexico for that crown either here or in Los Angeles.

A steady sharpshooter who never lets his opponent off the hook, Marquies scored a ninth round cut eye technical knockout over the light-hitting Perez Monday night to retain the California state bantam championship.

Both boxers weighed in at the limit of 118 pounds and the gross also was of bantamweight proportions—a pint-sized 82.250.

Doctor Don Lastreto, the commission physician, ordered the 12-round bout halted at 1:41 of the ninth after a brief look at Perez's eye. Both optics were bleeding and the little guy from Hayward, Calif., was just about out of gas both from back-pedaling and being tagged.

Marques had outpointed Perez last June for the state title and had floored him in that contest. Ronnie stayed upright Monday night at Kezar Pavilion, but never had a chance against his relentless pursuer.

Marques, much faster as well as stronger, opened a cut along side Perez's left eye in the fifth round and did the same thing to the right during the seventh. The winner was sharp with left hooks to the head and hooked Perez with a good right cross in the fifth.

Perez's best rounds were the sixth and seventh. He steered Marquies with several left jabs during the sixth and rallied during a brief exchange in the seventh, but outside of that he didn't have it.

Raiders Seek Two In Row

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Oakland Raiders arrived here today with hopes of making it two wins in a row when they face the New York Titans Saturday night in the Polo Grounds.

Coach Marty Feldman was full of superlatives after his team's convincing 31-22 win at Buffalo Sunday.

Most of them were naturally directed at quarterback Tom Flores, who had probably his greatest day as a Raider. He clicked on 15 passes for 256 yards and three touchdowns.

Others singled out by the coach included George Fleming, who kicked a 48-yard field goal, and linebacker Bob Dougherty. The coach also noted that the heart of the offensive line, Wayne Hawkins, Jim Otto and Willie Smith, all had returned to action after being injured. Flores had much more time to get his passes away Sunday with these lads there to keep the enemy off his back.

Noted Riders Earn Honors

BALTIMORE (AP)—Linus (Pony) McAtee and Joe Notter, two noted jockeys of yesterday, were elected today to the National Jockeys Hall of Fame.

McAtee led in the annual balloting by sportswriters throughout the nation, but because the closeness of the vote (297-291), the shrine's permanent nominating committee decided to honor both men this year.

Notter, 72, of Floral Park, N.Y., rode from 1904 through 1910. His purse-winning record of $464,322 in 1908 stood until it was broken by Earl Sande in 1923.

McAtee, 64, now a successful financial investor, lives in Jamaica, N.Y. His career lasted from 1914 through 1932. He was the leading money-winning jockey in 1928.

METS SIGN LEPCIO

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Mets have signed infielder Ted Lepcio as a free agent. Lepcio, 31, batted around .250 during his tenure with five major league clubs over a 16-year span.

This Morning He Starts Work in an Advertising Agency

There are few young men in the world whose hearts pound with more excitement than a lad who has landed a job in an advertising agency. If he's good at it, he'll keep that enthusiasm until he's 65.

And what must he have to be good at it? Education. Intelligence. Dedication. Yes. But most of all he must have a genuine interest in people. Through advertising, he must "talk" to people... and if he expects to be understood and believed he must use words, pictures and ideas that appeal to people's sense of reason, sense of humor, and sense of responsibility.

If he has what it takes, he'll see what his talent can accomplish: sales for his clients... better products and lower prices for consumers... steadier jobs and higher wages for the working man. Eventually, he'll feel the satisfaction of knowing how advertising motivates this free-enterprise nation—whose economic stability is the greatest guardian of its freedom.

D'ARCY ADVERTISING COMPANY
ST. LOUIS • NEW YORK
CHICAGO • CLEVELAND • ATLANTA
SAN DIEGO • HOUSTON • LOS ANGELES
TORONTO • MEXICO CITY