(ha!) winning football teams, at least not in public.

Out of ten pro football teams I picked three winners... and I was four for nine in my college picks. So, I now stand on a .600 pro record and a .653 in our weekly "prognostications."

I can't shake Paul Surprenant... and now I've got to worry about Bud (Gopher) Franklin, the bravest man in town.

Can you imagine anyone picking Minnesota over Michigan State?

Planning on seeing some Pelican basketball this season?

Then it won't hurt to give some thought to a season ticket... but quick. They're going, going, going.

Jim Johnson, the man in charge of peddling the KUHS ducks, says there are only a few reserved seat season tickets ($10) left... so, do it now. Contact him at TU 4-7395.

They're a bargain... and from all indications there will be some fine basketball played on Pelican Court this season. No reason to think the Pels won't be right in there come tournament time next March.

And while on the subject of basketball we also suggest that the Oregon Tech Owls could have another big season.

Jim Partlow, the brand new Owl maple mentor, has the 1961-62 practice session well underway... and he seems more than a little high on the prospects of his squad... understandable, in view of the fact that he has four-fifths of the starting lineup back from last year's Oregon College Conference championship squad.

This does not mean, however, that he doesn't have some problems... and the one concerning him the most right now is a suitable replacement for guard Leon Wilson, the missing fifth of last year's crew.

He's in good shape "up front"... what with Sweet Sammy Smith, Bob Petersen and Gene Branson, but his back court is still short a man, or possibly two, according to the offensive style Partlow is going to use.

He has Hewlett Nash, a 6-guard who had his "ups and downs" last season, but figures to really hit his true potential this year... but the other guard slots are still wide open.

He has an experienced campaigner in Norm Johns and he might find that Lanny Myers or Bud Maupin could handle another outside chore. He won't know for a while yet, because the last two are still playing football.

Incidentally with Maupin, Wayne Dennis and Petersen in the lineup the Klamath Falls area fans will get a chance to see some old favorites back in action on the maple.

As Rex Hunsaker has always said, "I never feel too badly when I win a ball game in which we had to get lucky to do it—because it always even's out."

And this football season seems to bear him out.

Last year the Owls had a good football team... nine straight, no losses... but I can remember an instance or two when Dame Fortune took a hand... and so can Rex and some of his ball-players.

She's doing it again this year... for the other side.

This year the Owls have a good football team... despite the fact they haven't duplicated the 1960 record. You might even call it a better team than last year... assuredly so from a defensive standpoint.

Just to prove it, let's make some comparisons.

Last season the Owls defeated Portland State 19-14, this year the Vikings scored only 13 points and won. Last year the Owls beat Southern Oregon 21-19... this year the Raiders scored but 6 points and won. Last year the Owls beat Oregon College 26-13... this time the Wolves got just 7 points and earned a tie.

See what I mean? The opposition is definitely better this year... and the best team (the Red Raiders) won the OCC crown and I don't think there is much argument on that score.

Without alibiing for the Techmen one little bit... I think it's only fair to point out that the "breaks" went against them occasionally this season. We'll use the "early whistle" on the opening kickoff play last Saturday against OCE for the example.

Had the Owls been awarded the ball on the fumble, as we thought they should have, that particular game could have been an entirely different story. Or at Ashland... there was some doubt in many minds as to whether or not Doug Olsen was really "in."

That's all in the past now, however. The Owls get another chance this weekend... and it won't be easy.

Alabama May Get Rose Bid

All this points to Alabama as a possibility.

COTTON, at Dallas, Jan. 1 — Top-ranked Texas seems sure to be host team. Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana State, Georgia Tech and Auburn of the Southeastern Conference are all possible opponents.

SUGAR, at New Orleans, Jan. 1 — The stands are segregated and no teams with Negro players will be invited. That points to an all-Southeastern Conference game, and again the possibilities are Louisiana State, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia Tech and Auburn.

ORANGE, at Miami, Jan. 1 — One team will come from the Big Eight but this does not have to be the conference champion, now shaping up as Colorado. "If Colorado falls by the wayside, then we have Missouri or Kansas," says Ernie Sellar, Orange Bowl president. Georgia Tech and Syracuse are possible opponents to the Big Eight representative.

GATOR, at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 30 — The goal is to match a Southeastern team against one from the East. The Eastern group includes Maryland, Syracuse, Army and Navy.

BLUEBONNET, at Houston, Dec. 16 — One of the top Southeastern teams is wanted for one opponent, or possibly Navy. For the home team the runner-up in the Southwest Conference will be sought. This could be the winner of Saturday's Rice-Arkansas contest.

LIBERTY BOWL, at Philadelphia, Dec. 16 — Maryland, Syracuse, Villanova, Rutgers, Army and Navy are best prospects for host team. For opponents, one of the tough Southeastern Conference teams is being considered along with Rice, Utah State, Miami of Florida, North Carolina and Duke.

GOTHAM, at New York, Dec. 9 — Army and Syracuse have been invited. Both are proving coy. Maryland, Miami of Florida, and Georgia Tech are possibilities. Coming as it does the week after the NCAA television program concludes with the Army-Navy game, this new bowl has a momentum TV audience that could help in landing a major attraction.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — "I don't know what to say, I'm very grateful to everyone for helping me get such an honor."

That was end Tom Hall's reaction today after being named Associated Press Lineman of the Week for his play in Minnesota's 13-0 upset victory over Michigan State Saturday.

"It sure feels good," Hall continued in his soft-spoken manner. "Give the credit to Butch Nash, though. He's the one who has done the most toward my receiving this honor." Nash is Minnesota end coach.

Hall, tabbed by Minnesota coaches as one of the most underrated players in the Big Ten, was very instrumental in last week's victory. Minnesota's fourth straight in conference play.

He snared two passes in the Gophers' first touchdown drive, grabbed another as the Gophers penetrated Spartan territory in fourth period and then pounced on a fumble after that drive fizzled. The Gophers then went in to score the clinching touchdown.

Despite Hall's outstanding work on offense, it was his play on defense which contributed greatly to the Minnesota cause. He was constantly in the passing backfield, harassing passer Pete Smith, and was a stone wall on end runs to his side.

He snared two passes in the Gophers' first touchdown drive, grabbed another as the Gophers penetrated Spartan territory in fourth period and then pounced on a fumble after that drive fizzled. The Gophers then went in to score the clinching touchdown.

Others getting mention for player of the week honors were Don Kasso of Oregon State, who caught eight passes in OSU's 14-6 win over Washington State; and Larry Miller, Willamette University fullback. Miller scored four touchdowns to lead his team to a 47-20 victory over the University of British Columbia.

REINSTATE PRANKSTER CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (UPI) — Jim Donohue, 6-foot, 8-inch center from Yonkers, N.Y., was reinstated today for the forthcoming basketball season by University of North Carolina officials. Donohue had been on probation since last May for a "prank" which involved removing three gum machines from a local hospital.

Guide TO Glamour

By Laura Scheck

Last week we spoke about the flattering effect that eye-glass frames can have upon the beauty - wise woman. Some women consciously or subconsciously select spectacles, feeling that they are awkward or stand in the way of her looking her best. For this woman we recommend that she consult an eye specialist or optometrist about the possibility of being fitted with contact lenses. The newer lenses, as small as to be virtually invisible, fit over the iris - i.e., the colored part of the eye. Although some have difficulty with contact lenses, a proper fit by a qualified or reputable specialist, usually will make for a comfortable adjustment on the part of most women who desire to improve their looks.
