

Sales Paint Rosy Business Picture

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Record buying of new automobiles in the last 11 days of October was hailed by administration economists today as one sign that the business outlook is still rosy.

They also pointed to indications that firms may be stepping up spending for factory modernization and expansion—an important clue to overall business trends.

Finders Keepers On Tarnished Vase

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Ann: My husband works for the city as a garbage collector. Last week he brought home a badly tarnished vase which he found in one of the refuse cans. He said he thought it looked pretty good and maybe I could clean it up.

I spent about two hours scrubbing and polishing it and the vase turned out to be truly beautiful. I noticed some markings on the bottom and took the vase to an antique dealer to find out if the marks meant anything. The dealer told me the vase was a fine antique and he offered to buy it for $300. I refused to sell it because I was thrilled to own something so lovely.

Now my conscience is bothering me. My husband remembers the house where he picked it up. Do you think he has a moral obligation to return the vase?—UN-EASY

Dear Uneasy: No. Trash cans are for unwanted articles. The condition of the vase is evidence that the owner attached no importance to it.

Occasionally, a valuable article lands in the garbage can by mistake, in which case, of course it should be returned. But it seems clear that this item was consciously discarded, so please enjoy it with no misgivings.

Dear Ann: I'm 17 and miserable. My father died two weeks before high school graduation. He was sick a long time and knew he was dying. He made Mom and us kids promise we'd spend no time mourning.

Even though it was hard for me, three weeks after Daddy died, Mom insisted I attend the prom and the senior class picnic. My older sister stood up at her best friend's wedding the following week.

My aunts and uncles are all mad at my mother. They say we are rotten daughters and that she should not have allowed us to do these things. They refuse to talk to her on the phone and she is left out of all family affairs. What can we do?—GLD

Dear GLD: Ignore the relatives. Your mother deserves credit for having had the courage to do as your father wished.

Reds Press UN Attack On Western Colonialism

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet bloc and a host of Asian-African nations today pressed one of the bitterest attacks on Western colonial powers in U. N. history.

Colonialism was under simultaneous fire in the 103-nation General Assembly and two of its main committees. However, there was no attack on Communist domination of subject countries to which most of the Asians and Africans turn a blind eye.

In the special Political Committee, nation after nation bitterly assailed South Africa's white supremacist policy and pointed to it as an outgrowth of the colonial system.

Colonialism also was probably in for another going-over in the main Political Committee, which opened debate on an Asian-African resolution demanding that all Africa be kept free of nuclear weapons and all foreign bases on the continent be liquidated.

Head-On Crash Kills Carrier

REDMOND (AP)—A head-on collision five miles north of Redmond Tuesday killed James Talbot, 36, a Terbonne mail carrier.

State police said Talbot was northbound on U.S. Highway 97, when Mrs. Darlene Walters, 27, Madras, the driver of a southbound vehicle, swerved into the opposing lane of traffic and the two cars smashed into each other.

The drivers were the only passengers of the two cars, police said.

Trucks Hit; Man Cited

A Klamath Falls truck driver was cited for cutting a corner Monday afternoon after his truck collided with another at the busy Shasta Way-South Sixth Street intersection.

City police cited Carl Wodecki, 75, 310 South Sixth Street. Wodecki's truck collided with a second truck driven by Russell F. Bayless, 23, Sacramento. Police said Wodecki turned improperly and part of his truck ripped a tire on Bayless' truck. Damage was minor and neither driver was injured.

The one low-price compact that's every bit as lively as it looks—Valiant '62!

You're looking at the sports-loving compact car given an award of merit by the Society of Illustrators for design excellence! Come see it!

Unlike some compacts, Valiant will take off like a scared kitten at the drop of a "Scat!" You'd have to pay extra for an optional engine in most any other compact at Valiant's price to match Valiant's standard 101-hp Economy Six.

A modified version of this engine shot Valiant to victory over all American compacts competing in the 1960 and '61 Daytona Beach compact car competitions! Yet, for all its go, Valiant puts plenty of care-free miles between gas pumps. A Valiant scored 26.13 mpg in the last Mobilgas Economy Run!

And this new Valiant has the distinctive good looks to match its gumption. America's most famous artists recently honored the 1962 Valiant. For the first time in seven years, the Awards Committee of the Society of Illustrators has bestowed its coveted citation on a car—Valiant!

That's even more proof that the 1962 Valiant is indeed the Style Leader of the Compacts!

For looks and liveliness, you just can't match Valiant at Valiant's low initial price! And this year's Valiant offers a bundle of economy extras. Like half-as-often oil changes and almost-never 32,000-mile lubrication on major chassis points. See your Plymouth-Valiant dealer. Drive the low-price compact that's quality-engineered by Chrysler Corporation. Find out why . . .

Nobody beats VALIANT for value!
