

Demos See Wins Push To Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana predicted today that Democratic election victories in New Jersey, New York and Texas have enhanced prospects for pushing President Kennedy's legislative program through Congress.

Mansfield said in an interview that the results reflect "a vote of confidence in the President and will strengthen his hand" with congressmen "who are adept at understanding the handwriting on the wall."

Tacking much the same tack, Democratic National Chairman John Bailey said the vote "demonstrates that the people strongly approve of the President's actions and legislative programs to get America on the move again."

Bailey added in a statement: "I hope that it will persuade the obstructionist Republican leadership of the Congress to adopt different tactics in the new session."

Kennedy said Wednesday at a news conference that the elections were "a source of satisfaction to us."

He said the results indicate Americans believed the winning Democratic candidates and the Democratic party in the election areas "as well as nationally, are committed to progress."

The President drew laughs from newsmen when he added: "So I am happy and I suppose some day we will lose and I will have to eat those words."

If the Democrats had lost this time, Kennedy said, "it would have been interpreted as a stunning setback for this administration."

Later, Mansfield said Kennedy had spoken with "becoming modesty."

Mansfield said the victories were not due only to the efforts of the candidates, but to the "final push" given by Kennedy in New Jersey and New York City and by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, who campaigned for Henry B. Gonzalez in Texas.

Gonzalez won a House seat. Kennedy appeared for Richard J. Hughes who won an upset victory in the race for governor of New Jersey and for Mayor Robert F. Wagner in his successful bid for re-election to a third term in New York City.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower also had comments Wednesday on the three races. In a statement issued at Gettysburg, Pa., he described the losses as disappointments and said they proved that manpower, money, party unity and grass roots organization are essential to victory.

Eisenhower had campaigned in Texas for Republican John Goode, Gonzalez' opponent, in New Jersey for Republican gubernatorial candidate James P. Mitchell and in New York City for State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, a Republican who tried to unseat Wagner.

At the same time, Eisenhower pointed to what he called important victories in New York State, Arizona, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Negro Blast Toned Little

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Prompted by President Kennedy, Postmaster General J. Edward Day has toned down—but only slightly—his criticism of a Negro postman he reluctantly restored to duty.

Day retracted just one sentence from his Oct. 24 statement reinstating Wesley W. Law, a Negro integration leader, as a letter carrier in Savannah, Ga.

Stricken from the original statement was Day's assertion that "I would not want a person with Law's record of conduct delivering mail to my family's home."

Left standing was Day's comment that Law was an "unsuitable" employee and the cabinet officer's implication that he had yielded to political pressure in reinstating the carrier.

Queen Opens Ghana Tour

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II left by air for Ghana today to begin a 12-day state visit that many of her subjects had feared might place her in personal peril.

With her husband, Prince Philip, the 35-year-old monarch left aboard a special jetliner for the 3,600-mile journey to Accra. Armed Scotland Yard guards went with her.

The visit was in doubt until Wednesday while the government pondered whether the queen would be safe in Britain's former West African colony. Four bomb explosions in Accra and other signs of political opposition to the dictatorial regime of President Kwame Nkrumah aroused fears in the press and Parliament that the queen might herself be a target for demonstrators.

But Prime Minister Macmillan's government decided it was safe to let the visit go on.

The queen and Philip will tour Ghana until Nov. 20, then board the Royal yacht Britannia for visits to Liberia, Sierra Leone and Gambia. The queen will fly home from Dakar Dec. 6, while her husband will go to Dar-es-Salaam for ceremonies marking the independence of Tanganyika, which Britain has administered under a U.N. trusteeship.

Firms Battle Over Parcel Delivery

SALEM (AP) — United Parcel Service, Inc., and Greyhound Corp. locked horns publicly Wednesday over which should have the right to deliver small parcels in Oregon. Both want that right.

Charles W. L. Foreman, United Parcel vice president, said his firm had applied to provide door-to-door pick up and delivery of small parcels to major population areas of Oregon.

Foreman, who flew in from New York to tell his story, said he could see no reason for Greyhound to oppose the application because it did not provide the same type of service.

W. H. Egger, regional manager of Western Greyhound Lines Division, Greyhound Corp., Seattle, said the taking of any express from Greyhound Intrastate Service would impair its ability to continue intrastate service.

State Public Utility Commissioner Jonel C. Hill has scheduled a hearing Nov. 27 on United Parcel's application. A similar application to serve Oregon has been filed by the newly incorporated Lightning Dispatch Corp., a Greyhound subsidiary, seeking to provide the same services.

The United Parcel application would permit small parcel service along major highway routes from Portland to Pendleton, Astoria, Tillamook, Salem, Eugene, Drain, Reedsport, Coos Bay, Roseburg, Medford and Klamath Falls, along with communities on these routes and throughout the Willamette Valley.

Egger said this would follow a pattern parallel to the Greyhound Express permit but would differ in that United Parcel would provide pick-up-and-delivery within a three-mile distance off the route. Greyhound provides depot to depot service.

Foreman said United Parcel would compete only with the U.S. Post Office department parcel post service, taking small packages and promising delivery on a next day basis. He said it expected to provide better service but at about the same rates as parcel post.

United Parcel, he said, has intrastate rights now in Washington, California and Arizona. He said the firm also holds both intrastate and interstate delivery rights in the Midwest and East and has an application pending for rights in Georgia.

"The service we are offering is a tremendous boon to the small businessman," he said. "The large businesses can use it too, but with no special advantage."

Some 40 protests against the application have been filed with the PUC, but Foreman indicated that only Greyhound and Railway Express were likely to present determined opposition.

Foreman said Railway Express once provided the type of service United Parcel offers but gradually boosted its rates on smaller packages to a point where it was more economical to use parcel post.

He said United Parcel in Oregon would handle packages only up to 50 pounds in weight and 100 inches in length and girth.

The firm already delivers packages within the Portland metropolitan area, Foreman said. He added that it would deliver packages for retail, wholesale and manufacturing and distribution firms.
