"Mary, Mary" Second Medford League Play

One of the biggest comedy hits in Broadway history, Jean Kerr's hilarious merry romp, "Mary, Mary," is coming to the Holly Theater in Medford on Wednesday, Jan. 2.

This is the second presentation of the current Broadway Theater League play series. Ticket holders are advised of the curtain time 8:30 p.m.

Sharing star billing in the comedy are Patricia Smith, Jeffrey Lynn and Joan Lussell, veterans of Broadway, Hollywood and TV. In the featured roles are Clifton Sundberg and Heddie Bates.

city business and is now in its second successful year.

The play is written by Jean Kerr, who is also the authoress of the best-selling novel, "Please Don't Eat the Daisies."

The Broadway Theater League's third play of the season, "Carnival," will be presented at the Holly Theater on Jan. 19.

The sweater dress stars in urban-suburban wardrobes. Co-starring two-piece suits and casually chic one-piece designs. Neckline interest centers on collars, V's and turtie designs.

FEATURED — Heddie Bates replaces Ellen Weston in a featured role in the comedy production, "Mary, Mary," to be shown at the Holly Theater in Medford on Wednesday, Jan. 2. This is the second show of the current Broadway Theater League season.

Anniversary To Be Feted

DUNSMUIR—A reception at the Guild Hall of St. Barnabas Episcopal Church will honor Mr. and Mrs. Chester Porter on their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, Dec. 30.

Their son, Horace Porter of North Hollywood, will be among the out-of-town guests. Other relatives coming include Mr. and Mrs. Del French and family, Sonoma, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spear and family, Walnut Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter have spent their married life in Dunsmuir and have worked together in an insurance and real estate business. Both are active in church, civic and lodge circles.

Mrs. Richard Tryor and Mrs. F. F. Kohlhauser are serving as reception hostesses.

Yule Decor For Party

MONTAGUE—A beautifully decorated Christmas tree and many clever Yule decorations created a festive atmosphere at the home of Mrs. Samuel B. Cairns, when she entertained the Willow Creek Club on Dec. 13, with a holiday luncheon.

A white bowl of poinsettias enhanced with greens centered the luncheon table, with angel favors at each place setting.

Those attending were Mrs. Gordon Walters, Mrs. Ralph Leavers, Mrs. Roland Dexter, Mrs. Matt Marlon, Mrs. James Young, Mrs. Frank Meek, Mrs. Hilda Cooley, Mrs. Etta Ensel, Mrs. Sarah Jones, Mrs. Vera Bryant, Mrs. Jean Sylvia, Mrs. Gus Nelson and Mrs. Sydney Terwilliger.

Exchange of gift knitting and visiting comprised the afternoon activities.

Holiday Parties

DUNSMUIR—Holiday parties in Dunsmuir included an open house given by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kempton for the Dunsmuir Elementary School faculty and staff.

Many out-of-town guests attended the cocktail party and buffet supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Hall. Three hundred in all were entertained for the gala affair.

TO BE QUEEN — Nancy McClure will be installed as honored guest of Job's Daughters Bethel 61 at the public installation to be held at the Scottish Rite Temple on Dec. 29.
