

Round & About

By HELEN BECHEN
Thinking back over the just-past holidays brings to mind a number of pleasant chats with and about holiday visitors, and to mention a few—Bob and Sue (Ramsby) Ede and son Scott made the family circle complete at the Martin Ramsby home. They left before the New Year for Lake Oswego. The former Marsha Wilson, now mean having Katie home for a time. They invited Mrs. R. S. Dixon to have dinner with them on Christmas Day.

The Stewart Snells went to Walnut Creek to spend the Christmas time with their daughter Sherrill, her husband Don Boyd and children. The Snells are looking forward to a return visit from their children soon.
A new granddaughter for the Van Mollisons, born Dec. 11, was incentive enough for them to spend the holidays in Seattle with the new parents, Gail and Fred Wade. With them went Richard and Mary and Barbara's mother, Mrs. Edgar Senders.

Mary Ann and Ken Ellis, visiting his mother, were guests at an open house given by Claire Ellis and her daughter, Linda Dillstrom. Among the guests were Dale and Jackie King of Medford and Mrs. Caroline Munson and Wendell Bryan of Yakima. The family was entertained after Christmas at dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Les Hoback in Chiloquin.
Pete Barnhisel, LL (jg) now, stationed in Long Beach, arrived home after a somewhat round-the-barn trip. Fog forced his plane on to Portland where he found a ride to Klamath with another local son. In addition to their son, the Howard Barnhisels greeted Sally (Barnhisel) and Dick Richards and three youngsters, Linda, Eric and Curtis from Santa Paula.

Places at Christmas dinner were also set for Howard's father, A. H. Barnhisel, a young 93, and Mrs. Barnhisel from Tacoma.

College students home were beyond mentioning by name, but some of the just-out-of-school crowd included Janie and Daryl Johnson at the Baz Larkin home; Nancy and Greg Pond with the George Clarks; another Nancy and Greg, Altenhofen, with the Greer Drews, also Dianne Drew; Beverly and Tom Lassett with their parents, the Walter Lassetts; Sue Derby, a teacher in California, home with the Lloyd Derbys; Lauralee Leonard of San Francisco visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leonard; Sam Thompson, the Ivan Thompsons' son from Seattle; Ronnie Olson who has a job in Denver enjoyed Christmas with her family, the Jim Olsons.

With the holidays behind some folks have decided to travel. Honolulu bound are Isabel and Lloyd Porter, who have time to spare now since his retirement. And on Jan. 4, Mrs. Helen Thomas boarded a plane for a two-month visit with her daughter, Mrs. Mary C. Smith, who lives in Honolulu.

This column just barely scratched the surface of all the gay holiday goings-on, but should be enough to prove that everything was far from quiet on the home front.
Before taking leave of the old year, yours truly would like to thank a good friend, Ernie Hedlund, for all the time and effort he puts forth each week on these pages.
Happy New Year.

DATE SET — The marriage vows of Cheryl Ann Ball and Delbert Irwin (Pete) Sasstedt will be solemnized March 16 at Klamath Lutheran Church. The young couple's engagement is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett R. Ball. The future bride will be graduated from KUHS in June. Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sasstedt, is a graduate of KUHS and is presently employed by Klamath Forest Protective Association.

Cascade Crest OES Meeting

Cascade Crest Chapter No. 199, OES, met on Dec. 5 with Worthy Matron Josephine Zadina and Worthy Patron Lester Hoback presiding in the east.
Escorted and introduced were Leona Angel, chairman of the Estar Committee, and Henry Bergstrom, member of the Home Endowment Fund of the Grand Chapter of Oregon, who were both paying a official visit to the chapter. Also escorted and introduced were Annabelle and William Kimsey, worthy matron and worthy patron of Fremont Chapter No. 169 of Paisley.

Reports were given of the annual Christmas Dance held on Saturday, Dec. 1, by general chairman, Dorothea Kust. She was assisted by Gleta Wampler, Pearl Alamo and Callie Clark. One hundred four members and guests were present at the social. Under good of the order, interesting reports were given on the Estare program and the Masonic and Eastern Star Home which the Home Endowment Fund supports.

Jeanette Edge of Crater Lake Park was affiliated with the Chapter and was introduced and welcomed by the members and visitors.

Visitors were welcomed from Aloha and Oriental Chapters. The next meeting will be the Christmas party.
Refreshments were served by Melita Hall and Doris Kircher.

Clubs Meet

The Christmas motif was used at recent club meetings in the valley. On Dec. 29 in Bonanza, Mrs. Jesse McFall entertained her contract bridge group. A potluck luncheon at noon was followed by card play. Members exchanged Christmas tree ornaments as gifts.
High score was held by Mrs. Cecil Haley and Mrs. Mabel Pepple won the traveling prize.
Others present were Mrs. Harold Williams, Mrs. Claude Bechdold, Mrs. LeRoy Fernlund, Mrs. Elsa Rueck and Mrs. Ivan Bold. On Dec. 19 Mrs. Bob Hooton was hostess to her pinocle club at her home in Dairy. Enjoying the afternoon were Mrs. LeRoy
