

Family Are Yule Guests

TULELAKE—Mrs. Earl McFall had as Christmas Day guests her family. Places were marked at table for 19.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. John Hubbard, daughter and son-in-law and three daughters Connie, Tena and Candice from Pasco, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bailey and family, a daughter and son-in-law, and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton (Bud) Greenbank and two children, daughter and son-in-law, all of Tulelake; a son Russell McFall and his family, and a sister, Mrs. Hazel Tucker, all of Tulelake.

Clamp two small sponges lengthwise into an old popover handle (one that's made to use with a cloth) and you'll have an efficient floor waxer. After use, the wax rinses out.

ENGAGED — Judith Eline, daughter of Mrs. Mada Eline of Boise and Charles Eline of Feb. 2, Utah, will become the bride of R. Lee Morrow on Feb. 2. Both are presently employed in Boise where they will make their home. The bride-elect attended University of Idaho and will teach next semester. Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil L. Morrow of Klamath Falls, was graduated from OTI following a tour of duty with the Marine Corps.

BETROTHED — Of interest to Tulelake residents is the engagement of Estel Randolyn Hall, daughter of Mrs. Joe M. Prescott of San Diego and Theodore Hall of Ontario, Calif., to Thomas Clinton Proctor. He resides with his mother in San Diego while his father, Clinton Proctor, is in the Veterans Hospital in Long Beach. The future bride, currently attending Chaffey College in Alta Loma, will, after their Jan. 19 marriage, continue her studies at San Diego State College where her fiance will be graduated in June.

Malin Club Stages Party

MALIN — The annual Christmas potluck dinner of the Helping Hand Society was an event of Friday evening, Dec. 21, at the Malin Community Hall with husbands as special guests. The tables were decorated in Christmas motif by Mrs. Halbert Wilson and Mrs. Norman Jacob.

Kristie Ottoman entertained with two piano selections, "Deck the Halls with Ivy" and "O Holy Night." On the accordion, Jay Conroy played "Frosty the Snowman" and "Silent Night." With the guests singing the latter, the guests were distributed by Santa Claus and last year's Pollyannas were revealed. An evening of cards was enjoyed by the men while the women attended a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Kenneth Huffman, chairman.

Thanks were extended members by Mrs. Hubert Morelock for help with the recent successful baked food sale and by Mrs. William Hayes for food taken by the club to several families during bereavement times.

Mrs. Huffman, who is moving from Malin, relinquished the president's gavel for the remainder of her term to Mrs. Harold Kniskern. Mrs. Huffman received a going-away gift from the society. Mrs. A. E. Street will entertain the society in January.

Eulalona DAR

Eulalona Chapter of DAR met in December at the home of Dr. Miriam Lutten.

After a short business meeting conducted by Regent Mrs. Will Wood, three new members were welcomed into the group. These are Mrs. A. G. Wiggins, Mrs. Hugh Curran and Mrs. John Brown.

A special guest was Mrs. George D. Paris, state chairman of the American Indians. She spoke briefly about the work of this state DAR committee.

Guest speaker of the evening was Rev. Ralph Richardson, who talked on the religious beliefs of the early American colonists. Mrs. Richardson sang several selections appropriate to the Christmas season.

Hostesses were Dr. Lutten, Mrs. Philip Brisner, Mrs. R. S. Lossley, Mrs. Lloyd Byser, Mrs. R. E. Wright, Mrs. R. B. Chilcote and Mrs. C. L. Phillips.

FASHIONETTES

For spring, 1963, look for the full skirted "popover" dress for girls and subteens. It's a three-in-one dress with its own pop-over jumper good for early spring right through late summer.

The rainwear trend? To a slightly shorter coat with more interest for belted backs. Virtually all demand today, incidentally, is for garments with zip-out pile linings.

Ex-Teachers Enjoy Party

Members of the Klamath County Retired Teachers Association met at the YMCA building for the annual Christmas party. President Mrs. Emma Carter presided over the meeting attended by 28 members and guests.

Each member brought a toy to add to the group's annual contribution to the Klamath Christmas Bureau.

May Phinney and Mrs. Jessie Powell decorated for the affair using miniature Christmas trees, holly and red candles. Refreshments, also in the seasonal decor, were served by Mrs. Mae Moss and Mrs. Lorena Ward.

On Dec. 17, a committee of retired teachers met with chairman Mrs. Ella Dickenson at her home in the Alpha Apartments. There, the group packed for mailing, cookies for Camp White. This is also an annual Christmas project of the club.

The Klamath County Retired teachers meet every third Saturday of each month. Any interested persons are invited to attend these meetings which are held in the YMCA building.

Class Studies Yule Displays

MALIN — The Home Living Class of Malin High and Junior High Schools, accompanied by their instructor, Mrs. Frank Paygr, toured by bus Dec. 10 to the country home of Mrs. J. Walter Browning to view Christmas house displays.

The group made a study of the arrangements depicting the Christmas season, which included "Madonna and Child," "Angel Tree," "Santa and his Reindeer," "Silent Night," "Wood Forms" and "Holiday Table Setting."

Mrs. A. G. Scott Jr., chairman of the Malin Garden Club, assisted with the study presentations.

Students attending were Dianna O'Riley, Andy Oliver, Edith Pitts, Joan and Joyce Mullanix, Linda Louison, Linda Turner, Connie Anderson, Patty Walker, Ann Johnson, Terry Petrasek, Judy Anderson, Cheryl McCollum, Sandy Wolf, Janice McAuliffe, Sherry Worthington, Julie McAuliffe and Veronica Lukens.

Mrs. Hubert Morelock was also a guest.
