

Red China Accuses India Of War Aims

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China today announced a "positive response" to neutralist proposals for mediating the Sino-Indian border dispute, but accused India of wanting to fight.

The official New China News Agency broadcast communique which the Peking regime signed Monday with Indonesia and Ceylon as representatives of the Colombo Conference of Afro-Asian Nations.

"The Chinese government gave a positive response to the proposals of the Colombo Conference," the communique said.

The statement added that it was "agreed that in the interests of Afro-Asian solidarity it was imperative that a solution to the Sino-Indian boundary question be found without delay in keeping with the spirit of the 10 principles of the Bandung Conference."

The Bandung Conference in 1955 called for policies of non-aggression and non-intervention in affairs of other states.

Today's Red Chinese newspaper said India has failed to demonstrate sincerity for peaceful negotiations on the border dispute. Editorials from the papers were quoted by the news agency.

The Peking People's Daily, the Communist party newspaper, said India was only "blustering incessantly" about settling the dispute. It said India was permitting "imperialism" to promote plans to make "Asians fight Asians."

Police Fire At Burglars

PORTLAND (UPI) — Portland police surprised three men in the act of burglarizing a home near Waverley Country Club Monday night. One was arrested and two escaped in a bullet-punctured flight across the golf course.

Floyd K. Peterson, 47, was arrested and charged with burglary in a dwelling.

Police fired at the other two, but said they did not believe either was struck. At the height of the manhunt, the city police had seven cars of officers, state police had several units, and the Clackamas County sheriff's office had deputies and a 30-man sheriff's reserve unit on the scene. The reserve unit had just completed a regular training session when the call for help went out.

Cuckoo Clock Driving This Woman Cuckoo

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I need your moral support. Last fall relatives who were vacationing in Europe brought us a gift — a Black Forest cuckoo clock, made in Germany. It is lovely to look at, but have you ever tried to live with one?

Every hour, on the hour, we get a little song, like from a music box. Then the cuckoo coos, and chimes ring out the hour. On the quarter hour we hear from the chimes — and the cuckoo again. On the half hour, another Strauss waltz, more cuckooing, and more chimes. The clock also has a loud tick, like a fast ping pong game — all day and all night.

My husband and four little boys love it. It's driving me out of my mind. If I have to spend the rest of my life with this clock I'm afraid I'll be cuckoo. Is there a solution? — OUTNUMBERED

Dear Outnumbered: The human being is a remarkable animal. He can become accustomed to almost everything. Retool your thinking. View the cuckoo as the family pet. Many women make heroic sacrifices for their families. This can be yours.

Dear Ann Landers: I can't resist commenting on the letter from the married students who are getting their degrees with no help from home.

They were proud but exhausted. All around them were married kids driving good cars, wearing good clothes, and collecting good-sized checks from parents. They wondered if doing it alone was "worth it." I've been that route and I say it is worth it. Hang on to your independence, kids. I didn't and I'll always regret it.

My family could do nothing for me. My sweetheart's family was well-to-do. When we were juniors in college, she wanted to get married. Her folks pushed it. I didn't see how I could support a wife and go on to law school. They offered to foot the bills and like a sap I agreed.

Today, six years later, they are still running our lives. They

Harry Blames Ike For 'Closeting' Mighty Mo In Bremerton Navy Yard

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI) — Former President Harry S. Truman today blamed former President Dwight D. Eisenhower for "closeting" the battleship Missouri on those decks the Japanese surrenders was signed, in the Bremerton, Wash., Navy Yard.

Truman, who advocates moving the historic ship, answered Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, R-Wash., who earlier denied Eisenhower's responsibility for the Bremerton anchorage.

"He (Eisenhower) was commander-in-chief and you know and I know that no one else but the commander-in-chief was responsible," Truman said.

The Missouri rides at anchor at the Navy yard here despite recent controversies over proposals to move the historic battleship to San Francisco, New Orleans, St. Louis or some large Atlantic Coast city.

In a letter to the Seattle Post-Intelligencer Monday, Truman indicated strongly this Puget Sound Navy city was not the place for the "Mighty Mo."

"I don't want to appear too persistent in this matter but it seems to me that if (former President Dwight D.) Eisenhower wanted to place it in a closet he couldn't have found a better place than the Bremerton Navy Yard," Truman wrote.

"It seems to me that the battleship Missouri has been put as far away from the public to see as

Revolving Door Grabs New York Bank Robber

NEW YORK (UPI) — That old gag about revolving doors — once you get in them, you can't get out — is not funny to a 19-year-old bandit named Isaac Worthen.

Worthen, armed with a sawed-off shotgun, robbed a midtown bank Monday and was highbailing it toward the street when quick-thinking bank guards trapped him in a revolving door and twirled him into the arms of police officers.

The gunman walked into the Bowers Savings Bank across from Grand Central Station just before closing time and, strolling up to teller John Percival, presented his credentials: a double-barreled shotgun and a note.

"Shotgun... $7,000 cash," the note read.

"I got real scared when I saw that gun and I pretended to be counting out the $7,000," Percival said. But instead, he pressed an alarm button near the money drawer and handed Worthen a bundle of "hot" bills — money with serial numbers previously recorded in case of a holdup.

The robber shoved the money into his pocket and made a beeline for the door.

That's when he got into trouble.

Mike Frank, 60, a bank guard, tried to trap him and Worthen stumbled, firing both barrels of

Weak Shun Bridge Play

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Bobby Nail of Houston is the only member of the 1962 American team who is on the 1963 team. About a month before the trials started, Bobby broke his leg and had to play in a wheel chair. The discomfort did not hurt his game any.

The strongest part of Bobby's game is his courage. Nothing scares him and he is willing to take chances any time he sees an opportunity to create a swing.

In our 1962 match against Great Britain, we were a trifle behind going into the last day's play. The East-West British pair were on their way to a vulnerable slam and East had just asked for ace by bidding four no-trump when Bobby made the move that won the match for us.

Holding one queen and two jacks Bobby threw a five spade bid at them. Assuming they had a slam, Bobby could afford a seven trick set and actually it would take perfect defense to set him six tricks at his five spade bid. He would show a profit assuming that East and West could make a slam.

As it was, the bid really created a swing. Instead of stopping at six hearts, the British went on to seven. North doubled and we gained 160 points on that one bid by Bobby.
