Naomi Shrine

The Masonic Temple was the scene of a beautiful Christmas ceremonial and party for members of Naomi Shrine No. 5, Order of White Shrine of Jerusalem, on Saturday, Dec. 2.

A 4 p.m. business meeting preceded the evening ceremonial with Lois Murphy as worthy high priestess and Clyde Brown, associate watchman of shepherds, as watchman of shepherds.

Members gathered at 7:45 to enjoy entertainment of Christmas music which helped establish a mood for the evening. Sandra Rucovich played several Christmas numbers on the piano and later accompanied Tania Mitchell in a solo entitled "Silver Bells." Sherry Meade, Janice and Mary Jane Brittain of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, Assembly No. 57, sang "O Holy Night." Sherry Meade accompanied the girls at the piano.

At 8 p.m. officers of the shrine presented the beautiful Christmas Story and ceremony of initiation for candidates Olive and Paul Hanna and Mae Moore.

Past officers present and introduced from the sidelines were Nell Retherath, Ruth Rodenberger, Blanche Marks, Blanche Schulze, Helen McCormack and Aura Mitchell, past worthy high priestesses of Naomi Shrine, and George Retherath and Jim Hunter, past watchmen of shepherds of Naomi Shrine.

Following the meeting and initiation ceremony, members adjourned to the dining room, turned into a virtual "Christmas Land" by Committee members Blanche Marks, Nell Stewart, Verda Scribner, Lorene McCollum and Marie Metler. Tables were festive in red and white decor accented by evergreens and a gaily decorated lattice fence and archway formed a beautiful background. The dessert prepared by Marie Metler, also carried out the red, white and green color scheme.

Adding to the evening's entertainment was a cakewalk and candy sale.

Almon Geiss as a spirited Santa Claus distributed gifts brought for exchange by members and guests. The evening concluded with everyone joining in singing of Christmas carols.

The next regular meeting of Naomi Shrine No. 5 will be held at the Masonic Temple on Jan. 12, with advance night for line officers and a memorial service in honor of members deceased within the past year.

QUEEN OF THE BALL — Robin Hiatt, who was selected queen of the annual DeMolay Snow Ball, receives the royal cape from her escort, Master Councilor John Otterbein. Lavish decorations in purple, white and silver set the mood for the gay holiday event at the Willard Hotel. White snowballs, glittering with silver, hung from the ceiling and smaller ones were tied to silver-toned tumbleweed and pine cones. Wall motifs, silver trees and Christmas song sheets with silver notes, completed the wintry setting.
