

Indian Lore Topic For Woman's Club

"Our Indian Heritage" will be the interesting topic for the meeting of the Klamath Falls Woman's Library Club meeting Monday, Jan. 14, in the city library club rooms at 2 p.m.

Presenting the program will be Lefty Wild Eagle, who is well-known as an artist, entertainer and as one with a vast knowledge of his people. He is a member of the Karoks on the Klamath River in California. His wife, Genie, is a granddaughter of an Assiniboin chieftain of Northern Montana. The ambition of the two, who are steeped with tradition of their people, is to preserve the artifacts, culture, customs and native rituals of the American Indian. The present Wild Eagle Museum at the junction of highways 62 and 232 near Fort Klamath houses the artifacts of many tribes. Lefty Wild Eagle will bring to the library club meeting a display of many of these relics and will tell their stories.

He will also show some of his paintings for which he has become well-known. He won a scholarship from Chemawa School to an art school in Portland. Later he did research work at the University of Washington on Indian Arts and Crafts of the Northwest.

To further the theme of the meeting, Marie Obenchain, music chairman, will present Indian selections. To close the meeting, Charlene McNoise, and Indian student at Sacred Heart Academy, will give the Twenty Third Psalm in sign language.

All women of the Klamath Basin are invited to hear this program which will be both educational and entertaining. Tickets for non-members are 75 cents.

Mrs. Frank Kahl is tea chairman for the day.

WILL SHARE KNOWLEDGE—Lefty Wild Eagle (Wilder), well-known as an artist, entertainer and authority on the American Indian, will present the Jan. 14 program for the Klamath Falls Woman's Library Club. Meeting time is 2 p.m. in the city library. Interested persons, in addition to club members, are invited to attend.

Yreka Nile Club Meets

YREKA — The Dec. 19 meeting of the Yreka Nile Club No. 11 was held at the Masonic Hall, during which time members sewed on articles for the crippled children in Shrine hospitals.

During the business session conducted by Mrs. Elwin Adams, president, the group discussed plans to attend a ceremonial in Paradise on Feb. 21, when the Supreme Queen, Hazel Marshall of Des Moines, Iowa, will be in attendance. Mrs. Ed Mathews was named to be in charge of transportation, and all those interested in participating in the trip are to contact her.

A moment of reverence was observed in memory of Mrs. Rudy Gaynor, who was a member, and died recently.

At the close of the meeting the 25 members were surprised upon entering the candlelighted dining room to find a "Treasure Chest" buffet table of Yuletide treats, all in handmade jewel cases. The Christmas atmosphere was predominant with flocked greenery, hawthorne berries and red candles. Members in charge were Mrs. Orlo Davis, Mrs. Brice Long, Mrs. Frank Day, Mrs. Ralph Leavers, Mrs. Engel Hjertager, Mrs. Gladys Hart and Mrs. Anita Martin.

Wedding News Told

Of interest to many persons in Klamath Falls is the account of the Dec. 29 marriage of Mrs. Loraine Lowe of Clackamas and Cooper Brown of Connell, Wash.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Van Tress of Clackamas, was affiliated with the Klamath County school system for several years prior to moving to Clackamas, where she is now teaching.

The bridegroom, is the son of former Henley residents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Brown. He lived in Tulelake until eight years ago when he drew a farmstead at Connell.

The evening wedding ceremony took place in the home of Elder and Mrs. P. C. Alderson in Clackamas. Mrs. Alderson is a sister of the bride. Elder Alderson was formerly pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Klamath Falls.

The bride's niece, Betty Lou Alderson was soloist for the service.

Members of the families and close friends of the couple attended the ceremony which was followed by a reception.
