

Gag Rule Success Seen By Democratic Leader

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey predicted today that Senate liberals, without direct help from President Kennedy, would succeed in their campaign to tighten the filibuster rule.

Humphrey and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield indicated they expected no voting on the issue before next week. Humphrey told newsmen the first major test probably would come on a motion to table his proposal to allow filibusters be halted by a majority vote of the Senate.

The Minnesota Democrat, co-leader of the liberal bloc, said there was only an "outside chance" that his proposal would survive a tabling motion. But he said he felt a later effort to kill a more moderate three-fifths voting plan would fail.

"I do not think the opposition can beat us on three-fifths," Humphrey said.

The present gag rule requires a two-thirds vote of those present and voting to impose cloture.

Humphrey's comments to newsmen came as southern senators launched what they previously said would be an uncompromising battle against a change in the rule.

Parker Given Five Year Probation

Phillip Eugene Parker, 19, Chiloquin, was placed on five years probation by Judge David R. Vandenberg in circuit court Tuesday after the youth entered a plea of guilty to a charge of burglary earlier last week.

Parker was arrested by Chiloquin police last month for the burglary of eight cases of beer and money from a cerebral palsy donation container at the City Store, Chiloquin.

Soon after the theft, police were summoned to break up a teenage drinking party where they uncovered evidence connecting Parker with the theft.

Parker was indicted by the grand jury Wednesday, Jan. 9, and entered a plea of guilty to the charge in circuit court the following Friday.

Radio-active Rays Now Preserve Foods

NATICK, Mass. (UPI)—Radioactive rays now can process fish, meats and other foods so that they remain fresh forever without refrigeration.

The process was disclosed Monday to 300 scientists at the opening of a three-day international conference on radiation research at laboratories of the U.S. Army Materiel Command.

"This is the first truly new process for preserving food that the world has received in 150 years," Dr. Edward S. Josephson, laboratory director, said.

The $2.5 million laboratory irradiates food through the world's largest source of cobalt-60, a source of 1,200,000 curies, officials said. It injects rays into foods that pass on a conveyor belt.

All food, officials explained, contains bacteria which causes the food to spoil. Radiation kills the bacteria.

Therefore, if the food is irradiated and then packaged it can be preserved indefinitely without refrigeration.

Refrigeration is a means of delaying the action of the bacteria. If the bacteria is killed, you do not need to refrigerate, they said.

A piece of irradiated meat could lie around a pantry for a few months or forever, officials said, and would remain usable as long as it was kept clean and moist. Its taste also would not change.

They said the process, now awaiting U.S. Food and Drug Administration approval, may not have a large impact in the United States but could revolutionize eating habits of underdeveloped nations which lack refrigeration.
