

RECENTLY WED — Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wagner were married recently at The First Church of God. She is the former Alice Lester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lester, this city. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wagner of Oregon City are parents of the bridegroom. A reception in Fellowship Hall honored the young couple, who are making their home in Oregon City where both are employed.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Bourn of Bly announce the betrothal of their daughter, Sheila Diann, to Martin C. Clemens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Clemens Sr., also of Bly. The wedding will be an event of March. The future bride, a senior at Bly High School, was a princess of the 1962 Klamath Basin Rodeo. POLLY'S POINTERS
One For The Birds
POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—Here is one for the birds. Fill a paper cup half-full of bird seed or cracked corn, then pour into the cup any drippings left in the frying pan or any fat skimmed from meat stock. When the cup is filled, put into the refrigerator until hard. Peel off the paper cup and put the "suet cake" out for the birds. They love it.

POLLY
DEAR POLLY—Wanted to get this suggestion in now as there is so much writing to be done at this time of year. When using pen and ink, regardless of the color, I always have an emery board nearby and every time I make a mistake, be it one letter or a whole word, I use the board to sand it off. It is tops. I prefer the small size and a pack costs very little.

MRS. C.H.
DEAR POLLY—An easy way to fit a dust ruffle to a bed is to take a worn or patched fitted sheet and sew the dust ruffle to it. It does not move around as it does with only elastic bands at the top.

Flowers Accent Bridal Beauty
By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the prettiest ways to accessorize your costumes for the parties and showers you will attend is to wear the most feminine adornment of all — flowers.

For a special evening out with your fiancé, a single (such as a lily rose) carried in a gloved hand can lend elegant charm to your appearance. Or you might prefer to pin a blossom to your evening purse.

When you select your flowers, be sure that they blend or contrast prettily with your outfit. And always wear them as they grow, with the stem down.

If you've been invited to a nuptial party for an out-of-town friend, but are unable to attend because of your own wedding activities, it would be a nice gesture to wire her flowers to wear to her party.

You'll probably have no idea of what her gown will be like, so it's best, according to Florists' Telegraph Delivery members, to leave the selection up to the florist. He will choose neutral blossoms that will go with almost any dress.

Your bridal bouquet should be made up of your own favorite flowers and styled to coordinate with your gown. If your dress is a heavy satin or brocade, you might prefer a bouquet of carnations or snowdrops.

If you will wear a delicate fabric, such as pole de soie, you might prefer white violets, or roses and lily-of-the-valley. But whatever blossoms you choose, your bridal bouquet should be carried low, with elbows relaxed.

During the exciting weeks before your wedding day, let fresh flowers add to your beauty. They will serve a purpose no jewels can duplicate.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . Send them to Polly in care of Herald and News. You will receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.
