

Bi-Partisan Support Seen For Tax Bill

SALEM (UPI) — Gov. Mark Hatfield's score tax bill, designed to raise at least $1 billion in new revenues, arrived in the House Tuesday with bi-partisan support.

The "net receipts" state income tax bill was turned in by R. e. P. Victor Atiyeh, R-Beverton.

Its key feature is a one per cent tax to be levied on all income without any deductions of exemptions. In addition, a graduated tax ranging from two to five per cent would be levied, replacing the current three to nine and one-half per cent range.

The bill is the central part of the governor's program to reform the income tax structure and finance a proposed $405 million general fund budget.

The other main source of new revenue would be a four-cent cigarette tax.

Although rates in the new proposal are lower, more money would be raised by picking up low bracket earners and by eliminating deductions such as other taxes, charitable contributions, medical expenses, interest, and losses.

Business expense deductions still would be allowed.

The current $600 exemption also would be eliminated. In its place, a $20 credit for each dependent would be subtracted from the final graduated tax bill.

Husbands and wives living together would be required to file joint returns.

The State Tax Commission estimated under the new proposal a man earning $2,000 a year and having two dependency credits would pay 3 per cent more in overall federal-state income taxes. A man earning $4,000 would pay 4.1 per cent more; a man earning $8,000 would pay 3.5 per cent more; a man earning $8,000 would pay 2.9 per cent more; and a man earning $10,000, 3 per cent more. Above $10,000 the increase would be less than 1 per cent.

University Room, Board Boosted $40 Per Year

PORTLAND (UPI) — The State Board of Higher Education Tuesday boosted the cost of room and board at its campus dormitories by about $40 a year, starting next fall.

Chancellor Roy Lieuallen said the increase would hike the typical rate for multiple occupancy to about $720 per student for a school year.

Lieuallen said the new rates were required "to meet increased food, labor and other dormitory operating costs. The added income also will be used for more dormitories, he said.

About 50 students at Oregon State last week demonstrated against the proposed increase. About 9,000 students live in dormitories throughout the state system.

Most students live two to a room, with some living singly or three to a room.

The board also adopted Lieuallen's recommendations that "if a student withdraws from the dormitory but does not withdraw from the institution, he must pay all board and room charges for the entire year during which the withdrawal occurs, unless he provides a substitute occupant suitable to the dormitory director."

On another matter, Lieuallen reported that discrimination by fraternities and sororities because

State Lists Campus Jobs

PORTLAND (UPI) — The State Board of Higher Education Monday listed several campus building projects it would like to start in 1963 should the legislature increase its bonding capacity.

The legislature will be asked to increase the bonding capacity from $34 to $62 million with half of the $28, or $14 million, planned for use this year.

Projects for 1963 would include a swimming pool, dining hall and dormitory for Southern Oregon College, 150-student dormitory at Oregon State of Education; a 260 student dorm including student activity quarters at Oregon Technical Institute; a portion of the cost of a swimming pool at Portland State; an addition to College Center, air conditioning of the College Center building.

Two dormitories with total capacity of 750 students at Oregon State; a 170 woman dorm for the University Medical and Dental Schools; and two dormitories, central food service, married student housing and land for future dormitories at the University of Oregon.

STILL IN CONTACT

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet scientists had regular radio contact with their Mars-1 space station all through last week, the official Tass news agency said today.

Tass said the Mars-1 is more than 25 million miles from earth.

JFK Starts State Trend

SALEM (UPI) — "If a tax cut is good enough for Kennedy, it's good enough for me."

The comment came from Republican Sen. John Hare of Hillsboro today as he dropped a bill calling for a 10 per cent flat cut in the state income tax into the midst of the legislature's money woes.

He said such a cut should be followed by "a cut in spending tax dollars and not by deficit spending."

"Tax spenders have lain awake nights trying to find new sources of revenue," he said. "But no attention has been given to lightening the tax load of our people."

Hare's proposal for a tax cut landed in a legislature that has been asked to raise $23 million in new revenues for the state in one year by broadening the state income tax base with what the governor calls a net receipts tax.

"Oregon has the highest income tax of any state in the Union," Hare replied. "Reduction is in order."

"Waste and extravagance must be eliminated, and sound business practices should be used," he said, "and this statement also applies to institutions of higher education."
