

Pels Have Best Game In Axing Cavemen, 60-53

GRANTS PASS (Special)—The Klamath Union Pelicans got back onto the winning road here Friday night and did it in style by ripping the defending state champion Grants Pass for the second time and on the Cavemen's home floor this time, 60-53.

The victory gave the Pelicans a 4-3 Southern Conference record for second place while Crater moved into top spot with a win over Ashland for a 5-1 record.

Grants Pass now is 4-2 and Klamath met tough Medford at home Saturday night while Crater and Grants Pass tangled in a big one.

It was the best game of the season for the Pelicans. "It was very encouraging for me," said Coach Al Keck. "It was a real pleasure to watch because the kids played almost a full game of very good basketball. The passes were highly improved and we didn't make as many violations which have been beating us," he continued.

"The kids played pretty good as a team. Holman (Hal) and Dahn (Grover) got a great job on the boards at both ends. He was beating the Grants Pass kids all night on the boards. He isn't too tall but he gets position good and he is strong,"

Keck said. Chamberland also led the team in scoring with 19 points and got 12 rebounds.

"We had a fantastic night shooting. We hit over 500 I know," he explained. And that they did. The Pelicans whipped the cords with 23 field shots in only 29 attempts. That is a fantastic 59 per cent. That's a great percentage, even for the pros. Oddly enough, they hit better from the field than they did from the line where they hit only 14 of 26 for a respectable 53.8 per cent.

And another big factor was that big Fred Kelley, the team's leading scorer, finally got his shooting eye back. And when he got it, he got it good. He took only five shots from the field and hit all of them. He finished with 13 points. Dahn hit five of eight shots and finished with 11 points.

Holman managed eight more. "Holman and Dahn also did a fine job on bringing the ball down against the pressing defense. We decided to work with just two guys doing the handing of the ball against the press. And they did a good job," Keck said.

He continued to say that Kelley hurt his ankle in the first quarter and had to leave the game. "I thought this might have hurt us badly but Terry Ash came in for him and did a great job. He got nine rebounds. Grants Pass had only 22 points at half time so I think that indicates that our defense was doing a pretty good job on them. The kids were working real hard and it showed," Keck continued.

Keck talked optimistically about the chances of the Pelicans with the improvement they have shown. But doubt was cast on the Saturday night game because of Kelley's ankle. Although he returned to play the second half at Grants Pass, his ankle still was giving him trouble.

Al Hutchins was high for the Cavemen with 17 points. Jim Pippin added 10 points to the total.

The Pelicans led virtually all the way. They took the first period lead by three points, 17-14, and pulled to a 30-22 lead at the intermission. The two clubs got a little hotter in the third with the Pels pumping in 19 points to 18 for the Cavemen. The Cavemen outscored the Pelicans in the last quarter, 13-11, but couldn't catch the margin KU had built.

Owl Wrestlers Whip 'Cats, Lose To PSC

PORTLAND (Special)—The Oregon Tech Owls wrestling team, after remaining undefeated Friday with an easy 31-5 victory over Linfield, ran into a hornet's nest against defending champion Portland State Saturday in the first OCC battle and lost, 20-10.

"We thought we should have done a little better against Portland State," said Coach Howard Morris. "But they have a very tough club and are real strong in some weights. We won two matches, drew two and lost three and that one match was the difference," he stated.

The match could easily have gone the other way with the Owls winning. The Owls had to give the Vikings five points in the heavyweight division because the Owls don't have a heavyweight and had to forfeit. That cuts five points off the 10-point margin.

Milo Crumrine was knocked from the undefeated ranks when he was held to a 1-1 draw by Frank Knowling in the 123-pound division. The Owls had hoped he might take this match. Ken Kinnear won over Ron Dexter in the 147-pound class by a 14-11 decision but the referee failed to see the towel tossed in by PSC coaches just before the final buzzer which would have given the Owls another two points on a pin rather than a decision.

And Ed Appleman, the Owl captain, had to settle for a draw of 5-5 with Mike Simon in the 177-pound event. He had the match won when Simon got a takedown as the buzzer sounded ending the match and giving the two a draw.

John Norton suffered his first pin of the season in the second round to Les Brown and he was leading by 4-0 going into the round. Dennis Sather won over Jim Kurihara, 6-5, in the 130-pound division and Veryl Miller blanked Bob Konsalis, 5-0, in the 157-pound class.

The Owls didn't lose a match against the Linfield Wildcat team. They won every match and had to forfeit the heavyweight division again to give the Wildcat team its only points.

Crumrine pinned Frank Knowling in 1:04 of the third round. Sather and Kinnear won by forfeits. Hank Isenhardt decided Lionel Selnes in the 137-pound group, 5-1. Norton pinned Larry Lau in 2:20 of the third. Miller decided Mike Thomas, 7-6, on riding time, and Appleman pinned Clint Stroble in 1:04 of the third round.

This loss to Portland State puts the Owls on the comeback road and it will be a stiff one. They take on Southern Oregon's grappling team in Ashland Wednesday. This is a must win for the Owls to stay in the race and wait to catch PSC on their home grounds for the next encounter.

But a win over SOC won't be easy. Portland State beat the Red Raider team by only one point earlier in the season, 14-13.

Mantle Expected To Get $90,000

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

Mickey Mantle didn't sign, but "everything is perfectly fine" and he probably will be the next time out for $90,000.

The quotes belong to Yankee General Manager Roy Hamer, who talked with Mantle Friday about salary terms for 1963.

Mickey's failure to sign promptly touched off a report that he might develop into a holdout but Hamer insisted nothing could be further from the truth.

"We couldn't have had a better meeting," said the Yankee GM. "There is absolutely no problem between us and I can't remember when I had a more pleasant talk with a ballplayer."

Mantle, who drew $80,000 last year and was voted the American League's most valuable player, also appeared to be generally satisfied after coming out of his conference with Hamer.

"There are still one or two minor things to be straightened out," he said.

"Money" he was asked.

"A couple of things," he said.

While the Yankees were getting their house in order, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Milwaukee Braves each signed three players.

Three rookies—infielders Gene Alley and Lenny Merullo and catcher Jerry May—signed with the Pirates, who now have a total of 27 under contract, and the Braves increased their total to 29 with the acceptance of terms by pitchers Cecil Funder and Dennis Ribant and infielder Walt Hrinjak.

The Los Angeles Angels signed two of their shortstops, Jim Fregosi and Joe Koppe, while the Cincinnati Reds announced veteran infielder Eddie Kasko had come to terms.

Sad Announcement

The Detroit Tigers had an announcement of a sadder nature with the disclosure that Tom Fletcher, a $60,000 bonus pitcher, will miss the entire 1963 season because of a circulatory condition in his arm and there is some question whether he will ever pitch again.

The Tigers have asked Commissioner Fred Frick to place the 29-year-old Fletcher on the voluntary retired list. He pitched for Knoxville of the Sally League last season.

In Washington, General Manager George Selkirk of the Senators said Bucky Harris, 66, had been lured "to handle special assignments and evaluate players at the major league level."

Harris thus returns to the club with which he gained his greatest fame. Harris, who guided the Senators to their only world championship in 1924 as "the boy wonder of baseball," managed Washington three different times for a total of 18 years.

Koppe Signs Angels Pact

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Joe Koppe, the Los Angeles Angels shortstop for the first half of the 1962 season, and Jim Fregosi, who took over for Koppe in the second half, both signed 1963 contracts Friday.

General Manager Fred Hane announced the signings and said he expected to use both players this season—the 20-year-old Fregosi at short and Koppe at all three infield positions.

Fregosi came up to the Angels from their Dallas-Fort Worth farm club June 29 and within a month had replaced Koppe at the position. He hit .291 in 88 games and was hailed by Hane as having the potential to be one of the American League's "most exciting players."

Koppe, 32, who was rescued from the Pacific Coast League by Hane in 1961, combined with second baseman Billy Moran early in the season to give Los Angeles a strong double play combination.

Cummings Signs With Giants

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—Stanford's all-Coast linebacker Ed Cummings has signed with the New York Giants.

Cummings had been overlooked in the draft but caught the scouts' eye in the East-West game. Both Cleveland and the Giants were after him.

Cummings said Thursday he chose the Giants because he wants to enroll in a New York graduate school to study problems of juvenile delinquency.

"I MISSED IT"—That is what Oregon Tech's Norm Johns (132) seems to be saying as he knocks away a rebound in the game with Oregon College of Education Friday night in Owl Gym. Looking on is Willie Anderson (154) and OCE's Toby Wolf (with back to Johns). The Owls won the game, 84-65.

Anderson Paces Owls' Hot Attack

By JERRY WAGGONER
Herald and News Sports Editor

The fabulous Oregon Tech basketball team, despite the stalling efforts of Oregon College of Education to keep the score down and, hopefully, respectable, ran rampant over the Wolves in Owl Gym Friday night behind the "Iron-Man Five," 84-65.

The Owls, who seem to improve with each game, never had any trouble from the first tip-off. Oregon College immediately inserted the stall to the dismay of the fans, but to no avail as the Owls had a hot hand from the floor and put in all sorts of shots from all angles on the court.

The same two clubs met Saturday night with the same outcome in prospect for the blazing Owls.

There wasn't much to say about the game except that the Owls were just so much the better team. It wasn't much of a game for fans to watch with the Wolves stalling until the Owls started displaying their ball-handling ability and showing the goodly number of fans some fantastic shots, especially by jumping-jack Willie Anderson. He topped the scoring for the Owls with 26 points.

It wasn't a game of individuals, however. All of the Owl starting five, aptly named the "Iron-Man Five" because the first five does so much damage to their opponents for virtually all the game. "Sweet" Sam Smith, the two-year All-Conference center pushed through 16 points and hauled down 22 rebounds despite being sickly. Little Howie Nash, the wizard with the ball in front court, got his shooting eye back and ripped in 15 points. Norm Johns, one of the most underrated players in the conference, had a great night in hitting six of eight shots from the field for 13 points for the Owls. Van Zitek was only one point shy of the double figure mark with nine.

This passed a milestone for the Mile High school also. Smith went over the 1,000 point total for his three-year career here. This is as yet unofficial because the records haven't been checked thoroughly. But "Sweet" Sam pumped in his fifth point which made the 1,000th on a tip shot with 3:50 remaining in the first half.

The Owls got the first two points on the opening tip when Nash hit a long jumper. The Wolves then took the ball and stalled it for almost four and a half minutes before Gary Morton finally got tired of the run-around himself and popped a long set shot. He was to get 14 points for the night to lead OCE before

ANDERSON SCORES TWO POINTS — Willie Anderson of Oregon Tech (in white) puts up a shot for two points in the game with Oregon College of Education Friday night at Owl Gym. He scored 26 points to lead the Owls to a 84-65 win over the Wolves. Looking upward is OCE's Steve Rankin (41).

Harris, Coe, Beman Head Walker Cuppers

NEW YORK (UPI)—Labron Harris Jr., the 1962 national amateur golf champion, and former amateur kings Charles Coe and Deane Beman were selected Saturday on the 18-man United States team that will meet Britain at Turnberry, Scotland, May 24 and 25.

The team, selected by the U.S. Golf Association, also included Richard Davies of Pebble Beach, Calif., the 1962 British amateur champion; Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla., the beaten finalist in last year's National Amateur Tournament; and Richard Sikes of Springdale, Ark., the 1962 public links champion.

The four other members of the team are: Billie Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C.; Bob Gardner of Essex Falls, N. J.; Charles B. Smith of Gastonia, N. C., and Dr. Edgar R. Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz.

Tufts Is Captain

Richard Tufts of Pinehurst, N. C., was named non-playing captain of the U. S. team for the 19th biennial match against the pick of Britain's amateur golfers.

One of the surprises of this year's selections was the omission of William Hyndman III of Huntington Valley, Pa., a member of the U. S. team that won the last Walker Cup Tournament at Sealton, Wash., in 1961 by an 11-1 score.

Hyndman was chosen No. 1 alternate on this year's team, in the event that one of the regular members is unable to make the trip overseas. Homer, Blancas Jr. of Houston, Tex., was named second alternate and H. Dudley Wyson of McKinney, Tex., third alternate.

Beman, Coe, Gardner and Smith all played on the victorious 1961 U. S. team. Davies, Gray and Dr. Updegraff never before had been chosen on a USGA team for an international match.

At the annual meeting of the USGA, Patty Berg, one of America's leading women golfers for the past 30 years, was named winner of the 1963 Bob Jones award for distinguished sportsmanship.

Miss Berg, currently president of the Ladies PGA, is a former U.S. women's amateur and Open champion, seven-time leading women's money-winner, and also winner of more than 80 tournaments.

Other matters announced by Joe Dea, executive director of the USGA at its annual meeting,

The prize money for professionals in the 1963 U. S. Open championship has been increased by $16,000 to a record total of approximately $86,000. An additional $7,000 will continue to be awarded in 13 sectional qualifying championships. Of the additional prize money, the purse of the leading professional will be increased by $3,000, for a total of 16,000.

The USGA scheduled the 1963 National Open championship at the Belvedere Country Club in St. Louis for June 17, 18 and 19 of that year. The 1963 Open is scheduled for Brookline, Mass., and the 1964 championship for Washington, D. C.

Crimson Satan Humbles All In Santa Anita Strub Stakes

ARCADIA, Calif. (UPI)—A red streak flashed out of the pack Saturday as Crimson Satan in one quick move hounded his rivals and then coasted to victory by some half-drawn lengths in the inaugural running of the $137,400 Charles H. Strub Stakes at Santa Anita.

Crimson Satan didn't get a rail until the bulky field of 18 thoroughbreds reached the half-mile pole but then in a flash he shot past the other contenders and as a crowd of some 35,000 gasped in amazement he opened up a lead of four lengths going around the final turn.

From then on jockey Herb H. Nelson just coasted down to the wire with Pirate Cove a distant second. Dr. Kacy was third and 1962 Kentucky Derby Deciderly winner closed ground to get up for fourth.

Of his performances since coming here, the big Saturday crowd installed Crimson Satan a 3-5 favorite and he returned $3.45 $2.50 and $2.40 across the board. Pirate Cove, an entry with Olympic area, returned $9.00 and $5.00 for place and show and Dr. Kacy paid $4.50 to show.

Preuss, Ashley Victors

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (UPI)—Young Tish Preuss and Jean Ashley eliminated co-champion Cookie Berger and Marge Burns from the annual Women's International Four-ball Golf Tournament Saturday when Mrs. Berger faltered on a 19th hole putt.

In the other semi-final match, Roth and Margo Michaelis, both of Hollywood, Fla., downed Barbara Fitton of Hamilton, Ohio, and Pat Hahn, Wilmington, Del., 4 and 3.

The two winning teams will be matched Sunday in a 36-hole championship round over the Orange Brook golf course.

Miss Preuss, 23, from Pompano Beach, Fla., and Miss Ashley, 24, of Chamute, Kan., defeated the Berger-Burns team 1-up in 19 holes. Mrs. Berger, from Eggertsville, N.Y., won the tournament last year with Carolyn Cudone, who did not play this year. Miss Burns is from Greensboro, N. C.

Mrs. Berger failed to drop a six-foot putt for a par on the 19th hole after the match wound up even after the regular 18 holes. Miss Ashley made a similar six-footer to win.

Both the winners, however, were off their best pace, winding up five over par for the regular 18 holes, although this is a best-ball event.

Miss Roth and 16-year-old Miss Michaelis had an easier time, winning over the Fitton-Hahn team on the 13th hole when Miss Michaelis potted for a par 4 and missed.

Miss Preuss won the tournament in 1961 with Barbara Williams.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Florentino Fernandez, the "Havana Hammer," looked to an early spring marker with sixth-ranked middleweight Joey Giardello today after easily disposing of Hilaro Morales in the second round of their scheduled 10-rounder Friday night.

It took Fernandez just 2:57 of the second round to down Mexican Morales of Los Angeles with a powerful right which sent him reeling.

The victory earned the flashy Cuban $2,000 and a crack at Giardello here March 26.

Fernandez, of Miami, two pounds heavier than his opponent at 162, caught Morales with a flurry of blows midway the second round, then uncocked the right hand which put him out.
