Play Called 'Reversal'

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Mrs. Leo Seewald writes from St. Paul. "Our annual Winter Carnival tournament is over and we are starting to get ready for 1964. Everyone worked hard as usual, but we also found time to play and I think that Al Paak, one of our hardest workers, came up with the best hand of the tournament."

"I am not sure you will approve of the final contract of four hearts. Al didn't when he saw the dummy and counted up two spade losers, one club loser and probably one diamond loser. Then Al proceeded to make the hand anyway."

"He ruffed the second club and led a spade. West went up with the king and led a third club which Al carefully ruffed with the queen of trumps. Al led another spade and West was in with the ace. He led a spade and Al was in dummy. He ruffed dummy's last club with the ace of trumps and played three rounds of trumps. Because he had ruffed three clubs he was able to discard his nine diamonds on dummy's jack of trumps and made the last three tricks with his fourth spade and two top diamonds. Is there a name for that play?"

"There sure is. It is known as a dummy reversal and this is a perfect example."

Negro Asks Judges To Open University

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A three-judge panel of the U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals will hear in Atlanta Feb. 16 an appeal by Negro student Dewey Roosevelt Greene for immediate admission to the University of Mississippi.

Greene, a 22-year-old Navy veteran, told the appeals court in New Orleans Friday that he was denied admission to Ole Miss because of his race. He asked for immediate admission to the university.

Chief Judge William Tuttle set a hearing on the motion for the Atlanta hearing.

U. S. District Judge Sidney Mize of Gulfport, Miss., earlier this week denied Greene a court order to force Ole Miss to enroll him because, he said, Greene had not exhausted his remedies with the school.

Greene, a reporter for a weekly newspaper in Jackson, Miss., applied for admission to the University of Mississippi shortly after Negro James Meredith was enrolled under court orders.

University Registrar Robert Ellis said he denied Greene admission to Ole Miss because his record in high school at a Mississippi vocational college for Negroes was unacceptable.

You bid two hearts. West bids two spades. Your partner bids four hearts. East bids four spades and your partner doubles. What do you do now?

Klamath Falls Woman Chairmans State Juvenile Advisory Councils

In the development of a program of prevention of juvenile delinquency, Oregon has taken significant steps with 26 juvenile advisory councils active in the state. The Oregon Association of Juvenile Advisory Councils was formed as an integral part of this expanding program to share experiences and coordinate progress in dealing with the problems of youth.

Mrs. Dorothea Buck of Klamath Falls is state chairman of the 26 councils.

At the last legislature additional action was taken with the following juvenile code enactment: Oregon Revised Statute—419-587: 1. The juvenile court judge or judges of each county having a population of over 10,000, according to the latest federal decennial census, shall, and the juvenile court judge of any other county may, appoint a juvenile advisory council. The council shall consist of seven directors and such other members as may be appointed. In cooperation with the juvenile court, the council shall:

(a) Study and make recommendations concerning the operation of the juvenile court, including the counselors and other personnel, detention facilities, shelter care, foster homes, and other facilities functioning or needed in connection therewith.

(b) Study and make recommendations in connection with community programs and services designed to prevent or correct juvenile delinquency and other children's problems of the type coming before the juvenile court.

(c) Take appropriate action to stimulate community interest in the problems of children and to taught Sunday School and assisted with the youth organization of that church. As president of the Klamath County League of Women Voters the group obtained the first juvenile detention facility in Klamath Falls. Prior to this it had been necessary to hold children in the county and city jail. For many years this was one of the few facilities outside of Multnomah County where adequate care could be given children while in custody of the court.

As state legislative chairman of the American Association of University Women as in other active positions throughout the state, her main interest has been in legislation for the welfare of the children in Oregon. As a member of the Legislative Interim Committee of the Oregon State Legislature, 1957-58, she cooperated in introducing successful legislation in the field of school reorganization, junior colleges, and OTI.

Her new position on the State Association of Juvenile Advisory committees offers a new challenge in helping to solve some of the problems of youth today.

Mrs. Buck was a recent recipient of a scholarship to study teaching methods for mentally retarded children. She is now teaching a special class at Mills School. She has been chairman of the Infantile Paralysis Association for 10 years during which time a better program for patient care was put into effect. She is state recreation chairman for the Parent-Teachers Association, and active on committees on the local and state organizations of the Oregon Education Association. At present, she is a member of the De-certification Panel of the OEA.

To bring the problems of youth closer to the people of this area, Mrs. Buck has invited Marjorie McBride, superintendent of Hillcrest State Training School for Girls, to address various groups in Klamath Falls on problems concerning prevention of delinquency and the treatment of youthful offenders. Miss McBride will speak Feb. 14 at Fremont School at a meeting of the Klamath Falls Classroom Teachers Association.

Doped Meat Fed Dogs

MIAMI (UPI) — Four Dade County men were charged Friday with feeding doped hamburger meat to greyhounds at a track near Naples in January and winning "upwards of $1,700 to $2,000" on some races.

Asst. State Atty. Leonard Mellon said a fifth man was being sought.

Charged with conspiring to violate state racing laws were Kenneth W. Griffin, Walter E. Cantrell, Hiram Parnell and David Park. Griffin is a dog breeder and former licensed trainer and owner.

Mellon said the men are accused of doped several dogs in each race and then betting on the "well" dogs in special combination bets (Quinnells) with other undoped dogs.

The attorney said the men were tracked down through a motel operator of near Naples who said three of the suspects rented a room and carried a big box of hamburger meat inside.

He said the suspects are accused of climbing a fence at the kennels and feeding the dogs wads of meat stuffed with "spanules"—capsules which provide the effect of dope.

Gold Slump Blamed On U.S.

DENVER (UPI) — A Western congressman charged Saturday the government had killed the gold mining industry.

"The straight $35 an ounce price rules out of existence all domestic gold mining in this country," Rep. Ed Edmondson, D-Okla., said. "There is not a gold mine of any size now operating."

Edmondson, chairman of the mines and mining subcommittee of the House Interior Committee, made the statement while attending closing sessions of the National Western Mining Conference.

Edmondson also called for a concerted attack on what he said was a basic ailment of the mining industry — Competition from low-cost imports.

"A very high percentage of these imports are heavily subsidized by the foreign governments where they originate," he said. "We must counter with some new approach."

He suggested the possibility of a flexible tariff, which would vary according to the world price structure, a new quota system, or subsidy.

During 1962, steelmaking furnaces of the U.S. poured 96,329,900 net tons of ingots and steel for castings.
