

Beauty Surgery Tops Psychological Cures

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Ann Landers: I am a plastic surgeon who for reasons of professional ethics must ask you not to print my initials.
The letter from "Ugly" and your excellent advice caught my eye. I feel, however, that your advice was incomplete. You wisely suggested therapy for the person who broods about his appearance and becomes

King Play Sets South

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
One of the best defensive plays of the recent annual St. Paul Winter Carnival tournament was made by James Dolan.

He opened the king of diamonds against South's three no-trump contract and continued the suit. South won the third lead and ruffed four clubs and two spades. Mr. Dolan had to make two discards. His first was the deuce of hearts, his second the deuce of spades.

South, one of Minnesota's top players, went into a huddle. Jim still held three diamonds. His o'ber card was surely a heart. Could it be the king? Possibly, but not probably. If not, South had a cinch play. He led his queen of hearts expecting that East would win with the king and lead to dummy's ten of hearts or queen of spades.

Unfortunately for South, Jun produced the king of hearts and made the rest of the tricks with his remaining diamonds to set the hand two.

At other tables, the West player would keep the king of hearts guarded and throw away a diamond. After that, South would simply lead a diamond and throw West in the lead. West could cash his last diamonds and then have to lead up to the ace-queen of hearts.

Not Guilty Plea Entered

Martin Lloyd Strachan, 23, indicted by the Klamath County Grand Jury for crimes of larceny and assault and battery entered pleas of not guilty to both charges in two of six criminal matters brought before Judge David R. Vandenberg in circuit court early Thursday.

Judge Vandenberg set Wednesday, March 20, as the time for the trial on the assault charge and Monday, April 8, as the date for trial on the other matter.

The judge also received pleas of not guilty from A.C. Donald Robert Bailey, 23, charged with larceny, and Henry Luther Cole, 28, of Chilquin, accused of assault and battery by means of force likely to produce great bodily harm. The trial date for Bailey's case was set for Monday, March 25, and for Cole's, Wednesday, April 3.

Bailey is accused of stealing an undetermined amount of money and a ring from a girl he was driving home following a dance. The girl was dozing in the airman's car at the time of the alleged theft, police records indicate.

Cole is accused of assaulting a Klamath Falls man who was returning home from work during the pre-dawn hours of Jan. 15. Strachan, being held for the Oregon State Penitentiary pending the revocation of his probation, has been implicated with four others in the larceny of personal property belonging to Louis Hutchinson and the subsequent beating of Francis Hutchinson in the latter's Beatty cabin. Strachan had been on probation from Lane County before his arrest here.

Field Mice Jump Noted

TULELAKE — A heavy infestation of field mice is building up in all areas of the Tulelake Basin and Lower Klamath Lake, and farmers are warned by county agents and other agricultural experts to take immediate measures for control.

Cropland and crops are threatened unless a die-off occurs within the next two months. Ditchbanks are heavily infested and thorough surveys of lands involved should be made at once to determine needs for control.

Agricultural commissioners of Siskiyou and Modoc counties have poisoned grains available which can be obtained from Bill Huse, Tulelake, deputy agriculture commissioner for Siskiyou County and Leroy Smith, Alturas, Modoc County agricultural inspector.

"The last heavy infestation was during the fall of 1967 and spring of 1968 when multi-million dollar damages resulted from the hordes of mice in many parts of the Klamath Basin including Tulelake.

Funds Allocated For Forest Jobs

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Al Ullman, Oregon Democrat, announced Friday an additional allocation of $45,000 for the accelerated public works project at the Winema National Forest and $5,000 for the projects in the Fremont National Forest. "I am quite pleased that this money will be used to provide additional employment during the remaining winter months," Ullman declared. The Eastern Oregon Congressman explained that this additional money will continue many of the projects through which the Forest Service hopes to get camp and picnic grounds ready for recreation use this spring.

Civil Defense Program Defended By Hatfield

SALEM (UPI) — A strong defense of Oregon's Civil Defense Agency was made today by Gov. Mark Hatfield, who said "I'm very anxious that the legislature restore the budget."

The governor blamed "constant turmoil at the federal level" for destroying confidence in civil defense.

Referring to a Ways and Means subcommittee vote Wednesday which threatened to eliminate the state's civil defense agency, Hatfield said "I think the action was unwise."

He strongly denied that the state CD organization had failed to perform its duties.

He said criticism of the agency because of shortcomings noted during the Columbus Day storm were "not a sufficient basis to destroy civil defense in this state."

He said the organization did perform, although he admitted it "functioned on a limited basis."

He then pointed to difficulties faced by cities, the state police and the National Guard.

"Nobody is proposing to abolish the state police because their communications network did not function perfectly during the storm."

He also noted that many commercial radio stations were off the air.

When asked to comment on reports the state may have to pay $40,000 as a result of the Camp Withycombe situation, Hatfield said "I don't intend to engage in political charges on this, this is a legal question."

He said anyone guilty of misconduct should be punished, and added, "this should not become a political sideshow for political purposes."

Hatfield said he was sorry to learn Dr. Donald Pickering was resigning from the staff of the primate research center.

He said he had not seen the latest agreement on the proposed Dunes National Seashore but said "I am hopeful it will be a bill all can support. I will do whatever I can."

When asked to comment on charges made earlier this week that Democratic leadership was not handling tax matters speedily enough, Hatfield admitted it appeared his hopes for a during-session tax election were now ap- dead.
