

Business And Professional Women Host Annual Tri-Club Banquet

SOCIETY

By Helen Bechen
Herald and News February 17, 1963

The Klamath Falls Business and Professional Women were hostesses this year to the annual Tri-Club banquet with members of Quota Club and Soroptimist Club as their guests. Lovely decorations followed the Valentine theme with white net topiary trees hung with red bows and red gumdrop hearts as table decor. A heart-decorated branch centered the head table where the three club presidents, shown above, were seated. Left to right are Shirley Soran, Quota, Ida Lamb, Soroptimist, and Frances Taylor, BPW. Shiny red heart mobiles hung from the ceiling added a final note of festivity to the ballroom of the Willard Hotel for the affair.

A part of the evening's program was provided by Barbara Shields, who played several piano selections. She is pictured at right with Velma Tennery, BPW, center, and Irene Steele, a guest, at right.

Jerry Stickland of Kingsley Field delighted the audience with vocal numbers. He was accompanied by Mary Van Vactor with whom he is shown above.

Guest speaker for the Tri-Club banquet was Mrs. Bernice Andrews, English instructor at OTI, pictured at right with Louise Patterson, BPW.

In the picture at left, Verda Scribner, left, and Dorothy Bortis enjoy punch during the social hour which preceded the banquet.

Table decorations are admired at right by Isabelle Dehlinger, left, Soroptimist, and Alice Sorenson, BPW.

Representatives of the three clubs are shown in the picture at left. From the left, Louise Mitchell, BPW, Mary Bothwell, Soroptimist, and Lou Hoselton, Quota.

— Photos by Kettler