

Jury Convicts Jones Of Assault

Royal Jones, 37, who wounded his wife three times in a gun shooting Dec. 18, was convicted of assault with a dangerous weapon by a circuit court jury which deliberated five hours and 49 minutes before returning the verdict of guilty to Judge David R. Vandenberg, 11:45 p.m., Friday. Sentence will be pronounced at a later date. The jury of eight women and four men voted 10-2 for the guilty verdict with two men opposing the majority.

At 4:18 p.m., the jury began its deliberations, which were interrupted by dinner and, later, a request it made to Judge Vandenberg for additional instructions on the law covering self defense.

During the trial, the defense attorney sought to prove that Jones shot his wife, Johnnie Mae, in self defense after she struck at him with an ice pick. One of the blows struck Jones' hat, and the other caused a superficial wound on his chest. Conversely, Mrs. Jones testified that she struck Jones with the ice pick after he shot her twice with bullets discharged from a .22 caliber pistol.

The trial closed at the end of its fifth day, following the closing statements of District Attorney Dale Crabtree and the defense attorney. The latter, alluding to the

National Engineers Week To Be Observed Feb. 17-23

Klamath Falls Mayor Robert Veatch, acting in conjunction with President Kennedy and Gov. Mark Hatfield, has proclaimed the week of Feb. 17 through 23 to be "National Engineers Week."

This event is sponsored each year by the National Society of Professional Engineers, on a state level by the Professional Engineers of Oregon, and locally by the South Central Chapter of the Professional Engineers of Oregon of which City Manager Bob G. Kyle, P.E., is chapter president. The theme of the 1963 week is "America's Engineers Build for the Future."

The purposes of this annual observance are to emphasize the broad contributions of the engineering profession to America's economic and technological development, and to encourage our young people to consider the selection of engineering, in one of its many fields, as their life's work.

In his message proclaiming the event, President Kennedy emphasized: "Trained engineers are indispensable to our efforts of meeting the recognized scientific and technological challenges of today, as well as those unknown challenges of the future which we, as a nation, must be fully prepared to anticipate and meet. It is therefore essential to the sustained growth of American technology and to the well-being and prosperity of the peoples of the world that more able young men and women study engineering."

Chapter President Kyle stated that the local observance will include meetings at both junior high schools where students interested in engineering will be able to meet and talk with local professional engineers regarding the engineering profession, and receive assistance in the planning of their high school studies to prepare them for entrance in the various engineering colleges of the nation.

The meeting at Fremont Junior High will be held at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 19, and at Altamont Junior High at 7:30 p.m., also on Tuesday, Feb. 19. All students, and parents of students, interested in engineering are urged to attend one or both of these informative meetings.

On Friday, Feb. 22, from 5 to 5:30 p.m. television station KOTV-TV will sponsor, as a public

Grocery Store Operator Found Suicide At Home

The body of Mrs. Jennette Lillian Hicks, 49, was found about 4 p.m. Friday in the living quarters which she maintains behind her grocery store, Jennette's Super Market, at 3022 Altamont Drive.

Death apparently resulted from a self-inflicted wound from a .22 caliber automatic pistol.

Neighbors had reported to Sheriff Murray "Red" Britton that the store had not been opened for several days and that a front window of the store had been broken.

Britton investigated, gaining entry through a window in the living quarters to the rear of the store, and found the body, fully clothed, in bed, the pistol in the right hand.

The sheriff found two suicide notes, a will and a bank book. Her husband, James Franklin Hicks, an airman, is now stationed at Fort Lawton, Wash., near Seattle.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Hicks is survived by two sons and a daughter. The sons are Doyle Schiffman, Eugene, and Claire Schiffman, Ashland. Name and address of the daughter was not known at this time.

O'Hair's Memorial Chapel is in charge of funeral arrangements.

Civic Theatre Meets Monday

The Klamath Civic Theatre will meet on Monday, Feb. 18, at 8 p.m. in the Klamath Auditorium dining room. Selection of new officers will take place and the full support of all members is requested.

Announcement of the cast for the new production "Light Up The Sky" will also be made by the director, Charles O'Keefe.

Persons who were unable to attend any of the previous meetings and who are interested in any aspect of the theatre are welcome and encouraged to come.

YMCA Assembly Names 4 District Delegates To Youth Legislature

A YMCA Youth and Government pre-legislative assembly was held at OTI from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday and four Klamath Falls youths were elected to represent District 3 at the state youth legislature slated at Salem March 28 to 30.

Over 60 high school students and 10 adult advisers attended the meeting from Klamath Falls, Ashland and Medford.

Elected as speaker of the house was Don Christy. Don is the president of the Klamath Falls Hi-Y council and is a senior at KU. He also served as presiding officer at the assembly.

Picked as chaplain of the senate was Rebecca Pierson, sergeant of arms was Mike Veatch and reporter, Delores Savio.

The chairman of District 3 is Circuit Court Judge Donald Piper and executive secretary is Leon Clark, Klamath Falls YMCA director.

The purpose of the Youth and Government conference is to acquaint high school youth with the methods by which we in our American form of government determine public policy and make our laws, and to help youths make a practical application of Christian ideals to the problems of state legislation.

One of the functions of the assembly is to introduce Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y to the principals and methods of the YMCA Youth and Government program affording an opportunity to study the bill drafting process, to participate in the election of state officers and to practice some of the basic principals of state government.

Seven bills were presented by attending youths and serving as committee men in the discussion of the bills were Don Christy, Rebecca Pierson, Roy Marvin and Charles Ochs.

Some of the bills involved renewal of operator's licenses, civil defense reserve food supply, sale of liquor to minors and safety belts on motor vehicles.

Four adult resource leaders at the session were Judge David Vandenberg, Richard Beasley, Ernest Gordon and Freeman Murray. Morning kick-off speaker was Ed Geary.

Vandalism Costs High

Vandalism of road signs in Klamath County during December and January has cost the taxpayers $322, according to a report from the county engineer's office.

The sum represents the cost to the county of restoring damaged signs or replacing road markers which have been used as targets by malicious users of firearms, said Winston Kurth, assistant county engineer.

Kurth said the cost to repair or replace road sign damage was slightly higher during the past two months than it was for the same period in 1961. The winter season usually results in an increased amount of vandalism to signs, particularly in the suburban areas, he said.

County road signs are made in the sign shop of the County Road Department and cost about $12 and up, depending upon the size of the sign and the variety of materials used to construct one. A street name marker costs about $12.50 to paint, assemble and set up, Kurth said.

Population Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The population of the United States has risen by nearly 8 million since the 1960 census to an estimated total last Jan. 1 of 187,293,000, the Commerce Department's Census Bureau said Saturday.

The bureau said the figure does not include U.S. servicemen stationed abroad. It represents an increase of 7,970,000, or 4.4 per cent, over the figure for April 1, 1960, the announcement said.
