

AWARD WINNER—While filming Carl Foreman's "The Victors," in Campagna, Italy, cameraman Norman Hargood shot this still which won him England's annual "Still of the Year" award.

CARNIVAL IN CREATION—With the world conscious of space and space travel, these grotesque characters—The Terrestrians on the Moon—get finishing touches before becoming a float in the Viareggio, Italy, carnival parade.

COOKING CHAMPION—Gerald Prochnow of Milwaukee, Wis., Men's National Cooking Champion, receives a kiss from his wife as he displays his prize-winning recipe, "Chippy's Eggs in Haystacks." He is one of four amateur male cooks selected for the honor.

PICTURE NEWS

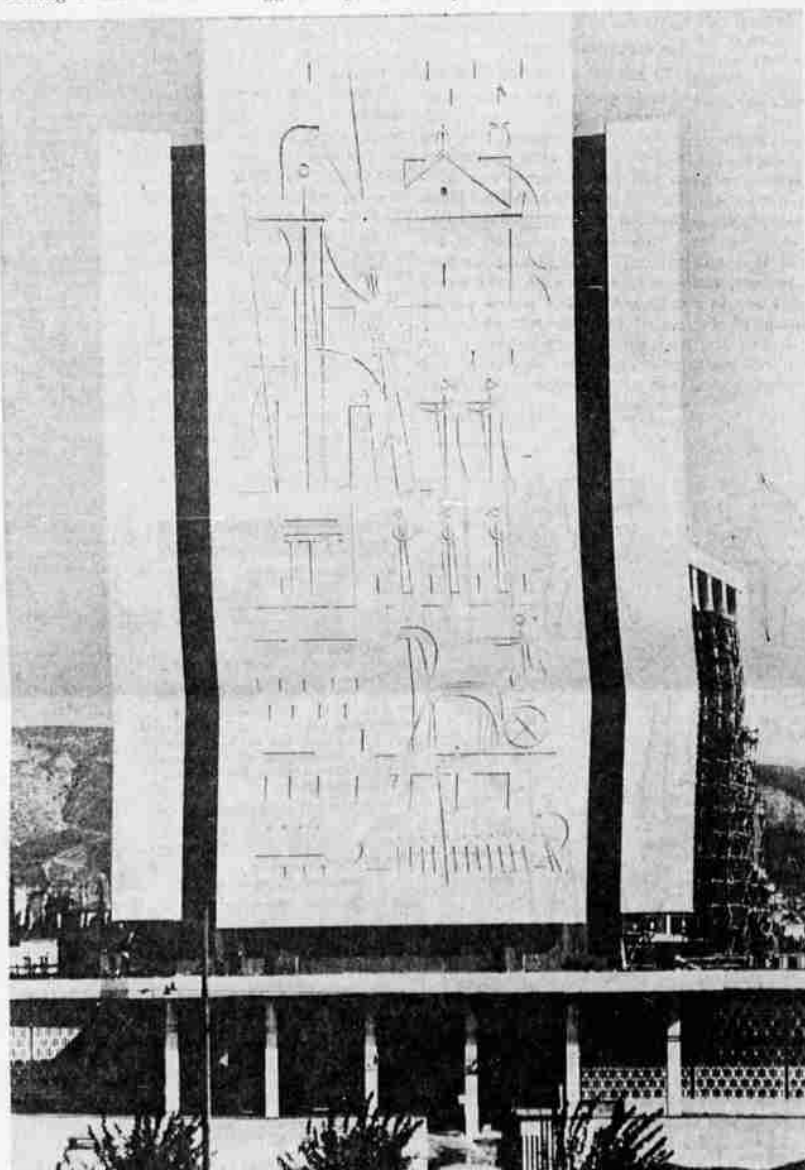

AROUND THE WORLD

'I REMEMBER WHEN'—Although a few years make a change in appearance, the grin's the same. This photograph of Maurice Chevalier was made at the time of his first movie in 1928 in Hollywood.

ESCAPING THE COLD—Kathryn Grant Crosby, Bing's wife, poses for the photographer before departing for Palm Beach where she'll star as a model at a spring fashion show held in the Florida resort.

SEMIABSTRACT—A giant mural, carved in ivory-colored marble by Greek craftsmen, occupies the front wall of a new hotel in Athens. It was designed by painter John Moralis.

COAL WEATHER—As the cold wave in Paris continued, the coal piles along a bank of the Seine River also continued to shrink rapidly. Fuel shortages became critical in many European countries due to the arctic weather.

A SOOT-FULL—Being resourceful in trying to combat the frost at Salinas, Calif., 6-year-old John Lowe gets a soot-full at the same time. The blackened-face boy borrowed an oil lamp for use as a smudgepot and got a bit smudged.

A NEW WORK—San Francisco's Benny Bufano uses tools he made himself as he carves out fine lines on his latest sculpture. The 32-foot-tall head is St. Francis, wrought in hammered copper.

ALL-AMERICAN MISS—Taking time out to enjoy the sunshine is Jacquelyn Jeanne Mayer. This year's "Miss America" adjusts her hat during her vacation visit to Florida's Cypress Gardens.

SILHOUETTE OF MIGHT—The size of these giant propellers is dramatically shown as men in a rowboat pass under them and seem miniatures in comparison. The propellers are those of Italy's new ship "Oceanic."