

Barclay Springs Becomes County's First Park Site

About the turn of the century, along its banks to quench their thirst in the coolest, most refreshing spring within miles. At certain times of the year, salmon clogged the stream and Indians, on their way north, would send youths with poles to drive the fish away so the remaining members of their party could ford the stream without being disturbed by the teeming fish. Since then, the encroachment of the railroad and the construction of Highway 97 have, by their presence, taken away some of the tranquility of the pastoral setting familiar to most local people as Barclay Springs, located about 12 miles north of Klamath Falls. This year the Klamath County Park Commission will resume its efforts to restore some of the pastoral flavor the area has lost in recent times.

The site where travelers on horseback or in wagons once paused to refresh themselves will again, this year, become a way station for sojourners proceeding north or south. Nearly seven acres of the area has been acquired by the County Park Commission from the Hagelstein Estate and the State Land Board for transformation into a county park. Last year, much of the preliminary construction work was done at the park which will offer overnight camping sites for vacationists, excellent restroom facilities equipped with hot and cold running water and electrical outlets, and the only public boat launching ramp on the east side of Klamath Lake. A pedestrian bridge will take visitors across the stream which bisects the park. The county has expended more than $18,000 in developing the area thus far, and this year it will disburse additional funds to do landscaping, plant trees, surface the gravel boat ramp with concrete, and install picnic tables and facilities. The modest estimate of the park commission is that much of the work will be completed before summer, when once again travelers will make use of a site that one time was a favorite stopping place in Klamath County.

ACCESS TO EAST SIDE OF LAKE — A gravel surfaced boat ramp providing access from Hagelstein Park to the east side of Klamath Lake will be covered with concrete when the county resumes work to complete the park sometime this spring. The boat ramp is the only public boat landing on that side of the lake.

TROUT BETRAYED BY CLEAR WATERS — A paddle carefully manipulated by Alotricco glides our canoe silently toward a school of trout feeding near a log on the fringe of a deep pool. Transparent waters betrayed rainbows more than 18 inches long cruising along a river bottom sometimes more than 10 feet deep. The trout slid through the slower waters indifferent to lure or fly, but responded enthusiastically to the artificials when they were offered in dashing riffles farther downstream.

FIRST COUNTY PARK — The partially completed, seven-acre Hagelstein Park (formerly Barclay Springs), will be landscaped and improved with the installation of picnic tables and planting of trees sometime before next summer. The park will offer overnight facilities for tourists and a picnic area for daytime visitors. When completed, the park will be the first such facility to be administered by the Klamath County Park Commission.

LANDSCAPING NEXT PROJECT — Rain muddies the usually clear stream, intersecting Hagelstein Park, which has been partially completed at a cost to the county of almost $19,000. The banks of the stream and land elsewhere in the park will be landscaped beginning this year. Construction of the bridge and fencing of the area has been completed as part of the program to construct the park.

JELD-WEN INC.

Plant Site on Lakeport Blvd. — Just North of Pelican School!
Although we are a relatively new firm in Klamath Falls, we are striving to do our share to aid in the growth and progress of the Klamath Basin. We feel we can best accomplish this task by enthusiastically and energetically working toward the growth and development of our business. We are happy to report that sizable progress has again been made during the past year toward this end.

- ★ Production and sales of our window and door frames have increased over 50%.
- ★ Usage of Ponderosa pine shop lumber and cutstock have increased proportionately. (All lumber and cutstock comes from the Klamath Basin and surrounding area.)
- ★ Employment has increased from 50 to over 80 men.
- ★ Sizable capital improvements have been made to our plant and equipment facilities.

We at JELD-WEN, Inc., expect to continue a high rate of growth during the coming years thus helping to maintain a prosperous Klamath Basin.

Manufacturers of Ponderosa Pine Window & Door Frames
3303 Lakeport Blvd. — Klamath Falls, Oregon — Ph. TUxedo 2-3451

WE'VE MOVED

Yes, we've moved, right next door to bigger and more modern quarters. We've expanded practically every phase of our business to meet the growing needs of gas users in the Klamath Basin. We now have over 5,000 sq. ft. of floor space devoted to new appliances, business offices, service and storage. We've a new truck-height loading dock as well as a rear access to the railroad spur. A bigger and more convenient parking area is provided for customers.

This new location at 205 Riverside is at the foot of Main Street near Link River Bridge. Klamath Gas is a home owned and home operated business. We invite you to inspect our facilities at any time.

KLAMATH GAS

Robert E. (Bob) Maloney, President

Above is our fleet of modern delivery and service trucks. The insert photo shows our 30,000 gallon storage tank. This tank and the four 10,000 gallon tank cars on our railroad spur will supply 2 1/2 million cu. ft. of gas — enough to supply a completely gas-equipped home for over 100 years. This pipeline on wheels brings modern gas to homes everywhere.

Our new appliance showroom with some of the many gas appliances by O'Keefe & Merritt, Wedgewood, General, Siegler, Dearborn and other famous manufacturers. Bookkeeper Chuck Filtz, office mgr. Kay Bellinger and Sales Mgr. Bill Stepp invite you to come in and learn more about the convenience of modern gas cooking and heating! See why you get such things as a 10-year warranty on gas refrigerators.

Klamath Gas.....

Sales — Installation — Service

NATURAL and PROPANE TANK GAS APPLIANCES

- Ranges ● Refrigerators ● Water Heaters ● Furnaces ● Heaters ● Weed Burners
- Plenty of Free Parking - 205 Riverside - Phone TU 2-2541

Serving The
Klamath Basin
For 15 Years