

Jacoby On Bridge

NORTH 23
▲ 8763	▲ J 109432
▲ None	▲ None
▲ 8763	▲ 109342
▲ 88833	▲ 72
WEST
▲ None	▲ J 109432
▲ 8763432	▲ None
▲ None	▲ 109342
▲ AKQJ 109	▲ 72
EAST
▲ None	▲ J 109432
▲ 8763432	▲ None
▲ None	▲ 109342
▲ AKQJ 109	▲ 72
SOUTH (D)
▲ AKQ	▲ J 109432
▲ AKQJ 109	▲ None
▲ AKQJ	▲ 109342
▲ None	▲ 72

Heart Hand Fools All

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The late Geoffrey Mott-Smith coined the expression "the immortal hands" to cover the bridge classics that appear again and again. Usually they appear as if they just had been dealt in a rubber bridge game, but oldtimers recognize them as old friends.

The Mississippi heart hand dates back to the game of bridge. The dealer either made trump or bridged it to his partner with whom he would then make trump.

All hands were played at a contract of one, but the opponents could double and dealer and his partner could redouble indefinitely. Hearts were the top suit in bridge, so Mississippi River gamblers would let their victim pick up the South hand.

He would make hearts trump and almost fall overboard when he would hear a double. Then he would redouble and the gambler would double again. The victim would redouble and redouble until the gamblers would decide that one down would represent all that he could, or would, pay. It would not take too long to get into pretty high figures. At a penny a point one down redoubled once would cost him 200 points or $2. Each redouble would multiply his loss by four so that after six redoubles the hand would cost him $2,048, and just two more redoubles would find the victim losing $32,768.

This hand was once thrown into a duplicate game. All South players, but one, played seven hearts doubled or redoubled and down seven. Top score went to a player who was so excited that he opened seven no-trump and only went down six.

Heart Hand Fools All

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The late Geoffrey Mott-Smith coined the expression "the immortal hands" to cover the bridge classics that appear again and again. Usually they appear as if they just had been dealt in a rubber bridge game, but oldtimers recognize them as old friends.

The Mississippi heart hand dates back to the game of bridge. The dealer either made trump or bridged it to his partner with whom he would then make trump.

All hands were played at a contract of one, but the opponents could double and dealer and his partner could redouble indefinitely. Hearts were the top suit in bridge, so Mississippi River gamblers would let their victim pick up the South hand.

He would make hearts trump and almost fall overboard when he would hear a double. Then he would redouble and the gambler would double again. The victim would redouble and redouble until the gamblers would decide that one down would represent all that he could, or would, pay. It would not take too long to get into pretty high figures. At a penny a point one down redoubled once would cost him 200 points or $2. Each redouble would multiply his loss by four so that after six redoubles the hand would cost him $2,048, and just two more redoubles would find the victim losing $32,768.

This hand was once thrown into a duplicate game. All South players, but one, played seven hearts doubled or redoubled and down seven. Top score went to a player who was so excited that he opened seven no-trump and only went down six.

♥-CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♠ Double Pass ?
Yet South, bid:
▲ 85 WK Q 8 64 ▲ K J 3 ▲ 9 6 4
What do you do?
A—Bid three hearts. If your partner has a fairly good double you have a game. If he has a poor double he will pass.
TODAY'S QUESTION
You bid three hearts. West bids three spades and your partner doubles. What do you do now?
Answer Tomorrow

Deductions Explained

There are two ways of taking deductions on 1962 federal income tax returns. A. G. Erickson, director of the Internal Revenue Service for Oregon advised, Itemize your charitable contributions, interest, taxes, medical and other expenses, or use the standard deduction.

If a taxpayer is a homeowner paying interest and taxes, or if he has unusually large contributions or medical expenses during 1962, it may be to his advantage to itemize them.

If itemized deductions total less than 10 per cent of adjusted gross income, it will usually be better to claim the standard deduction.

The tax table accompanying the return form must be used to determine the tax on incomes under $3,000 when the standard deduction is claimed.

If there are other questions about federal income tax returns, telephone the local internal revenue office.

AMIDON'S BUSINESS MACHINES
4535 S. 6th
• Rentals • Sales • Service
Service is the heart of our business

Fireman Examination
APPLY KLAMATH FALLS FIRE DEPARTMENT
Broad and Wall Sts.
EXAMINATION 9:00 A.M.
March 2, 1963

NEW POST — A Klamath Falls girl, Ruth Horne, Red Cross field representative for the Klamath Basin Chapter, now is in Korea as a National Red Cross staff member. She served here for three years before serving as director of Hospital Recreation at Travis Air Force Base Hospital before assuming her new responsibilities.

Korean Duty Calls Red Cross Worker

Red Cross duty in Korea is a challenging and interesting assignment, according to Ruth Horne, National Red Cross staff member recently transferred to overseas duty from her post as field representative serving the Klamath Basin Chapter.

Miss Horne's new assignment places her in charge of 48 Red Cross clubmobile workers. Applicants for these positions must be college graduates and are given careful screening and training before acceptance for overseas service.

In commenting about her group of workers, Miss Horne notes that their ages are mostly from 21 to 25; they learn a great deal about program planning, consideration for others, working under close supervision, and accepting people as they are and enjoying them.

Programs of contests, games, music and light refreshments are presented in the day room or mess hall of each unit on a regular, planned basis. Workers travel to each unit by truck, jeep, or ambulance.

"The girls also serve refreshments on the train for men coming off the ship to serve their year in Korea, or returning to the states. Besides this, the girls have duties such as office maintenance, statistics, supervising Korean bakers and drivers; they may be called upon to help make a birthday card or serve as a cheerleader for a unit football game."

Miss Horne was on Red Cross duty in Korea during 1954. "Many changes for the better are apparent; the government has instigated programs of road building, cleaning up city areas, building sturdier homes, and has encouraged planting of flowers along the roads."

Driver Killed In Truck Wreck

COQUILLE (UPI)—A logging truck at the community of Norway, six miles east of here, Friday resulted in fatal injuries to Edmond Francis Brodie, 84, of Norway.

Brodie died in a Myrtle Point hospital about two hours after the crash.

Visits Klamath

Visitors in Klamath Falls from Portland are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Keller, en route home from a vacation in Palm Springs.

They are guests of Mrs. Keller's mother, Mrs. Louise Humphrey, 422 Main Street, Klamath Falls, the former Frances Humphrey.

Fireman Examination

APPLY KLAMATH FALLS FIRE DEPARTMENT
Broad and Wall Sts.
EXAMINATION 9:00 A.M.
March 2, 1963

Highest Quality Highest Power
SPECIAL OFFER ROLL-ABOUT TV
And Still Only 199⁹⁵

MOTOROLA 19" TV
With Roll-About Cart
1 Year Guarantee on Parts & Service

FREE TV FLOOR PILLOW
With Each Set

B & B RADIO & ELECTRIC
316 South 6th PH. TU 2-4434
Always Plenty of Free Parking

Antiquated Driving Laws Said Dangerous

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Readers: The letter from an irate Landerer Fan who sounded of about "old gaffers" being dangerous drivers produced an avalanche of angry mail. I heard from 50 states, plus Puerto Rico, Bermuda and South Africa. Here's a sample of what my week has been like:

New York: My husband is 82 years old. He drives to his office in Manhattan every day. Of course we all pray before he leaves the house and we feel this help.

Ohio: There are more than 5 1/2 million drivers in Ohio. Upward of 2 million drivers have never been examined. A learner's permit costs 75 cents and a three-year license costs $1. (Same as in 1906!) Perhaps your column will persuade Ohio legislators to raise this ridiculous ante and use the money to set up a decent licensing and inspection program in Ohio.

Florida: There's a popular gag down here—"Old drivers never die—they go to Tampa or St. Pete." It's true, Ann. The arthritis, the lame, the halt and the blind can get their drivers' licenses renewed in Florida by mail. It's a disgrace.

Kentucky: My license expired and I had to take a test like a beginner. I was furious but it turned out to be a good idea because I had to re-study the rules and it was amazing how much I didn't know. They're tough about expired licenses in Kentucky, yet if your license hasn't expired, you can get a renewal by mail. "We lose more colonels this way!"

Virginia: People's terrible roads kill more people than lousy drivers.

Kansas: A recent survey of Kansas drivers showed a number of people holding licenses who claimed tax exemption allowed only to the blind. No attempt has been made to correct this idiotic situation.

Illinois: I'm proud to say that every driver in our state has to take a beginner's test when he reaches 70 years of age. No automatic renewals for old codgers in the Land O' Lincoln!

Arkansas: Mother is 78. She doesn't know anything about a car except how to start it and how to stop it. She ignores stop signs and drives on the sidewalk. The local police look the other way because she's such a "sweet old lady." Arkansas' driving laws are positively medieval.

Montana: In this state if the body is warm and they can find $3 in a pocket, the corpse can get a two-year license to drive.

Missouri: The Show Me state can be shown a few things about enlightened legislation for drivers. There are no laws in Missouri to protect us against senile.

Income Taxes

See Your Reliable Income TAX CONSULTANT
CHAS. HATHAWAY
Auditing - Bookkeeping
120 N. 10th TU 4-5473

Antiquated Driving Laws Said Dangerous

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Readers: The letter from an irate Landerer Fan who sounded of about "old gaffers" being dangerous drivers produced an avalanche of angry mail. I heard from 50 states, plus Puerto Rico, Bermuda and South Africa. Here's a sample of what my week has been like:

Alabama: This is the worst state in the Union to drive in. If you value your life stay out of Alabama.

Minnesota: We still have 50-year-old laws here for drivers. Renewals go out in the mails by the thousands. Age or physical condition mean nothing in Minnesota.

Indiana: I'm happy to say Indiana is leading the way to traffic safety with its re-examination law for renewing drivers' licenses automatically. It's frightening.

Georgia: We have a horrible accident rate because of outmoded laws. Please, Ann, shame our backward state into action. The carnage on the highways of Georgia is shocking.

North Carolina: For the fifth straight year North Carolina's driving license system was rated first by the American Association of Motor Vehicles Administration. We are proud.

And now dear readers—here is the blockbuster. Only 14 states require tests for re-licensing. If you live in a state with horse and buggy laws write to your governor and yell your head off. The life you save could be your own.—ANN LANDERS

Antiquated Driving Laws Said Dangerous

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Readers: The letter from an irate Landerer Fan who sounded of about "old gaffers" being dangerous drivers produced an avalanche of angry mail. I heard from 50 states, plus Puerto Rico, Bermuda and South Africa. Here's a sample of what my week has been like:

Alabama: This is the worst state in the Union to drive in. If you value your life stay out of Alabama.

Minnesota: We still have 50-year-old laws here for drivers. Renewals go out in the mails by the thousands. Age or physical condition mean nothing in Minnesota.

Indiana: I'm happy to say Indiana is leading the way to traffic safety with its re-examination law for renewing drivers' licenses automatically. It's frightening.

Georgia: We have a horrible accident rate because of outmoded laws. Please, Ann, shame our backward state into action. The carnage on the highways of Georgia is shocking.

North Carolina: For the fifth straight year North Carolina's driving license system was rated first by the American Association of Motor Vehicles Administration. We are proud.

And now dear readers—here is the blockbuster. Only 14 states require tests for re-licensing. If you live in a state with horse and buggy laws write to your governor and yell your head off. The life you save could be your own.—ANN LANDERS

Antiquated Driving Laws Said Dangerous

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Readers: The letter from an irate Landerer Fan who sounded of about "old gaffers" being dangerous drivers produced an avalanche of angry mail. I heard from 50 states, plus Puerto Rico, Bermuda and South Africa. Here's a sample of what my week has been like:

Alabama: This is the worst state in the Union to drive in. If you value your life stay out of Alabama.

Minnesota: We still have 50-year-old laws here for drivers. Renewals go out in the mails by the thousands. Age or physical condition mean nothing in Minnesota.

Indiana: I'm happy to say Indiana is leading the way to traffic safety with its re-examination law for renewing drivers' licenses automatically. It's frightening.

Georgia: We have a horrible accident rate because of outmoded laws. Please, Ann, shame our backward state into action. The carnage on the highways of Georgia is shocking.

North Carolina: For the fifth straight year North Carolina's driving license system was rated first by the American Association of Motor Vehicles Administration. We are proud.

And now dear readers—here is the blockbuster. Only 14 states require tests for re-licensing. If you live in a state with horse and buggy laws write to your governor and yell your head off. The life you save could be your own.—ANN LANDERS

Antiquated Driving Laws Said Dangerous

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Readers: The letter from an irate Landerer Fan who sounded of about "old gaffers" being dangerous drivers produced an avalanche of angry mail. I heard from 50 states, plus Puerto Rico, Bermuda and South Africa. Here's a sample of what my week has been like:

Alabama: This is the worst state in the Union to drive in. If you value your life stay out of Alabama.

Minnesota: We still have 50-year-old laws here for drivers. Renewals go out in the mails by the thousands. Age or physical condition mean nothing in Minnesota.

Indiana: I'm happy to say Indiana is leading the way to traffic safety with its re-examination law for renewing drivers' licenses automatically. It's frightening.

Georgia: We have a horrible accident rate because of outmoded laws. Please, Ann, shame our backward state into action. The carnage on the highways of Georgia is shocking.

North Carolina: For the fifth straight year North Carolina's driving license system was rated first by the American Association of Motor Vehicles Administration. We are proud.

And now dear readers—here is the blockbuster. Only 14 states require tests for re-licensing. If you live in a state with horse and buggy laws write to your governor and yell your head off. The life you save could be your own.—ANN LANDERS

B & B RADIO & ELECTRIC
316 South 6th PH. TU 2-4434
Always Plenty of Free Parking

ARTIFACTORS OFFICERS — The bone gavel of office in the Artifact Club was handed over at the meeting, Feb. 18, in the YMCA, to the new president, Clifford Clayton, center, by the retiring president John Rodgers of Merrill. Barbara Caldwell, left, is secretary-treasurer. Victor Overman, right, is vice president. New committees named are program—Doug Ernst, Vic Overman, Joe Meeker, Bill Stegemeyer; hospitality—Mrs. Joe Meeker; publications—Jerry Meeker, Janice Rodgers, Ruth Merriman; publicity—Ramona Carter. The club hopes to promote a show in the near future. The next meeting will be March 18, 8 p.m., in the Klamath County Library Lecture Room. All interested persons are invited.

Supervisors Finish Course

Certificates of training were presented to 11 supervisors who completed an "on-the-job" administrator-supervisor course, and to five weapons specialists who completed a weapons control system training program on Feb. 15.

Base Commander Co. Edwin J. Witzemberger presented the certificates, along with a special award of a three-day pass to A.2.C. Charles D. Ives for outstanding student.

M.Sgt. James D. McDermott conducted the OJT administrator's course. David Allen and William Hall, Hughes Aircraft technical representatives, conducted the integrated training program for the weapons control system.

Graduates of the OJT Administrator-Supervisor course are 2nd Lt. Larry S. Kramm, S.M. Sgt. William A. Sanders, T. Sgt. Frederick Herrick, T. Sgt. Ralph L. Tegen, and Staff Sergeants Thomas M. Case, Jim Ferneck, Francis X. Herbes, William J. Hickey, Alexander W. Hudson, Joe McDonald and Edward L. Pate.

Graduates of the weapons control system training are T. Sgt. James F. Stone, S. Sgt. Noah Cavarette, A.2.C. Charles D. Ives, A.2.C. Michael G. Celente and John J. Withey.

Two Crashes Bash Three Automobiles

One car was damaged extensively and two others moderately in two separate accidents reported by Klamath Falls police and state police Thursday and Friday.

Jack T. Brosnan, 67, 210 Martha Street, driver of a car that crashed into a parked car owned by James W. Barrett, 3249 Miller Avenue, was charged with drunken driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

The accident occurred at 9:22 p.m. Feb. 20 near the intersection of Spring and Hood streets.

Brosnan was driving south on Spring Street with his head lights out when his vehicle hit the parked car, according to city police reports.

A Central Point man, Everett E. Denny, escaped injury when the car he was driving failed to make a curve on State Highway 39, smashed down two posts, a stop sign and part of a billboard just outside of Merrill.

The car traveled over 300 feet after leaving the highway and received extensive damage, state police reported.

The accident occurred at 8:45 p.m. Thursday.

WOMAN KILLED

ALBANY (UPI) — An Idaho woman was killed in a one-car accident near Lost Lake Friday. State police identified her as Mrs. Wanda F. Pritchett, 31, Idaho Falls.

Here's Why We Have So Many Happy Customers!
LOW, LOW PRICES... "S&H" GREEN STAMPS
$120,000 CASH GIVE-AWAY
Plus The Largest Selection Of Food In Southern Oregon!

S&H GREEN STAMPS

Dainty Mix Fruit Cocktail
2 No. 303 Tins 35¢

'AA' Eggs
LARGE Farm Fresh 47¢
DOZ.

Morrell's Palace, Thin Sliced
BACON 279¢

FRESH Columbia River. Shipment Arrives Tue. Morning.
SMELT lb. 25¢

SPRECKELS
SUGAR 10-lb. Bag 79¢

FOLGER'S
COFFEE 1-Lb Tin 59¢

Betty Crocker, White, Yellow, Devils Food. 19-oz. Pkgs.
Cake Mixes 4 FOR $1

ARGO, By Del Monte
Tomato Sauce 8-oz. Tins 5¢

THRIFT MAID
Ice Cream 1/2 Gallon 69¢

TOMATOES Large, Red-Ripe Beef Steaks lb. 25¢

AVOCADOS Thin Skinned, Perfect For Salads 219¢
CELERY Large, Crisp Green Stalks 219¢

DERBY NOODLES With Beef or Chicken
1-Lb. Jar 29¢

Oregon FOOD STORES
If You're Not Shopping Here, You're Spending Too Much!
We Reserve The Right To Limit
*4480 South 6th * 1315 Oregon Ave.
* Avalon * Thistle Way

Prices Effective Through Wednesday Night While Quantities Last — Store Hours 9:00 - 8:00 P.M.