LUNKERS STARTING TO FEED AT LAKE — Some of Upper Klamath Lake's big rainbows are starting to forage now that the ice is out. The trout cruise along the shallows this time of year and can be taken with spoons and lures fished close to the bottom. The favorite method of fishing, as shown here, is to cast out a dead are the comfortable chairs. On the right is part of the "bonus" bag from a day's outing; those odious chubs that apparently are begin-ing to take over the lake. People in Klamath Falls have wondered for several years what can be done about the chub problem. If area residents expect to enjoy good trout fishing in the big lake, the time to take action on the chub situation is now.
