Police Check Fight, Thefts

Four thefts of goods valued at more than $110 and a fight that resulted in head injuries to a Klamath Falls man are being investigated by city police.

Donald Watson, 245 Commercial Street, was treated for head cuts in Klamath Valley Hospital at 8:55 p.m. Monday after he was struck by Rose Hamden with an unknown object.

Watson apparently had been out with Miss Hamden during the evening and a fight broke out when he brought her home to 434 Commercial Street.

According to Miss Hamden Watson wanted to borrow some money from her and when she wouldn't give him all she had in her wallet he started to struggle with her and she hit him.

The caretaker at Lucile O'Neill Elementary School reported to city police that the building was broken into over the weekend and a case of tuna fish was missing from the kitchen store room.

There were no signs of forcible entry into the building, but police found pry marks all over the kitchen door. There are no suspects in the case.

An automobile transmission valued at $75 was reported stolen by Rod Green, the owner, 626 North Ninth Street, Sunday, Green said a man came to the service station on South Second and Main streets, where he works, and wanted to buy the transmission sometime last week.

The man apparently came back Sunday while Green was out of town and told one of the station attendants that he'd come to pick up the transmission that he bought from Green.

The suspect then drove off with the transmission. Green came back Monday and told police he hadn't sold it to the man and said he would sign a complaint if the thief was caught.

A Central Point man who was visiting his son in Klamath Falls will return home minus one tire and wheel.

Chester L. Roberts told city police the tire was taken from the trunk of his car about midnight Monday while the vehicle was parked at 2135 Reclamation Avenue.

Some tools and garden hose valued at $11 were stolen from a garage belonging to Carl Youngren, 213 Washington Street, sometime during the past two weeks, city police reported.

Youngren said the garage was usually open and nothing was ever stolen before.

Guatemala Asks United States To Redefine Monroe Doctrine

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Guatemala asked the United States today to redefine the Monroe Doctrine in stiff new terms to force the Soviet Union and "European colonialists" to abandon Latin America.

Foreign Minister Jesus Unda-Murillo advanced the proposal in an unprecedented speech before the Council of Ministers of the 20-nation Organization of American States.

OAS nations, especially Mexico and Brazil, never have recognized the Monroe Doctrine as a hemisphere policy. They consider it only as a U. S. declaration.

"The Monroe Doctrine must be consolidated," Unda-Murillo said, and "complemented with the command: 'European colonialists get out of America!'"

Hemisphere nations, he added "have no other alternative... if need be, with bayonets fixed, to clean out the Europeans and Asiatics from the swamps and legendary cities of the unfortunate island of Cuba."

He urged OAS governments to join the United States in repairing what he called "cracks in the Monroe Doctrine and the inter-American system."

The Guatemalan minister said "very little has been achieved" through inter-American agreements in meeting problems with colonialism.

"The Monroe Doctrine should no longer aim at only preventing the arrival of more European colonialists," he said, "but at making all European colonialists now holding American territory unlawfully abandon the hemisphere once and for all."

Unda-Murillo said this applies to the Russians in Cuba, but he also lashed out in particular to British interests in the hemisphere.

Scientists Say Ancient Lizard Is Thawed Out

MOSCOW (UPI) — Radio Moscow said today Soviet scientists, who revived two lizards which had hibernated for 5,000 years, believe it may be possible for "frozen" men to survive long space flights.

The radio said the scientists found one of the lizards, a "four-toed Triton," buried about 25 feet deep in the ground in Siberia "some time ago."

It said the Triton revived after being kept at room temperature for "some time," and lived for about three weeks. The lizard was not afraid of people and readily ate flies and berries out of scientists' hands, the radio said.

"Judging by the state of the earth in which it was found, biologists concluded that the Siberian Triton had been asleep for about 5,000 years," the broadcast said.

"Sometime later, another Triton was found in a frozen state up in the far north about 13 feet underground. It also revived, and lived practically all summer."

The broadcast said the scientists concluded that suspended animation might also be induced in present-day vertebrates, possibly including human beings.

"It would be very useful for space flights," the radio said. "We know already that it will take long months, even years, to reach other planets. The crews will need to carry vast quantities of food, oxygen and so forth, making necessary spacecraft of incredible size.

"However, if the crew were in a state of anabiosis (suspended animation) they would need neither food nor oxygen, their metabolism being almost at a standstill."

"What is more, the body in such a state is better able to resist the worst infectious diseases than in an ordinary state. Even radiation does not affect it."

"Of course, it is presumed here that the astronauts will be automatically resuscitated as the craft draws near to the planet."

Here's what Mrs. Dean Mason of Klamath Falls says about electric living ...

"Electricity helped us build our home, and now it helps us live a wonderful, comfortable life"

"Electric power tools made building our new home easier and helped us do the job the way we wanted. Naturally, we included all the latest electric conveniences from a dishwasher to outdoor lighting. All-electric living is really a blessing when you have a growing family. I count on electric helpers for cooking, washing, water heating and nearly every household job there is. It's the hardest-working service I know of and is certainly our biggest value."

The Mason family certainly keeps me running full time!

Thousands of other Pacific Power & Light customers, like Mrs. Mason and her family, live better because they make generous and effective use of modern electric service.
