

TOMMY DAVIS

Young Scottish Baker Brings Skill To Basin

By RUTH KING

Scotland is bounded on all sides by the sea, but it "was to the air he took" when Tommy Davis, now turned 17, left behind him Balloch near Loch Lamond, 20 miles from Glasgow, to land in a strange country, the United States.

He had completed his high schooling at 14 and right then had learned to be a baker when his father, a robust man, and a good family provider, was struck down by a hit and run driver. While the injury was not fatal, it caused young Tommy to apply for the chance to go to work.

He was soon efficient at the baking and decorating of birthday cakes, and his hands are gentle with other doughs.

A sister, Mrs. Anne Nidever, had come to this country and she, as have others in the years before, encouraged a member of a family to "come and be company."

She has been in American two years and doesn't forget the Firths of Lorn and of Clyde, the Highlands, the Lowlands and the Southern Uplands . . . the pink heather and the wind across the moors.

And so Tommy Davis, who had been baking for three years and knew well the mixing of flour and shortening and rising ingredients, came to bake for Mr. and Mrs. George Tedrick in the Polly Ann Pastry Shop in Klamath Falls, who sponsored him.

He flew from Renfrew in Scotland, stopping at Iceland when the plane's heating system kicked up, then on to Oregon.

He likes America but is a bit concerned over the unemployment. He played on a soccer team, the Balloch Juveniles in Scotland, and has done bits on radio. He will stay with his trade.

He will be found among all the tempting whiffs of spices and nuts and raisins, brown sugar and yeast at the bakery and when you leave he will say "cheerio."

Fort Rock Eyes Junior High Plans

SILVER LAKE—Problems confronting hopes for establishing a junior high school in the Silver Lake-Fort Rock-Christmas Valley area in the near future were examined at a meeting last week of patrons from each community.

Steps toward reaching the long term goal of a high school to serve the area, as Christmas Valley growth is achieved, were clarified by Mrs. Anne Sprague, Lake County superintendent of schools.

With Frank Pitcher, chairman of the Silver Lake School Board, presiding, the large group voted to explore within the two school districts the feasibility of consolidation into a geographic district about half the size of the state of New Jersey. Such consolidation would require permission of the county's reorganization committee.

Examination of Oregon School Law disclosed the necessity of first establishing a high school district before forming a junior high school. Parents facing the problem of boarding out sons and daughters when they begin the ninth grade saw the junior high school as a means of deferring this break from home.

Statistics show that without further growth in the large area as it might affect school population, the combined seventh, eighth, and ninth grades of Fort Rock and Silver Lake schools next year would be 31 pupils.

On the other hand, without any increase in numbers, by the school year 1966-1967 the census for grades 9-12 would be 41 pupils.

The group asked for figures on valuations and taxes, as they now stand, and of the costs of tuition board for the 28 high school students now sent out by the two districts.

Requirements as to facilities, number of teachers and basic minimum curriculum were also discussed. The transportation problem loomed large.

Further study on basic long term planning will get under way soon, with local Fort Rock and Silver Lake school boards taking the lead, it was agreed.

There are several factors to be weighed," included the kind of education which would be possible for young people in a sub-standard situation, which would be the initial condition should the State Board of Higher Education grant permission for the school to operate.

Henley Picks Top Ten

The choosing of the senior Top Ten, heralds the approach of commencement for Henley High School seniors. The top students, chosen on the basis of grade point averages, are, in order, Jo Ann Duffy, Janet Lyon, Dick Houck, Martha Ragland, Carol Uchwat, Lydia Umlor, Nancy Wenz, Steve Reiling, Marcia Robert and Gena Spielman.

These students will be specially honored at graduation exercises but the valedictorian and salutatorian will not receive special recognition.

Brazilian Navy Enters 'Lobster War'

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI)—The Brazilian navy sent two destroyers from the port of Recife today, headed for the French fleet off the coast in another move in the growing "lobster war" between the two countries.

A spokesman at 3rd Naval District headquarters in Recife said the destroyers Parana and Para were heading for the waters off the coast of Rio Grande do Norte, where a French cruiser, a corvette and two destroyers were reported spotted Wednesday.

The spokesman said two other destroyers will remain in Recife, while another destroyer and two corvettes will join the Parana and Para off the northern coast.

Adm. Pedro Suzano, Brazilian naval minister, said Wednesday night the navy intercepted French radio messages which indicated the aircraft carrier Clemenceau, the cruiser De Grasse and the destroyer Cassard were "halfway between France and Brazil."

The French destroyer Tartu was sighted 90 miles off the Brazilian coast by an air force reconnaissance plane earlier Wednesday, according to Presidential Press Secretary Raul Riff.

"We will repel these ships," Adm. Suzano said.

Adm. Parizo, the Navy Ministry official, denied the Brazilian reports. A ministry spokesman said

"no French warships are on their way to the coast of South America and it is not planned to dispatch any ships in that direction in the near future."

(The spokesman said the only French warship in the area of the Brazilian coast is the frigate Paul Goffeny, sent there earlier this week to relieve the Tartu protecting six French lobster boats.)

Brazil seized six French trawlers for "poaching" two weeks ago and later released them with a warning not to return.

France maintains any ship can fish the waters outside Brazil's three-mile territorial limit and classes lobsters with fish as free-swimming creatures.

Brazil says lobsters crawl on the ocean floor and are therefore among the resources of the Brazilian continental shelf, which extends out as far as 60 miles and averages 35 miles off the northeast coast.

PROFITS SOAR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Corporate profits in 1962 hit a new high of more than $26 billion, government figures indicate. The previous high was set in 1959 as corporations cleared $24.5 billion. The biggest gains in the last three months of 1962 were racked up by autos, chemicals, rails and utilities.

U.S. Denies Office Move

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Interior Department officials have "categorically denied" any intention of moving Bonneville Power Administration and Bureau of Indian Affairs offices out of Portland, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said today.

But Morse said the Treasury Department intends to go ahead with plans to transfer its division of disbursement office from Portland to Ogden, Utah.

"Strong objections" to the transfer, which will affect about 25 employees.

SCD Plans Annual Meet

FORT ROCK—The annual meeting of the Fort Rock-Silver Lake Soil Conservation District will be held at 7:30 on Tuesday evening, March 5, at Christmas Valley Lodge.

Highlights of the program will include the annual speaking contest, with two upper grade pupils from the Fort Rock, Silver Lake, and Ana River schools talking on "Conservation of Forests." Sharing the spotlight will be James L. O'Donohue of Klamath Falls, outstanding nature photographer. He will show and narrate his collection of bird slides.

Mrs. Anne Sprague, Lake County superintendent of schools, will serve as moderator during the speaking contest. The SCD, second place winner in the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company contest, will receive recognition from a company representative. An additional award will come in the form of a $50 check to the district for placement in the national sponsored newsletter contest. Sponsors are the National Association of Conservation Districts and Farm Equipment Institute.

Mrs. Freda Thayer, Fort Rock; Mrs. Eva Ashcraft, Ana River; and Norman Stratton, Silver Lake are teachers conducting the speaking contest preparations.
