

Chiloquin Picked In District 5-B Tourney At OTI Gym

By JERRY WAGGONER
Herald and News Sports Editor

Eight Class B basketball teams from the region, all looking for a berth in the state tournament, will lock horns in a double elimination District 5-B tournament at the Oregon Tech Mile High gym Thursday, Friday and Saturday to determine the state entry.

Chiloquin, winner of the Klamath County League crown, heads the list of eight teams and will be the favorite to make the trip to the state meet for Class B schools at Bend, March 14-15-16.

The other seven schools include Merrill, Bonanza, Gilchrist, Malin and three out-of-county teams, Butte Falls, Prospect and Paisley. Merrill's Huskies, runnerup to Chiloquin in the KCL and only team to down the Panthers, is the team picked to push the Panthers the hardest. Butte Falls comes into the tournament with an 18-4 record as an independent and could give a merry chase.

The Panthers were beaten only twice all season, once by powerful Henley, the state's top ranked Class A-2 team, and by Merrill. The first game will begin at the Oregon Tech gym at 1:30 Thursday afternoon. The second game follows at about 3:15 with Merrill taking on Prospect.

The night twin-bill will pit Paisley against Gilchrist at 7:30 and Chiloquin and Malin will tangle in the following contest at about 9:15.

Coach Dave Sigado probably will have a lineup of Tony Wilder, Tony DiUlio, Greg Harris, Don Taylor and Al DeBortoli with Joe Kirk, Leonard Wilder and Oran Miller slated for sub action.

Malin's Andy Travis, whose Mustangs pulled a major upset last week in downing second place Merrill, will be led by Tom Tofell, Tom Brown, Sherm Kalina, and Randy and Reggie LeQueu.

Paisley's Keith Showers probably will go with Richard Bradbury, David Brattain, David Emery, Del Swearingen and Scott LeFranchi. Others who see action are Ron Forga, Dan Thompson, Bobby Showers, and Bob Rosebrook.

Gilchrist's Jerry Bennett is likely to open with David Sporer, Dan Hoff, Jack Hazlewood, Bob Mayfield and Denny Jessup. Jerry Groeneveld of Merrill will go with his usual five of Dale Kurtz, Ken Smith, Bob Moore, Dave Hill and Larry Connors with Jim Merriees and Jim Thompson ready for action, if needed.

The Prospect Cougars will have a line of Art Andersen, Bill Hunt, Andy Maurer, Dick Bean and Jerry Wilson, with Cleve Shaffer, Bill Johnston, Larry Bean, John Scott and Sid Hemphill in reserve. The coach is Glen Aiken and the Cougars have a 5-12 independent record.

Butte Falls' Coach McQuery will come in with Art Rambo, Bob Copeland, Neal Ellis, Mike Staaton and Jim Lytle. His reserves will be Dan Edmondson, Ron Sizemore, Ray Sutton, Mike Mitchell and Mel Brown. The Loggers will have one of the tallest players in 6-5 Copeland. They will have some of the best size in the tourney.

Bonanza's Bob Freirich will probably open with Ricky Steber, Ed Simmons, Fred Dearborn, and Bill Newlon. Others who are expected to see a lot of action are Ernie Nichols and Monty Burnett.

Wittenberg Named Top Small Team

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wittenberg University of Ohio, which parlayed the all-around play of Al Thrasher and a tight defense into a 22-1 record, today was named the nation's No. 1 small college basketball team for the 1962-63 season by the United Press International Board of Coaches.

The Tigers, who won an unprecedented fifth straight Ohio Conference championship last weekend under 23-year-old Coach Eldon Miller, took the national title and the UPI trophy that goes with it by gaining the first-place vote of 28 of the 35 coaches who have been rating the nation's small colleges for UPI each week of the season.

No Lower Than Fourth

Wittenberg's wide popularity was demonstrated by the fact the seven coaches who did not pick the Tigers No. 1 named them no lower than fourth. They gained four second-place votes, two third and a fourth in addition to their 28 first-place votes to finish with a 339 point total.

Ed Jucker Selected 'Coach'

By DICK JOYCE
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ed Jucker, who daringly changed Cincinnati's style of basketball and now hopes to lead the Bearcats to an unprecedented third straight NCAA championship, today was named college coach-of-the-year by United Press International.

The dedicated, 45-year-old Jucker, whose team compiled a 23-1 record this season—his third as head coach at Cincinnati—received 118 votes from the 263 sports writers and radio-TV broadcasters who took part in the nationwide poll.

George Ireland of Loyola of Chicago finished second with 44 votes and Ohio State's Fred Taylor, who was named the top coach in 1961 and 1962, was third with 29 votes.

Highlight of Career

"This is the highlight of my career," Jucker said after learning of the honor. "It is every coach's dream, of course, I am surprised and happy. Give the credit to my assistants (Ray Baker and John Fowles) and the ball players. They made it possible through their sacrifices and supreme effort."

Jucker, promoted from assistant coach for the 1960-61 season, had the unenviable task of rebuilding the Bearcats after All-American Oscar Robertson had been graduated. Led by Robertson, Cincinnati's run-and-shoot offense won the tough Missouri Valley Conference three straight years.

When Coach George Smith was moved up to the athletic director post at Cincinnati, Jucker took over and made the bold move of discarding the Bearcats' style of offense for the unpopular slow, deliberate game, with the emphasis on defense.

79-6 Record

Under Jucker, Cincinnati ran up records of 27-3 and 29-2 and was ranked second each year behind Ohio State. But in the finals of the NCAA tournament each year the Bearcats upset Ohio State and now this year Cincinnati is favored to capture the title. Play in the NCAA tourney gets under way next week.

Thus in three seasons, Jucker's teams have won 79 games against only six defeats—to rank as one of the most remarkable records in college history. Cincinnati has been ranked No. 1 all season long by the UPI Board of Coaches this year.

That gave Wittenberg a clear victory over Grambling of Louisiana (26-2), which finished second, Evansville (19-5), the 1959-60 national champion, was third this year, while Southeast Missouri (21-2) was fourth and Tennessee State (24-5), a previous two-time champion, was fifth.

Akron (22-3), which Wittenberg defeated last Saturday to wrap up the Ohio Conference tournament title, was sixth, Fresno State (19-6) was seventh, Southern Illinois (17-8) was eighth, Prairie View A&M (18-7) was ninth and South Dakota State (17-5) was 10th.

Defending Champion 13th

Westminster of Pennsylvania, the defending national champion which was picked to win the title a second straight time, wound up in a tie for 13th place with Santa Barbara after leading the ratings for the first six weeks.

Wittenberg started the season in 10th place, climbed steadily and finally gained the top spot on the seventh week. Once the Tigers reached that position they never faltered, winning their last 15 games. Their only loss was to major school Eastern Kentucky on Dec. 17.

Hofstra, a member of the top 10 almost every week of the season, headed the second 10 group in the final ratings with Augsburg 12th. Then came Santa Barbara and Westminster tied for 13th, Lamar Tech was 15th, Southeastern Oklahoma was 16th, Northeastern (Mass.) and Orange State tied for 17th, Indiana State was 19th and Lewis & Clark and Regis tied for 20th.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The final 1962-63 United Press International small college basketball ratings (with first-place votes and won-lost records in parentheses):

Team	Points
1. Wittenberg (23) (22-1)	339.
2. Grambling (1) (26-2)	272.
3. Evansville (2) (19-5)	234.
4. S.E. Missouri (2) (21-2)	229.
5. Tenn. State (24-5)	168.
6. Akron (22-3)	163.
7. Fresno St. (1) (19-6)	117.
8. Sou. Illinois (17-8)	100.
9. Prairie View A&M (18-7)	48.
10. S. Dakota St. (17-5)	47.
Second 10—11. Hofstra 20; 12. Augsburg (1) 23; 13. (tie), Santa Barbara and Westminster (Pa.) 22 each; 15. Lamar Tech 17; 16. Southeastern Oklahoma 14; 17. (tie), Northeastern and Orange State 11 each; 19. Indiana State 10; 20. (tie), Lewis & Clark and Regis 7 each.

Two Beavers Sign Contract

PORTLAND (UPI)—Two out-fitters sent in signed contracts to the Portland Beavers of the Pacific Coast League Tuesday.

Frank Cipriani, 22, with Portland for 15 games last year, and Luis E. Rodriguez, 24, signed up for the 1963 season.

Cipriani batted .290 for Albuquerque last year and .190 for Portland in his brief stay.

Rodriguez, a native of Venezuela, hit .244 for Birmingham last year in 32 games, .278 for Lewiston and .317 for Minot.

Sugar Ray Robinson To Meet Terry Downes In April Bout

LONDON (UPI)—Sugar Ray Robinson will be the next opponent for Terry Downes of England, former world middleweight co-champion, who scored his fourth straight comeback victory Tuesday night on a controversial ninth-round TKO over American Jimmy Beecham at Seymour Hall.

Smith Grabs Score Crown

PORTLAND (UPI)—Sammy Smith of champion Oregon Tech won his third straight Oregon Collegiate Conference basketball scoring title.

Smith had 360 points in 16 games for a 22.5 average. His teammate, Willie Anderson, was second with 338 points for a 21.1 average, while Bob Myers of Eastern Oregon finished third with 314 points and a 19.6 average.

Anderson won the rebound title from Smith in the final game. He had an average of 15.2 per game while Smith had 14.9.

Toby Wolf of Oregon College set a new accuracy mark in free throws by hitting 62 of 74 attempts for .838 per cent.

Oregon Tech led in total offense with 66.3 points while Portland State was best defensively, giving up 68.7 points per contest.

Henley Draws Douglas In District Meet

The state's top ranked Henley Hornets will be put to a stern test this weekend when the Hornets go into the District 6-A-2 tournament in Ashland with three other teams, the winner to represent the district in the state tournament in Coos Bay the next weekend.

The tall Hornets will be facing Douglas High team which finished second in the Umpqua League. The Rogue League's second spot team, Eagle Point, will be meeting the top Umpqua team, Myrtle Point.

The Hornets, who are the only undefeated team in the state with a 20-0 record, must win this tournament to get to the state tournament. And it will not be an easy chore—one loss and they are out.

But Coach Jerry Johnson's team has the material to do the job if they settle down and play the type of ball they've played all season long. They have one of the tallest players in the state in Kent Gooding, a 6-8 senior who also led the league in scoring with a 24.5 average.

Gooding also leads the team in season scoring with 439 points in 19 games (he missed one because of illness) for a 22.6 average. He also pulled down 337 rebounds in the 19 contests for an average of 17.7 per outing. And he was whistled down for only 25 personal fouls during the 19 games.

Gooding is backed up in the scoring department by senior Mike Beymer, the real hustler of the team. Beymer has bucketed 283 points in 20 games for a 14.1 mean and was sixth in league scoring.

Earl Allbritton, the other forward of the tandem, has chucked in 241 points for a 12.0 average over the 20-game route. But he is second in rebounding with 226 grabs for an 11.3 average per outing.

LeVoy Young, the smallest man on the team, has tallied 127 points for a 6.3 average in 20 games. Then comes first line substitute Charley Thompson with 91 points and a 4.5 average. But he has 114 rebounds in the 20 contests.

Steve Reiling, the fifth starter, isn't a prolific scorer, but rather a good ball handler, passer and defensive player. He tallied only 90 points for a 4.5 mean but had 83 rebounds from his guard position. Tom Sanders rounds out the top seven Hornets. The guard got into 18 of the 20 games and scored 64 points and 32 rebounds.

The Hornets had 1365 points for the season for just under a 70.0

LA, SF May Exchange

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Whether San Francisco will support Los Angeles' bid for the 1968 Olympic Games in exchange for support for its bid for the 1964 political conventions may be decided when the board of supervisors next meets.

The Los Angeles board Tuesday voted unanimously to support the San Francisco convention bid in exchange for that city's support of Los Angeles' contest for the Olympics. The Northern California city supervisors were expected to take action on a similar proposal.

Los Angeles was host of the 1960 Democratic convention, and San Francisco entertained the Republicans in 1956.

Los Angeles renewed its bid in the race for the 1968 Olympics after Detroit was given a tentative approval by the U.S. selections committee. It succeeded in reopening the question, but Detroit is hotly contesting Los Angeles' maneuver.
