LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan moved ahead today with his plan to coordinate nuclear defense with the United States after beating down an opposition attack on his record peace-time defense budget.

Macmillan's Conservative party government Tuesday night defeated a Labor party motion of no-confidence in the House of Commons by a vote of 333-237. A separate Conservative motion on the government's policies was carried by 323-237.

The victories were expected, since Macmillan has a 101-member majority in Commons. The reduced margin on the second vote resulted from the early departure of Conservative deputies from the chamber.

Billy Graham Plans To Rest

HONOLULU (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham, who was forced to withdraw from his planned Far East crusade because of illness, plans to spend the next several weeks in seclusion in the Hawaiian Islands.

Graham was released from St. Francis Hospital Tuesday after five days of tests and treatments for inflammation of the large and small intestines.

His physician, Dr. Richard Chang, said the evangelist was under strict orders to rest and continue his convalescence in Hawaii.

MADAME SILVERCRUCY

Sculpture Talk Slated

One of the world's great artists, Madame Suzanne Silvercrucy, will present a fascinating program for the Monday, March 11, meeting of the Klamath Knife and Fork Club.

The dinner at 6:45 p.m. in the Winema Motor Hotel will be followed by her interesting anecdotes about famous people, her philosophy of life, her knowledge of international affairs, her skill in sculpture, and her belief that only through beauty can one find happiness.

She will model a portrait or action figure on the platform as she talks.

She was born in Belgium, the daughter of the late President of the Supreme Court of Belgium and Baroness Silvercrucy, but has been an American citizen for 20 years.

Her lecture has received universal acclaim from coast to coast.

The program, "Self Expression," is definitely on the distinguished side but neither "arty" or "long haired." She is a polished gentlewoman who has not lost the common touch, and she knows well how to handle any audience.

Many tributes have been paid to her work as a sculptor.

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints is another name for the Mormon Church.

Mark Slaps Budget Cut

PORTLAND (UPI) — Gov. Mark Hatfield took roundhouse swipes at the Democratic leadership of the Oregon Legislature in a talk here Tuesday, and accused them of using a "meat cleaver" in chopping his education budgets.

Speaking before the Metropolitan Republican Women's Club, Hatfield invited "disillusioned educators" to support his administration.

He said a "meat cleaver was applied to educational budgets." He also lashed at the majority party for cutting back Civil Defense and for taxation problems.

He called Democratic legislative leaders "soft on defense" because of the ephemerality in the CD program. He also lashed at the opposition position of their national party and the President and said they would be contributing to a "soft America."

Hatfield told the group that the Democratic majority in the legislature "must bear all the failures" of this session of the legislature.

"No amount of double talk about a Republican governor or excuses about a coalition and different types of Democrats can change the responsibility that the majority gives them," he said.

Hatfield said his administration followed Republican philosophy with a progressive program combined with fiscal responsibility.

He said he recommended $90 million in budget cuts to arrive at the $405 million biennium budget he gave the legislature.

"We used a scalpel, not a meat cleaver," he added.

He blamed changes in population, not the administration, for the higher budget. He said an increase in the number of school children was responsible for a $24 million hike in education budgets.

"But the students of the future may be turned away from our institutions because of the actions of the present Democratic leadership," he said.

Ship Plank Identified

MIAMI (UPI) — A shipping firm representative definitely identified a broken plank Monday as part of the name plating of the missing tanker Marine Sulphur Queen.

The Coast Guard said it had abandoned the search for the ship and its 39 crewmen.

The eight-foot plank, broken at the ends and bearing the word fragments "arine sulph," was found Sunday night off Key Biscayne.

A representative of Marine Transport Lines, Inc., owners of the tanker, identified the board Monday as being from the Sulphur Queen, missing since Feb. 3 on a voyage from Beaumont, Tex., to Norfolk, Va. The tanker carried molten sulphur.

No survivors or bodies have been found, although several life jackets marked with the name of the ship have turned up in Florida waters in recent weeks.

Eight Seek School Posts

DUNSMUIR — Dunsmuir has eight candidates for six school board posts in the April 16 school election.

Nominations on record in the Siskiyou County Superintendent of Schools' office on Friday, when filing time closed, show five candidates for the four elementary school posts and three candidates for the two posts on the high school board.

Those filing for elementary school board seats are Mrs. Edmo Loney, Neal Kluckman, and Gerald Spencer, incumbents, and William Ellington and Harry Arnold.

High school board candidates are Arthur Crowe and Herman Gray, incumbents, and Charles E. Ingersoll.

Ribicoff Raps Phony Packages At Hearing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., told Congress today Mrs. Jane Doe buying soap flakes needs the same protection against phony packaging as her husband now gets buying bourbon.

Ribicoff, former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, was the lead witness at reopening of hearings on legislation to outlaw unfair labeling-packaging practices.

He said the pending measure was a "public interest bill in the truest sense."

Ribicoff's view that the time has come for action was backed in prepared testimony by a pharmaceutical official who said the packaging industry had adopted a "sit on their hands" policy.

Lawrence H. Zahn, Summit, N.J., director of purchasing and package development at Ciba Pharmaceutical Co., said the household packaging industry generally had "not yet grown to sophistication" and was not unified for self-policing.

Zahn called the bill being considered by the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee a "livable piece of legislation for the majority of the household consumer commodity producers."

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., presiding at the truth-in-packaging hearings, put the argument on a high plane.

Nazi Faces Murder Trial

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — Reinhold Vorberg, the first ex-Nazi extradited by Spain, arrived here today to stand trial for the alleged mass murder of 100,000 mentally retarded persons during World War II.

In his request for Vorberg's extradition, the West German government accused him of the mass exterminations while helping Adolf Hitler carry out his plan for a "master race."

Vorberg was arrested in Barcelona earlier this year on a request from Bonn.

The former Nazi was taken from Barcelona Prison this morning and driven to the airport, where he was bundled on to the plane for Frankfurt.

Nurse Returns From Workshop

Hildegard Watkins, president District No. 8, Oregon Nurses Association, has returned from Portland after attending a workshop for officers of the district nurses associations.

The workshop conducted by the Oregon Nurses Association focused on improvement of patient care through the organized efforts of members of the profession in nursing.

"Current legislation, Nursing in Disaster, the Code of Ethics for Professional Nurses, and Responsibility of the Profession for the Quality of Practice of Its Members, were among the items under consideration," Mrs. Watkins reported.

The need for recruiting more men and women into the nursing profession and more ways to help nurses meet obligations to the patient and community were also considered.

Dr. G. D. Massey Said Improving

Dr. George DeWoody Massey, well-known Klamath Falls physician, is progressing satisfactorily at Hillsdale Hospital following a heart attack at the family home, Route 1, Old Midland Road on Saturday afternoon, March 2.

According to his doctor he will probably be able to resume his practice in two months.

Civil Defense Employes Resign Jobs

SALEM (UPI) — A demoralized Oregon State Civil Defense organization is beginning to fall apart.

Director Robert Sandstrom revealed that all seven of the agency's clerical employes have given notice, and that the first one leaves her job next Tuesday.

"We also have two vacancies," Sandstrom said, "but I am not filling any vacancies now."

Sandstrom's comments came in the wake of wide-ranging legislative criticism of his agency and threats to cut the CD budget to the bone. The agency was lashed in legislative debate for alleged failures during the 1959 Roseburg explosion and the Columbus Day windstorm last year.

Sandstrom said there is a demoralized feeling throughout all state and local organizations.

Sandstrom said the Cons County CD director called to "find out" how to get rid of Civil Defense property.

"I encouraged him to keep his office open and to keep the program going in spite of lack of leadership shown by the (Ways and Means) subcommittee," Sandstrom said.

The state Civil Defense director, who took over the agency's leadership on Jan. 1, said "never has the legislature shown so much interest in civil defense."

"I'm not being sarcastic. I think it's good that they are interested," he added.

Sandstrom explained "no member of the legislature, with one exception, has been in this state office for years."

The exception, he said, was Sen. Vern Cook, D-Gresham, who visited the office just before opening Senate military affairs hearings on the agency.

"Obviously the legislators are not familiar with our program," he said. "I think they should become familiar with our program, and our problems."

French Coal Rule Defied

PARIS (UPI) — France's 200,000 coal miners defied the government's order that they return to work or go to jail and held out stubbornly today in a crippling nation-wide strike aimed at winning a pay raise to beat the climbing cost of living.

They were joined during the day by an estimated 500,000 workers in other industries in brief sympathy strikes against President Charles de Gaulle's decision to "requisition" the miners unless they returned to the pits promptly at the end of a 48-hour work stoppage called last Saturday.

Miners in the rich Lorraine coalfields of eastern France started the walkout to back demands for an 11 per cent pay boost over an average monthly salary of $142.

The government told them to go back to work promptly or be "requisitioned"—a form of draft with penalties of possible jail terms and loss of job and pension rights.

The government order took effect Monday in Lorraine. Miners in the big Lens and Douai coalfields in the north had a holiday Monday, but the requisition move took effect against them today when they stayed out.

In the Marseilles area and in the coalfields around Grenoble in the south, miners entered the pits but refused for the second day in a row to go to work.

As the requisition order took full effect, the Finance Ministry published the latest cost-of-living index. It showed the figure for January was 113.24, up 8.25 points from last year's average. The index uses July 1957 as the base point of 100.

"We've never used a hard-sell program, and we don't cry wolf to panic people into joining Civil Defense activities."

"Maybe that's been our problem here are to work on plans to save 1,800,000 lives. I think we need a Civil Defense program."
