Alturas Jury Acquits Woman At Death Trial

ALTURAS—The jury deliberated one hour and a half late Wednesday afternoon, March 6, to bring back a verdict of not guilty of murder in the second degree in the case of the County of Modoc versus Frances Forrest Weis, 33.

Mrs. Weis was accused of the murder of her common-law husband, Melvin Eddy Dowdell, 26, on the morning of Nov. 3.

Before a packed courtroom, the case went to trial Feb. 26. After three days taken to select the jury, County Prosecutor Robert Barkley opened the case with the contention that Mrs. Weis willfully killed Dowdell at 1 a.m. on Nov. 3. The defense stated that Mrs. Weis was not guilty on the grounds of self-defense.

In testimony during the trial, Mrs. Weis stated that she and Dowdell had been drinking beer before returning to her home on the XL Indian Reservation, east of Alturas. She said an argument ensued after their return home over her estranged first husband, and Dowdell became abusive and beat her about the head, dragging her from room to room by her hair when she refused to sleep in the bedroom with him.

Dowdell brought a .22 caliber rifle into the living room where she was making up the couch for herself, she testified, and grabbed her again and knocked her to the floor. She stated that she was semi-conscious when she found the rifle on the floor beside her. Raising she found the gun and shot him in the stomach, she continued.

Mrs. Weis' brother, Norman Forrest, whom she called from his home nearby following the shooting, testified that Frances said to Dowdell, "Eddy, I am so sorry, so sorry." Dowdell replied, according to Forrest, "It's all right, Frances, I was hurting you anyway."

Forrest called the sheriff's office, and Deputy Sheriff Lynn Harris had Dowdell taken to the Modoc Medical Center. Dowdell died after emergency surgery performed late Saturday afternoon.

The prosecution based its case on no evidence of physical violence whatever. Sheriff Harris testified that he had seen no particular sign of struggle or fight when he went to the Weis home shortly after 1 a.m., following a call from Norman Forrest. He also stated that Mrs. Weis showed no visible bruises or cuts about the head from the hearing she had allegedly sustained other than bruises on her knees.

The case was heard before Judge Bertram D. Jones of Quincy, Plumas County, after Judge Charles Lederer of Alturas excused himself from the case. Mrs. Weis was given an immediate release from custody after the verdict of not guilty was read at 3:30 p.m.

Crash Hurts Patrolman

TULELAKE — California Highway Patrolman William R. Skelton, 36, is in Klamath Valley Hospital with undetermined injuries, following a two-vehicle collision shortly after 6 p.m. Wednesday on State Highway 139 south of Tulelake.

His condition was reported by hospital officials Thursday at presstime as being satisfactory. X-rays taken immediately following the accident may reveal injury to a jaw and his legs.

At home with minor hurts is the driver of the second vehicle, a pickup, Stephen Stuart Crawford, 29, a Tulelake rancher.

Investigating CHP Virgil Winkelman Jr. said the two cars were traveling north when another driver passed the Crawford pickup loaded with drums of gasoline on a railroad crossing.

Skelton gave chase and as young Crawford approached the driveway to his father's (D. M. Crawford) ranch home, he made a left turn into the path of the officer's patrol car.

The gas tank of the pickup was punctured and flames began to envelope the vehicle when Officer Skelton put the fire out with a hand extinguisher. Neither man was burned.

The patrol car was badly damaged.

Skelton, a highway patrolman in the Tulelake area for seven years, had been effective April 1 recently to Yreka, effective April 1. He was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital by Tulelake ambulance.

Kennedy-De Gaulle Meeting Ruled Out

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle was reported today to have ruled out any idea of a meeting with President Kennedy in the near future.

Responsible French government sources said De Gaulle feels such a meeting would be pointless because American and French thinking on major issues is hopelessly apart.

The sources stressed that the French president has no objection to seeing Kennedy. But they said he saw no reason why they should get together merely to restate positions with which each is familiar.

Aides said De Gaulle is not particularly happy about the present coolness between him and the United States and Britain. But they said he feels that until Washington and London do some pretty drastic "re-thinking" there is not much prospect of improvement in relations.

De Gaulle, French sources said, sees no possibility of a get-together between him and Kennedy until there are major changes in U.S. policy. They said no French policy changes were likely because De Gaulle has already made up his mind on key issues.

The French president was said to feel that the most glaring issues now poisoning U.S.-French relations are the Common Market and the nuclear problem.

French officials said De Gaulle will maintain his veto on Common Market membership for Britain until he is convinced the British have become truly "European" in their thinking.

As for the nuclear issue, aides said, De Gaulle still is upset over the Nassau agreement between Kennedy and Macmillan.

The Nassau agreement provided that the United States would furnish Britain with Polaris missiles to replace the airborne Skybolt program and called for creation of a multinational nuclear force within NATO.

Circuit Court Ceremonies Install Thirteen New Citizens Wednesday

Thirteen natives of foreign lands shed their allegiances to the countries of their births and became United States citizens in a naturalization ceremony before Judge David R. Vandenberg in circuit court, 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Before the ceremony, the petitioners for U.S. citizenship filed into the courtroom and up into the jury box where they awaited the appearance of Judge Vandenberg.

Onlookers filled the court gallery well in advance of the ceremony and at several minutes past 10 o'clock Judge Vandenberg left his chambers and took his place at the bench.

Following some introductory comments, the judge looked toward the aspiring new citizens and remarked, "you will please rise and take the oath of allegiance to the United States."

The 13 people arose, raised their right hands and repeated the oath as recited by County Clerk Charles DeLap. Judge Vandenberg then pronounced, "I hereby declare each of the candidates citizens of the United States."

Judge Vandenberg's declaration opened a 30-minute program in court during which leaders of various local veterans organizations congratulated the petitioners on their newly acquired citizenship.

The jurist delivered the first of several brief addresses with some general remarks on freedom, followed by Rev. Warren Peckman, Hope Lutheran Church, who enlarged upon the subject with his own views of the subject.

"The greatest advantage of becoming a citizen is that each of you has become a free person," the judge remarked extemporaneously.

"All men want freedom, but few realize it in their lifetime. People of the United States have never left the cause of freedom. Some of us may have died for it, but we have never left it," the judge stated.

Reverend Peckman later stated that two of this nation's greatest freedoms include the freedom to pursue knowledge and freedom of religion—"not freedom from religion, as some believe," he said jocularly.

"This nation is only as great as those men who give themselves to great ideas. We must live with a purpose," he continued. "Among such purposes is the idea
