Political Course Set

An introduction to a course in practical politics, sponsored by the Klamath County Young Republicans, is planned for 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 13, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Parsons, 6229 Cherry Way.

The course, composed of eight lessons, the Individual in Politics, Political Party Organization, Political Campaign, Political Clubs, Political Leaders Problems, Political Meetings, and Businessmen in Politics, has been compiled by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. The course has been studied by many groups throughout the United States. Both Democrats and Republicans have praised it highly.

Plans will be made during the meeting for instituting the first voter program.

People living outside Klamath Falls as well as the independent voter will be welcome.

Astoria Seeks Companion City

ASTORIA, Ore. (UPI)—Astoria is seeking a sister city — and believes it has found one.

A formal invitation will be issued to Walldorf, Germany. City Council members said Walldorf was a town of about 8,000 located 25 miles south of Heidelberg.

Walldorf is the birthplace of John Jacob Astor, the merchant who sent the expedition that founded Astoria in 1811.

$15.8 Billion Arms Budget Slated For House Action

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House was prepared today to approve a $15.8 billion military authorization, the largest in the nation's history.

Vinson and most members of his committee want the administration to build two more RS70s, complete with weapons systems, to determine whether it is feasible. However, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara contends the plane would not be worth its cost of up to $10 billion.

Other congressional news:

Nuclear: The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee recalled Dr. Franklin Long, assistant science director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. Long was due for more testimony on whether advances in detection systems warrant the United States demanding only seven on-site inspections in a test ban treaty.

Roosevelt: Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., President Kennedy's nominee to be undersecretary of commerce, faced sharp Republican questioning on his finances and business dealings. Roosevelt, son of the late president, was to testify before the Senate Commerce Committee on his nomination.

Draft: The House, by a 387-3 vote, Monday approved extension of the military draft for another four years. The bill now goes to the Senate for expected approval. It would also continue for four years separate draft authority to encourage doctors and dentists to enter military service. Without

Mona Back In Louvre

PARIS (UPI)—The Mona Lisa was restored to the old familiar wall of the Louvre Museum's River Gallery today after a triumphant three months absence in the United States.

Contrary to expectations, Louvre officials unpacked the 400-year-old Leonardo da Vinci masterpiece immediately on arrival by truck from the Port of Le Havre. The painting was hung on the wall where it has been admired for decades by millions of visitors.

The Louvre was closed to the public as usual on Tuesdays but will reopen at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The Mona Lisa's triumphant goodwill trip to America raised the painting's fame in France to a new peak. It was expected that thousands of Parisians who have never bothered to visit the Mona Lisa all the years she has been in the Louvre will flock to see her during the next few days.

Cancer Society To Meet Here

The March meeting of the Klamath County American Cancer Society will be held 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, in Dr. Sharp's Medical Building, 1435 Esplanade, according to Mrs. John Dickinson, publicity chairman of the local chapter.

All members of the organization are urged to attend the meeting.

Nikita's Kin Sees Chapel

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Nikita Khrushchev's atheist son-in-law visited the Vatican today to see the famedistine chapel amid growing reports that Pope John XXIII last week gave him a sealed envelope for the Soviet premier.

Alexei I. Adzhubei, editor of the Moscow government newspaper Izvestia, went this morning for an hour-long visit to see the famousistine art treasures. Last week he was at the Vatican for an unprecedented 18-minute private meeting with Pope John, the first meeting of his kind ever between a high Soviet Communist and a pope.

Today, a writer for the Milan weekly magazine Tempo said after the private audience he asked Adzhubei if the pope had "charged him with any special step towards Khrushchev."

According to the Tempo writer, Adzhubei said: "I can only say that I received from the hands of the Pope an envelope sealed with many stamps."

The news came after Adzhubei had said at Milan Monday night that he did not see why the Soviet Union should not favorably consider diplomatic relations with the Vatican.

SCD Meet Set

LANGELL VALLEY—The annual Langell Valley Soil Conservation District meeting will be held Friday evening, March 15 following a 6 o'clock potluck dinner in the Lorella Hall.

One supervisor will be elected for a four-year term.

C. W. Wooten, assistant secretary, urges all members to be present.

Woman Killed As Car Flips

TONOPAH, Nev. (UPI)—Mrs. Ella Halik, 78, (1850 S. High St.) Salem, Ore., was killed Monday when the car in which she was riding went out of control during a windstorm and plunged off U.S. Highway 93 three miles south of here.

Highway Patrol Sgt. David Banovich said the victim's husband, Emil, turned the steering wheel sharply when a strong gust of wind caused the car to veer onto the shoulder. The car whipped back across the road and went off on the other side.

Mrs. Halik was thrown from the vehicle when it overturned. Halik was treated for shock at Tonopah Hospital.

Liquor Rule Bill Tabled

SALEM (UPI)—A bill to outlaw liquor in bowling alleys was tabled by the House Alcoholic Control Committee Monday because it went too far.

Liquor commission officials said as a matter of policy they had been denying liquor permits to bowling alleys, and that only 17 alleys with permits now existed.

Objection was raised to the bill because its wording would have eliminated sale of liquor in baseball parks, race tracks, and other areas where the prohibition was not desired.

The committee also decided to hold two other bills to wait for similar Senate bills to arrive in the committee, so the companion measures could be considered together. One dealt with hidden ownership of liquor licenses, the other with clarifying the intent of present laws which outlaw drinking by minors.

Support for the bowling alley bill was voiced by a representative of the WCTU, and a spokesman for the United Church Women.

The bill was designed to prohibit issuing of liquor licenses to bars that had common entrances with bowling alleys, and to outlaw entrances from bowling alleys to bars.

Shaw Gains Doctorate

John Nelson Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Shaw, former residents of Klamath Falls, has completed requirements for his degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Chemistry at Duke University in Durham, N.C.

He is now teaching as an assistant professor at San Francisco State College.

Dr. Shaw graduated from Klamath Union High School in 1955 and received his A.B. in chemistry from the University of Oregon in 1959. While at Duke Dr. Shaw received the Du Pont Award for outstanding work in chemistry.

His parents now reside in Alameda, Calif.

Students Visit Airport Here

The first group of high school students and the first from out of town, visited the Klamath Falls Airport and Kingsley Field March 9 for an orientation tour supervised by Airport Manager Joe Sawyer.

Youth groups who visit the airport are shown the tower, other facilities and are given briefings on the growing importance of air travel and air protection.

From Gilchrist High School were Sandra Bonner, Sue White, Kathy Kaehn, Elizabeth Jones, Linda Toomey, accompanied by Mrs. W. Kaelin as chaperone.

'Nursemaid' For Kennedy Boat Official Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department denied Monday that Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy kept a Coast Guard cutter as a "special nursemaid" for his yachting party while another boat was in distress nearby.

Kennedy's office called the charge leveled by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., a "distorted version of the incident" last Oct. 14 on the Chesapeake Bay.

In a statement, Kennedy's office said the attorney general "took the normal precautions that any boat owner would do and advised the Coast Guard of his proposed course." The statement said Kennedy's only request of the Coast Guard was "that they be able to locate him in the event of an emergency." It said the attorney general had no knowledge of any boat in trouble and found it strange that Williams would put out five months later "this distorted version of the incident."

The incident occurred two weeks after the Oxford, Miss., rioting and the same day President Kennedy first received word of offensive Soviet missiles in Cuba.

Williams said it was "highly improper for the attorney general, even though he is the brother of the President of the United States, to allow the Coast Guard to disregard another boat which was in distress just to trail him around as a special nursemaid."

He urged Kennedy to be "more discreet," especially in view of the fact that taxpayers' money was involved.

Williams quoted a Dec. 14 letter from the Coast Guard commander, Adm. E. J. Roland, who said the cutter assigned to the Kennedy yacht, Honya, went to another boat, Helen R, which had radioed its engine had stalled off Wade Point.

Williams said the cutter's crew discussed the stranded Delaware boatowner's problem with him, then left shortly to return to the Honya, saying they had to stay with the Kennedy party but would "try to send someone else to help."

Roland's letter said another patrol boat towed the Helen R into port less than two hours later. The Delaware boat, he added, was "safely anchored and in no immediate danger" because the weather was clear and the sea calm.

Sunday Closing Ruled Out By Missouri Court

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—With the "blue laws" declared unconstitutional in Missouri, a "show me" Sunday shopper will be able to buy baby bottles — as well as a bottle of beer.

The State Supreme Court ruled at Jefferson City Monday the 137-year-old "blue laws" were so "vague" and "backwoods" as to render themselves incapable of reasonable enforcement.

A traveler in St. Louis complained recently he could buy a bottle of 3.2 beer but he could not get a baby bottle to replace his child's last broken one because such items were not listed as "other articles of immediate necessity."

Plans in the legislature call for the Senate to continue to study blue law proposals, but limiting itself only to a bill which would redefine what could and could not be sold.

For the present, Missouri stands without a Sunday closing statute.

Spokesmen for some discount chains here said they plan to open for business Sunday. It appeared likely that other chain and discount stores would follow suit.

Small Stores To Hurt

One group which will probably be hurt by the court's decision includes the small confectionery and delicatessen owners who did a big business on Sundays when the larger chain stores did not open.

A few short hours after the court's decision was announced, the Senate criminal jurisprudence subcommittee recommended that the state adopt a Sunday closing law comparable to the Pennsylvania statutes.

Pennsylvania law spells out certain items that can or cannot be sold on Sunday.

The ruling involved Fred Harvey Inc., which operates stores at the St. Louis Union Station. The company had drawn up a list of articles it considered essential for sale to travelers and railroad employees.

Language Of Pioneer

Judge C. A. Leedy Jr. pointed out in the unanimous written decision some of the provisions of the statute "are couched in the language of the pioneer, backwoods era during which it was originally enacted." He said a portion of the blue law prohibited the keeping open on Sunday of "any ale or porter house, grocery or tipping shop."

In the open test that tears 'em apart...the Daytona 500

Ford durability conquered the field

Daytona is no "private" test arranged by a manufacturer to favor his car's strong points. It is open competition — anyone can enter — and the one thing that is proved by its searing 500 miles is just exactly how well a car hangs together. At Daytona, Florida, on February 24, five brand-new 1963½ Fords showed the world what durability means by sweeping the first five places. And that has never been equaled in Daytona history!

The box score at the left tells the true story...car endurance that takes brutal punishment and comes back for more.

No proving ground can equal this kind of torture. Daytona was a challenge we welcomed, a chance to prove in open competition the essential durability that makes possible the silence, the solid road-grip, the ease of control, the balanced braking...and all the other things that go into Ford's concept of total performance.

These were the same '63½ Super Torque Fords that made styling history at their preview at Monaco, and which were recently announced at your Ford Dealer's. They're yours now; get behind the wheel and find out for yourself what total performance means!
