MOUNT SHASTA — The newly formed Mount Shasta Garden Club now has a membership of 39 who were present at the second meeting of the group March 4 at the Paul Decker home. Future meetings will be held in the city park armory. Officers for the year include: Mrs. Paul Decker, president; Mrs. A. E. Brewster, vice president; Mrs. George Kerr, secretary, and Mrs. H. R. Williams, treasurer. Following the business meeting, Mrs. Mary Dorlaque instructed members in making artificial flowers. Future meetings will feature instruction in flower arrangement. The next meeting will be April 3, at which time members will make a survey of the park and select a section to be landscaped and beautified by the club as a permanent project.

Rebekahs

MERRILL — Merrill Rebekahs met March 4 with Dorothy Wyatt, noble grand, presiding. The program consisted of the thought for the evening read by Bea Mattson; Leta Stolt reading the "Story of Rebekah," and a skit, "All Aboard," presented by Sylvia Jones and Esther Johnson. Mildred Rexford told of a trip she and her husband had taken last summer with a 100-house trailer caravan through Old Mexico. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Marjorie Newnham and Leona Qualls.
