Christian Church Scene Of Combs-Esgate Vows

In a 7:30 p.m. ceremony the evening of Feb. 23 at the First Christian Church, Judith Carol Esgate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Esgate, became the bride of Donald Lee Combs, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Combs of Redmond.

Baskets of blue and white stock and blue candles formed the altar background for the ceremony performed by the Rev. Robert Johns.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned in lace and chiffon peau de soie, with a fitted, long tapered bodice, long tapered sleeves and Sabrina neckline trimmed in iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt was enhanced with over panels of lace, caught in a festoon effect at the hipline and finished with a peau de soie rose, ending with a chapel train. The silk tulle and lace veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. Her bouquet was of stephanotis and blue and white carnations, carried on her white Bible.

Her only jewelry was a cultured pearl drop necklace given to her by the bridegroom. She carried a white handkerchief from Austria, a gift of her brother, Gary Esgate, who was not present for the wedding. The bride wore the traditional blue garter and in her slipper a sixpence for both her birth year and that of her bridegroom.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Ron Weber, Idaho Falls, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Margie Weiman, Eugene, Phyllis Hawes and Paula Goddard, this city. The honor attendant's dress was of deep blue embroidered crystalline fashioned with circular neckline with V in back and short sleeves. The neckline V and waistline in back were accented with bows. Her headpiece of matching blue was soft petals each accented by a pearl on its tip.

The bridesmaids' frocks and headpieces were fashioned like the matron of honor's in a lighter shade of blue. All carried nosegays of blue and white carnations.

Dennis Sandoz, Madras, was best man and ushers were Lee Allen, Frank Jepsen, Milton-Freewater, and Richard Green, Madras.

Mrs. Esgate chose for her daughter's wedding a beige lace dress with matching accessories and corsage of deep pink rosebuds. Mrs. Combs wore an off-white lace over silk dress with corsage of pink rosebuds.

Before the lighting of the candles by Phyllis Hawes and Paula Goddard, Margie Weiman sang "I Love You Truly," followed by "Because." As the bridal couple knelt at the altar, she sang "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Mrs. Lillie Kendall, who also played traditional wedding marches.

The same decorating theme used in the sanctuary was carried out for the reception in the church parlors. The four-tiered cake, topped by three blue satin bells, was cut and served by Mrs. J. O. Hawes, and Mrs. N. A. Weiman. Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Dale Beber and Mrs. Eugene Shuck poured coffee. Barbara Leech was in charge of the guest book and Nancy Herlinger received gifts.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Henry L. Meuret, Mrs. H. L. Meuret Jr., Debbie and John, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dwiggins, Maureen and Jon, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alley and Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Meuret, all of Madras; Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Lane, Berkeley; Mrs. Dewey Gleim, Walla Walla; Mrs. Mari Sauer, Tygh Valley; Mrs. Clarence Bertrand and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Owen, San Jose; Mr. and Mrs. Harley P. FOR YOUR PROTECTION

Jerry Thomas Answers Your Insurance Questions

QUESTION: A neighbor's oil furnace blew up and saturated their home and furniture with soot and smoke. I understand this damage is covered by the ordinary fire insurance policy and would like to learn if this is correct.

ANSWER: This damage is actually covered by what we call an extended coverage endorsement to a regular fire policy. This coverage is written as a routine matter by most insurance agents these days but you'd better consult a good insurance agent if you're not sure your own fire policy has it.
