POLLY'S POINTERS

Keep Pleats In Place

POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—After washing permanently pleated skirts, gather the pleats together carefully. Slip a clean, old nylon stocking down over the skirt and hang up to dry. The pleats will dry close together and be firm and neat.

DEAR POLLY—Often we girls grab our car keys and dash out with no purse. I find it comforting to know that tucked away in the back of my key case is a dollar for gas, five cents for a parking meter and a dime in case I have to make a phone call.—E.S.

DEAR POLLY—My grandmother, who cannot see very well but dearly loves to sew, was forever losing her scissors and dropping needles and pins. We hit on this idea, which was a boon to the whole family. We bought a yard and a half of narrow ribbon, stitched a pair of scissors to one end. Next we stitched a small pin cushion at the other end with pins and several needles in it. She hangs this around her neck when she sews.—E. R.

GIRLS—I can see all right, but scissors and pins really play hide and seek with me, too.—POLLY.

DEAR POLLY—The ladies who have quilted bedspreads with flounces will find ironing them simple if the flounces are ironed first. Then put the spread on the bed and iron its top with the steam iron. The bed serves as an ironing board, therefore the job is faster and easier.—J.S.

DEAR POLLY—If you or any of the girls have gained a few pounds (as I have) and you wear a girdle with stays, I am sure the stays have jabbed you in the sides many times. Take a piece of moleskin foot plaster and stick a little piece of it at the point where the stay jabs. This will bring enough comfort that you can get by for a while with the same old girdle. Works on strapless bras, too. Don't laugh. Try it first.

When washing shirt collars (and you know how stained they can get) put shampoo on the grease stains. Shampoo is made to dissolve body oils and I find it works wonders on my husband's shirt collars.—MRS. W. E. C.

GIRLS—If any suggestions made by other readers are against your state laws, forget them. For example, where forest fires might be started you would not use the milk carton flares suggested in an earlier column. Nor would one use such a flare (unless set in a tin can or other container) if there was the least bit of wind blowing.—POLLY.

One way to save on stocking bills comes from buying several in the same shade to stretch the pairing possibilities. Now, Insider's newsletter reports that one manufacturer is producing a five-pack. The manufacturers claimed that consumer tests showed customers received longer wear from five of the same than from four pairs of four different brands.

Where Americans Are Gods:

The Strange Story of the Cargo Cults

During World War II, American GIs dropped from the skies into the South Pacific interior jungles with "miraculous" tools and weapons that made them Gods to the natives living there.

Sacred Heart Academy fifth and sixth grade poster winners included David Harlen, first; Barbara Keerin, second; Mary Harrahall, third; Mary Day, honorable mention.

Poster winners in seventh and eighth grades at Sacred Heart were Jeanne Oppelt, first; George McDonald, second; Sandra Jones, third; Cynthia Johnson, honorable mention.

Seventh and eighth grade essay winners at Sacred Heart were Vicki Huettl, first; Pam Ferguson, second; Mary Rice, third; Diane Abts, honorable mention.

Ninth, 10th and 11th grade essay winners include John Otterbein, KUHS, first; Mary Jo Amerling, Sacred Heart, second; Carole Davis, KUHS, third; Mary Hyde, KUHS, honorable mention.

Mrs. E. C. Schweitzer and Mrs. Earl McFall, Tululake, and Mrs. Hugh O'Connor, this city, gave reports on their visit to the Flower Symposium in Berkeley in October. Mrs. Schweitzer also showed slides of the local Christmas Show. Congratulations were extended to Mrs. O'Connor for her article recently published in the National Gardener concerning the club's bird sanctuary project being established in Moore Park.

At the April meeting, Crystel Cheyne will demonstrate pine needle basket weaving. A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested in this project.

GREENSPRINGS GARDEN CLUB

The Greensprings Garden Club met March 7 at the home of Mrs. John Parisotto and roll call was answered by naming a favorite house plant. Mrs. Ray Billings read the poem "Trees."

The group discussed planting their portion of the Nature Trail at Moore Park with native plants.

Mrs. Guy Moore announced the district meeting will be held May 1 in Alturas.

Members voted to give $25 to the hospital fund drive.

Wilbur Riel of the extension office gave a lesson on soil types and problems of this area.

Mrs. Ray Baker won the special prize.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Dale Bleha.

ALTURAS GARDEN CLUB

February was a busy month for the Alturas Garden Club with workshops held in preparation for the February luncheon.

Club members enjoyed a Valentine tea at the home of Mrs. Phil Price at which time L. J. Austin was the speaker on the subject of hotbeds.

Committee chairmen met at the home of Mrs. Robert Schluter to plan further for the luncheon.

The February luncheon and afternoon of cards in Fellowship Hall of the Federated Church was attended by 112 women.

Mrs. Ella Gloster was hostess to the club on March 14.

Merrill Pair Recite Vows

MERRILL — Kay Ann Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Abbott, Merrill, became the bride of Charles Wesley Roller on Feb. 16 at the Merrill Presbyterian Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fred Roller, also of Merrill.

The 7:30 p.m. ceremony was read by the Rev. Lloyd Henderson in the presence of 75 guests.

The bride, wearing a white satin brocade two-piece sheath dress with white fur trim on the elbow length sleeves was escorted to the altar by her father. Her veil was held in place with a small white shell hat. She wore a corsage of red and white carnations.

The altar was decorated with two large beauty baskets of white mums and red carnations. Traditional wedding music was played on the organ by Mrs. Elvin Hess.

Maid of honor was Joyce Harding, who wore a red dress with boat neck and slightly gathered skirt. Her flowers were red and white carnations.

Best man was Bud Maupin and ushers were Ted Roller, brother

Rebekah Lodge

Prosperity Rebekah Lodge No. 104, met in regular session Thursday, March 7 with Noble Grand Charlotte Anderson presiding.

Frances Munsell was presented the seal of perfection by Olive Hanna, district deputy president.

Mrs. Roberta Blomquist presented a program by students from the KUHS drama department. They gave scenes from great plays and several humorous skits. Also a rock and roll band played selections.

Refreshments were served by Pansy and Merle Jackson and committee. St. Patrick decorations were used for the evening.

On March 18 members of the lodge will make an official visit to the Merrill Rebekah Lodge.

GOING, GOING, GONE — Plans for an auction of new and used furnishings and unusual items and services for the benefit of the Intercommunity Hospital fund, were made at a meeting of the Klamath County Medical Auxiliary at a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. George Nicholson. The big sale is dated for April 3, 7:30 p.m., at the armory on Shasta Way. Prospective buyers may go for a preview between 1 and 6 p.m. The recent auxiliary meeting also marked the official visit of two state medical auxiliary officers. Pictured, left to right, are Mrs. Mark Kochevar, auction chairman; Mrs. A. Ivan Thompson, president-elect; Mrs. J. C. Masser, state president-elect; Mrs. Ian Macdonald, state president, and Mrs. George Nicholson, president.

The newlyweds are both graduates of Merrill High School. The bridegroom is employed by the State Agricultural Department at Merrill.

Feb. 13. Hostesses were Mrs. Lee Serence, Mrs. Jim Woodhouse, Mrs. L. D. Daniel, Mrs. Johnny Rodgers, Mrs. Bill Beasley and Rae Peterson.

Mrs. Johnny Rodgers assisted with opening gifts and Mrs. Abbott poured coffee. Mrs. Roller attended the punch bowl and Rae Peterson cut and served the cake. Jeannie Lisk and Dee Wolfram entertained with a baton exhibition.

A bridal shower was held at the Merrill recreation hall on Feb. 13.
