Barkley Jury Fails Verdict On Assault

ANDREW E. BERGLOFF

A. Bergloff Funeral Set On Saturday

Funeral services for Andrew Eric Bergloff, who died March 19, will be held from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Saturday, March 23, at 11 a.m. Officers of the Klamath Falls Oddfellows Lodge will officiate at graveside services in Eternal Hills Memorial Gardens. Ward's Klamath Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Bergloff, 83, has been a resident of Klamath Falls since 1929. He was a native of Franklin, Neb., born June 13, 1879, of parents from Sweden who helped pioneer the West.

He started his career in blacksmithing while living on a homestead on Coeur d'Alene Lake in Idaho. Mr. and Mrs. Bergloff later came to Klamath Falls and he took over the woods backsmithing for the Ewauna Box Co. the year they arrived. Since 1937 they have lived at the family home, 2748 Ward Street.

Mr. Bergloff gave generously of his time and money to help develop Ward Memorial Park in the South Suburban district started by Harry Ward of this city. Mr. Bergloff made much of the playground equipment for children and aided in many other ways.

He was a member of the IOOF Lodge for more than 40 years and the LDS Church. He had been in failing health for the last two years and collapsed at the family home.

Joint Ways, Means Okays OTI Funds

SALEM (UPI)—The Joint Ways and Means Committee today voted to introduce a bill calling for $3.5 million for completion of Oregon Technical Institute's new campus at Klamath Falls.

It also voted in favor of $292,000 for replacement of Campbell Hall at Oregon College of Education in Monmouth, which was severely damaged in the Columbus Day Storm.

After introduction, the bills will be referred back to Ways and Means before any appropriation is made.

The committee approved budgets for seven state agencies. Four are agencies receiving general fund money of $3,668,484. These were trimmed a total of $58,519. They included:

Power Rate Cut Begins

Electric rate reductions totaling one million dollars annually for Pacific Power & Light Company's customers in five southern Oregon counties became effective today.

Residential service meter readers made today and hereafter will reflect savings estimated at $14 annually for the average household use in the area, according to the company's district manager, Sam Ritchey.

The first electric service bills based on the adjustments will begin coming to PP&L's customers in about a week, he reported. The reductions, averaging 5.6 per cent, will mean savings of $334,000 for residential customers and $500,000 for commercial and industrial consumers in Southern Oregon.

Milk Cost Discussed

SALEM (UPI)—The cost of a bottle of milk entered the discussion here Thursday night as the dairy industry continued to debate milk price controls.

Congressman Backs Oregon Civil Defense Program On Visit Home

SALEM (UPI)—Congressman Robert Duncan said today Oregon needs a civil defense program, even though the legislature has a right to demand changes in the present one.

Duncan also said he wants hearings in Oregon before Congress passes any legislation to create an Oregon Dunes National Seashore.

The fourth district Democrat made a brief visit to the legislature during a four-day trip home from Congress.

He said civil defense is as important as arms.

A legislative committee wants to virtually abolish Oregon's CD agency on grounds it has failed to perform when needed or to set up an energetic program.

"It is important for the legislature to see that the job is done, to get value from the money spent," Duncan agreed.

But, he said, civil defense performs necessary services, and "if even one life is saved, it's money well spent."

Importance Noted
Duncan said civil defense is particularly important since the first strike never will come from the United States.

He said doing without a civil defense program is like "airmen who don't want to wear their parachute harnesses because they think they won't need them or there will be time to put them on later."

"I'm not saying we need an office with civil defense written on it, but we need a program," he said.

Duncan said he "hopes" a Dunes National Seashore will be approved this session, but he wants hearings in Oregon first. It might not be possible to arrange those before this summer or fall, he said.

Duncan said he expects to introduce his dunes bill Tuesday. The park he proposes is smaller than that called for by Sen. Maurice Neuberger, who wants to include more private property around Tahkenitch, Silcoos and Woahink lakes east of Highway 101.

"We have reached agreement on just about everything except boundaries...but those differences are rather critical," Duncan said. "Our relationship is cordial, and we are continuing to work in a cooperative spirit."

Duncan said advance indications are that most residents of the Southern Oregon coastal area involved will prefer his bill.

Timber Tax Hike Rapped

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Opposition to a federal proposal which would increase taxes on the timber industry was voiced Thursday by Oregon State Rep. W. O. Kelsay, D-Roseburg.

Kelsay represented Oregon legislators and Gov. Mark Hatfield at an appearance before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Kelsay said the Oregon legislature in 1961 adopted timber tax laws which would "ease the tax burden on the timber industry."

Repeal of existing federal capital gains treatment on timber, he said, would wipe out that 1961 effort to "preserve Oregon's primary source of jobs."

Kelsay delivered a statement for Hatfield which charged the proposed tax change would "scuttle" reforestation, and produce "long range stagnation" of the state's economy.

A New Hampshire fish and game biologist said Thursday that some deer were so weak from lack of food that he overtook five of them on snowshoes.

The mercury barely reached the 30-degree mark in Ohio Thursday as brisk north winds swept cold Canadian air across the lakes.

Pacific rainstorms swept the northwest today with more than a half inch of rain falling on extreme northern California during the night.

Fair Skies, Cold Winds Envelope Most Of U.S.

By United Press International

Fair skies and chilling winds covered most of the nation today on the first full day of spring.

Frost warnings were posted as far south as Florida.

Temperatures dipped below freezing across the plains, through the Mississippi Valley and eastward to the Appalachians.

The first day of spring Thursday was just like any winter day in much of the northeast. A sneaky storm splattered up to six inches of snow in New England and southeastern Massachusetts suffered its worst storm of the season.

Nine inches of snow socked Albany, N.Y., five inches covered roads in southwestern Virginia and as much as one foot of new snow piled up in the West Virginia mountains.

Temperatures dipped below freezing across the plains, through the Mississippi Valley and eastward to the Appalachians.

Two Israeli Spies Sought By Germans

BONN, Germany (UPI)—The West German government has requested the extradition from Switzerland of two alleged Israeli agents wanted in connection with the attempted murder of a German missile scientist in Germany. It was announced today.

The two men are being held by Swiss authorities on charges of threatening the daughter of another German scientist said to be working for the United Arab Republic.

In an official statement announcing the move, the government said it had been unable "to determine with certainty" the validity of Israeli charges that German scientists in the United Arab Republic are working on "attack missiles."

The statement said the government "naturally disapproves" of any such activity. But it said West Germany can do nothing to prevent scientists from traveling wherever they want and doing what they please.

The alleged Israeli agents were arrested by Swiss police last week in Basel. They are Joseph Bengali, an Israeli, and Otto Joklik, an Austrian.

German police suspect the two of having attempted to murder Dr. Hans Leinwächter in Loecherach on Feb. 20.

Israel has charged that German scientists who were top members of the World War II Nazi arms program now are working in the U.A.R. military research section.

U.A.R. Information Minister Abdel Kader Hatem denied charges that German scientists are working on a nuclear bomb for President Gamal Abdel Nasser's government.
