Vows Recited In Portland

A Portland ceremony recently united in marriage Jeanette Baker of that city and Orrin R. Ormsbee, formerly of Klamath Falls, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil C. Ormsbee reside. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lene Baker of Portland.

The wedding, held Feb. 2 at First Methodist Church, was officiated by the Rev. Craig T. Harper.

For the occasion, the bride chose a gown of silk peau de soie highlighted by reemboirered Alencon lace.

Bridesmaids who wore gowns of festive pink peau de soie included the bride's sister, Wilma Baker, maid of honor, and Beverly Ormsbee, the bridegroom's sister. Klamath Falls, Susan Wilson, San Mateo, and Mrs. Arthur E. Lewis, Portland.

Ronald Young of Salem served as best man for the ceremony with ushers Gregory Milnes, Charles Lane and Philip Washburn, all of Salem.

Candlelighters were the bride's cousins, Alan and Brian Baker, Vancouver, Wash.

The newlyweds are both graduates of Willamette University. Mrs. Ormsbee received her BA degree in psychology in January. She is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. The bridegroom was graduated in 1961 and is now completing his third and final year at the Willamette College of Law. He is affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity, Pi Gamma Mu honorary and Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity.

The couple will reside in Salem until completion of the bar examination in July.

Canton Crater

The Ladies Auxiliary Canton Crater No. 7 met in regular session on Thursday, March 14, with Lady Sylvia Jones presiding.

The auxiliary decided to send a check to help with the new elevator at the Odd Fellows Home in Portland. This has been a major project of all branches of the order.

Lady Charlotte Anderson was elected delegate to the state association meeting in The Dalles on May 19 and 20.

April 29 is the date set for the spaghetti dinner and bazaar to be held in the Odd Fellows Hall. Proceeds will benefit the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth Fund, which is sponsored each year by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs with all branches of the order participating. Bernice McCracken, Charlotte Anderson and Helen Blanes are in charge of a cakewalk.

Rummage sale date is set for Sept. 27 at Clyde's Towing Service.

St. Patrick decorations were used for the hall and dining room and an appropriate reading was given by Lady Frances Munsell. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Frances Killian and Edith Ward.

At the last regular meeting, Feb. 28, Lady Mae Anderson gave the history of Oddfellowship and made note of the birthdays of George Washington and Schyler Colfax. The thought for the day was entitled "My Creed."

Bon Voyage wishes were extended to Mrs. Anderson by the auxiliary. She sailed March 8 for Hawaii.

HOUSEWARMING

MOUNT SHASTA — Thirty six friends and relatives gathered March 12 for a surprise housewarming honoring Mrs. Mike Giorgis at her new home on Old McCloud Road. A St. Patrick's Day theme was used to decorate the dining table. A buffet luncheon and a decorated cake added to the festivities. Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Tony Caselli and Mrs. John Colombar of McCloud; Mrs. Jack Glennin, Mrs. Enrico Luperini, Mrs. Robert Cottini and Mrs. Delano Acord of Mount Shasta.

EXCHANGE VOWS — The former Diane Elizabeth Henderson and Gayle Lee Gueck were married in a double ring ceremony Feb. 23 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. They will make their home in this city.

Gueck-Henderson Vows Recited At St. Paul's

St. Paul's Episcopal Church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and lighter white tapers on Feb. 23 when Diane Elizabeth Henderson and Gayle Lee Gueck exchanged wedding vows and rings in a double ring ceremony read by the Rev. Robert L. Greene.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white nylon taffeta and organza styled after the gown worn by Queen Elizabeth II at her wedding. The gown was sent from England by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. J. Henderson of Bristol, who were unable to be present at their daughter's wedding.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Gueck of this city.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Daniel Huebner, this city, with whom she has made her home since her arrival from England. Her princess style gown was enhanced with embroidery on the long sleeved bodice and skirt front. Fullness of the skirt was gathered below a bustle to form a chapel train. A crystal tiara held in place the shoulder illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of garnet roses and white orchids. Diamond studded slippers completed her outfit. A crystal necklace and bracelet were gifts of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Delores Baggett was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Anna Marie Eck and Marlu Costel. They were dressed alike in ruby red velvet sheath dresses with three quarter length sleeves and matching slippers. White head-dresses were fashioned of lilies edged with pearls and brief veils. Each wore a crystal and pearl necklace, gift of the bride, and white gloves. They carried white silk muffs trimmed with garnet roses.

Linda Hanville was the organist and Marsha Goehring, the soloist.

Allen Gueck, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Pete Garske, Jim Lawrie, cousin of the bride, Jay Gueck, the bridegroom's brother.

White chrysanthemums and satin bows marked the pews of the family. Seated for her mother was the bride's aunt, Mrs. Daniel Huebner, who wore a sheath of pale green wool with beige accessories and corsage of green orchids and gold rosebuds.

Mrs. Gueck chose a sheath of blue silk with matching shoes, pink hat and corsage of pink orchids.

The wedding reception was held in the church parlors following the service. Mrs. Irwin Burris, aunt of the bridegroom, cut the cake, which was a lovely four tiered confection flanked by candles and encircled with red roses.

Mrs. Jack Huebner poured punch and Mrs. Robert Friesen coffee. Assisting was Ella Perdue. Mrs. Ogden Knapp attended the guest book.

SOCIETY

By HELEN BECHEN

HONORED GUEST — Mrs. Howell Appling Jr., wife of the Secretary of State, was hostess at a delightfully planned luncheon in her home in Salem, honoring Miss Indian America Ramona Soto, on Tuesday. Places were marked for Miss Soto, her mother, Mrs. Florinda Soto of Klamath Falls, Mrs. Harry Boivin, wife of Senator Boivin, Mrs. Carrol Howe, Mrs. George C. Flitcraft, wives of Klamath County representatives, Mrs. Carl Collins, Salem, and Mrs. A. J. King of Klamath Falls. Ramona and members of her party were present later in the home of Governor and Mrs. Mark O. Hatfield for tea from 2 to 4 p.m. where Ramona and her mother greeted a large number of guests during the afternoon. Those in Salem for Ramona's appearance before the state legislature on Tuesday and Wednesday, including William B. Sweetland Jr., were dinner guests following their arrival Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Boivin, Mr. and Mrs. Howe, and Mr. and Mrs. Flitcraft at the Marion Hotel.

Kidskin, Suede Styles Are Chic

NEW YORK (NEA)—The idea of becoming a slim kidskin skirt topped by a zebra print jacket would be a sobering thought to any goat. But there's nary a lass who will deny that Billy makes a mighty chic suit.

Designers find more ways to use leather and suede each year as improvements in processing, dyes and soil retardants make using them for apparel more practical. Since these scientific and chemical advances have improved wearability and simplified upkeep, suede and leather are no longer in the prohibitive luxury price class.

The colors used this spring are beautiful — white, many pastels, rich browns and black. And there are new combinations of suede with fabric and suede with leather.

The suede shift appears again this spring, but along with the tan hues of last year there are flower tones of primrose pink and larkspur blue.

An inky black cabretta kidskin skirt is combined with a gold suede sleeveless pullover to make a handsome outfit.

The suede spring coat is back, too. One design, in a grayed navy blue, is double-breasted and flared through the skirt, a silhouette favored by the lady who lives on Pennsylvania Avenue. And consider, too, the longevity of leather. These will have the ultimate in good styling and, if carefully chosen, can give many years of pleasure.

After the reception, close friends and relatives of the bride pair went to the Huebner residence on Washburn Way to propose a champagne toast to the newlyweds. There, the new Mrs. Gueck changed to her travel outfit of coffee taffeta dress, with matching accessories and ocelot coat. The wedding supper was held later at Sari's and hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

The couple spent their honeymoon in San Francisco, Carmel and Los Angeles and are now at home at 4383 Bartlett Street. Prior to her marriage, the bride has been employed here as a legal secretary and is leader of the 4-H Junior Horsemasters Club. Her husband is president of the Ridge Riders Club and is associated with his father in Klamath Cattle Sales.

Sojourners

A regular meeting of Sojourners took place March 13 at the Willard Hotel with Mrs. Delbert Blake, Mrs. E. P. Renick and Mrs. Fred Waybright serving as hostesses.

Plans were announced by Mrs. G. L. Crowe, chairman of the spring tea entitled, "April Showers" to be held Saturday, April 6, at the Willard Hotel.

Cards will be played starting at 1 p.m., followed by tea at 2 p.m. A fashion show will be presented at 3 o'clock. Players are asked to bring their own cards. Tickets are 90 cents and may be obtained by calling Mrs. G. L. Crowe, TU 2-0174, or Mrs. Hal Rotrock, TU 2-1918.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. H. H. Ogle, high in bridge, Mrs. Wayne Horton, second in bridge, Mrs. Marden Pilette, high in pinocle, and Mrs. Harold Bruce, second.

The next meeting will be March 27 at the Willard Hotel.

CREATING INTEREST

Coat fabrics create surface interest for spring, with soft mohairs, fluffy wools, lacy tweeds, ottomans, whipcords, dressy ribbed silks and silk-worsted blends. Checks and plaids of every size abound.
