

POLLY'S POINTERS

Baste With Silk Thread

POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — I am sure many sewing enthusiasts have pressed over basting threads with a steam iron only to find that marks were left in the fabric. I always baste with a silk thread which will leave no marks on the material when it is pressed. — F.F.D.

DEAR POLLY — I just read the idea about using sour milk to clean the copper bottoms on pans and intend to use it as soon as I have some sour milk. Go a step further and rub pans with oil such as olive, cooking or mineral oil, after the pans are thoroughly dry. They will not streak and will keep their nice polish. This is especially good if they are hung for decoration. Pans even look nicer after using over heat. — MRS. F.W.

When stainless steel cooking utensils have been discolored from heat clean them with steel wool, dipped in lemon juice. — MRS. W.H.W.

DEAR POLLY — When hemming a new dress, put it on a wire conthanger and then put another dress that is just the right length for you over the new dress. Adjust the shoulders evenly and use clip clothespins to keep the dress from moving. Hang up the dress and sit down to baste or pin up the hem of your new dress. — MRS. W.R.

DEAR POLLY — If you ever have to handage a small child's elbow, take an old sock that has been outgrown (preferably a

Mrs. R. J. Brinegar, club president, and sale chairman, requests the cooperation of members and their friends in collecting sale items for this event, proceeds of which will go toward scholarships.

Persons having rummage are asked to take it to Clyde's on Wednesday evening, April 3, or for pickup contact Mrs. Brinegar at TU 4-7367 or Mrs. Ford Kimpston, TU 2-1780.

The sale will start at 8:30 a.m. both mornings.

CLUB SPEAKER

MOUNT SHASTA — John S. Scroggins, College of the Siskiyous, spoke on communism at the March 29 meeting of the Mount Shasta Sororist Club. Other guests were Mrs. Martin Cooper, Mrs. Joyce Higley, Mrs. Ida Amburn and Merriam Amburn.

Toastmistress Club Meeting

MOUNT SHASTA — Toastmistress Club of Mount Shasta met March 29 for a social and business meeting. Mrs. Evelyn Doak was toastmistress for the evening. Speakers were Mrs. Edna Maxwell on "Expressions and Words," Mrs. Marian Tassie with the ice-breaker speech, and an impromptu speech, "I Enjoy Meeting the Public," was rendered by Mrs. Florence Meline of Weed. Mrs. Imadene Hill was chosen best evaluator.

Mrs. Esther Foulke of Gazelle won the cup and best topics with her talk on "Spring Roundup." Mrs. Foulke was charmingly dressed in an all pink cowgirl outfit which tied in with her speech when she explained the cowboy-cowgirl clothes' practicality — that they were not all for "show." She is president of California Cow Belles.
