

Mel Renfro Has High Track Goals To Meet

PAGE 2-B HERALD AND NEWS, Klamath Falls, Ore.

DOWN BUT NOT OUT—Larry Elliot of the Pittsburgh Pirates is safe at home on a single to left at Al Lopez Field in Tampa, Fla., after bowling over the Cincinnati Reds' Larry Himes, who still clutches the baseball in his right hand. The umpire is Lee Weyer.

Heads Oregon's Defending Ducks

PORTLAND (UPI) — Mel Renfro, a football All-American with a knack for hurdling and broad jumping, has a couple of goals this spring which could result in a second straight NCAA track title for Oregon.

The goals? 13.5 seconds in the 120-yard high hurdles and more than 26 feet in the broad jump.

"I think I can reach them," said Marvelous Mel, a junior who contributed 14 points last year as the Ducks captured their first collegiate cinder championship. "At least, that's what I'm striving for."

Weather Hampers, Says Boss

EUGENE (UPI)—Oregon track Coach Bill Bowerman said today that the state's poor weather this spring could prove a big factor when the Ducks meet powerful Southern California here Saturday.

"The Trojans are an outstanding track team and they've had several meets to get ready for us while we've had just one formal meet," he said.

"I think we're a pretty good team, too, but we haven't had the opportunity to prove it. The weather has been a distinct handicap."

The Far West Relays here were canceled because of heavy rain last weekend.

Bowerman said the 120-yard high hurdles will be one of the key events. Oregon's Mel Renfro is to meet Southern California's Brian Polkinghorne and Bob Pierce.

"Renfro's carrying a few extra pounds at present," said Bowerman. "And, remember, he did his best work at the end of last season. But Mel's a fighter."

The Oregon coach also singled out the mile run as a top event. It matches Keith Forman, Archie San Romani and Vic Reeve of the Ducks against the Trojans' Julio Marin.

Oregon, defending NCAA champion, defeated Southern California 75-56 at Los Angeles last year to snap a long Trojan dual meet string.

Despite Renfro's presence, Bowerman's team figures to have a tough time defending its title at Albuquerque. Lost to graduation were miler Daryl Burleson and Tarr and out with an injury is sprinter Harry Jerome, who contributed 48 of the Ducks' 85 points in the NCAA meet.

Linfield Beats OSU In Pair

McMINNVILLE (UPI) — Linfield's Wildcats, getting outstanding pitching performances from Ed Cecil and Tom Younker, opened their baseball season with surprising 1-0 and 4-3 wins over Oregon State Monday.

Cecil pitched a three-hitter to outduel Cecil Ira in the nine-inning first game and Younker hurled a two-hitter in the seven-inning second contest. Denny Straub was the second losing pitcher.

Linfield won the opener on a double by John Lee and a two-out single by Dave Spire in the ninth inning. The Wildcats captured the nightcap when Kevin Dempsey's outfield fly brought in Val Barnes from third base in the final inning.

OLDEST RIVALRY RESUMES

CHICAGO (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals will return to Chicago for the first time since they moved in 1960 when they play the Bears in professional football's oldest rivalry at Soldier Field Aug. 31 in an armed forces benefit game. The Bears hold a 45-19-6 edge over their former city opponents.

Seals' Hockey Team Ready For Jump To Big Leagues

By HAL WOOD, UPI Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — It took 20 years of clamoring to get San Francisco into major league baseball—and eliminate the old Seals from the Pacific Coast League.

But after two years in business, the San Francisco Seals hockey club is about ready—at least attendance-wise—for the big jump into the National Hockey League.

"Sure we're ready for the National League as far as attendance is concerned," says young Max Hall, son of owner Coley Hall, the man who gambled a quarter of a million dollars that hockey would succeed in San Francisco. "But we're not ready as a team for National League competition."

The Seals go into the second game of their scheduled three-game play-off series at the Cow Palace Wednesday night.

Draft Suggested

"And we expect a crowd of better than 12,000 for that one," says Max Hall. "We averaged better than 7,000 fans a game for the 35 home tilts we played this year."

That sounds pretty good for a team that averaged less than 4,000 its first year of competition. However, it doesn't compare with the National League, where they had 97 per cent seat occupancy this season. The Seals' home attendance was about 70 per cent, which isn't bad—but not good, either, compared with the majors.

Wendell Cox Going To USC

HILLSBORO (UPI) — Wendell Cox, regarded as Oregon's best high school middle distance runner, announced Monday he will enroll at the University of Southern California next fall.

Cox, a senior at Hillsboro High School, is the state cross-country champion. He has a best time of 4:17.6 in the mile and 1:55.0 in the half mile.

Seals' Hockey Team Ready For Jump To Big Leagues

Maris Hurt, Might Miss Opener

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI) — Slugger Roger Maris probably has played his last exhibition game for the New York Yankees this spring and remains a doubtful starter for the season opener, April 9, because of a severely pulled leg muscle.

Maris joined the growing Yankee injury list Monday after making a spectacular catch in an exhibition game against the Detroit Tigers.

"It's a day to day proposition on how long he'll be out," said Yankee trainer Joe Soares. "But I can't see him playing by opening day."

The Yankees also are concerned over lefthander Whitey Ford's ailing shoulder. Shortstop Tony Kubek and outfielder Tom Tresh are sidelined with less serious ailments while Mickey Mantle, Bobby Richardson and Cletis Boyer recently recovered from injuries.

Maris, who homered in the top of the fourth inning Monday, fell heavily to the ground after making a diving catch of a line drive by Dick McAuliffe later in the inning. Maris relayed the ball to second baseman Richardson to double up Al Kaline and then limped off the field.

Soares diagnosed Maris' injury as a "severe pulled hamstring muscle" in his left thigh.
