

CAR HOPS—Kay Hunter keeps time as students of the University of Florida at Gainesville take part in an unusual race. The boys carried a 1,365-pound car with a girl perched in the front seat down a football field.

SCHOOL SOON—Shoe shine boys like these fellows in Algiers will be going out of business. The Algerian youngsters will be ordered back to school for technical studies.

MAKES HISTORY—Airman 2/C Margaret Ward, 19, smiles at McGuire Air Force Base, N. J., after becoming the first female member of the Air Force to travel at twice the speed of sound.

GOING STRONG—Still showing he has what it takes, Maurice Chevalier eases into a song during a recording session in New York. The vigorous 75-year-old performer made an album for his new movie, "A New Kind of Love."

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

FAMILY AFFAIR—Anthony Holland, Ruth Gordon and Walter Matthau (son, mother and father) in a scene from "My Mother, My Father and Me," a new comedy which hopes to make a hit on New York's Broadway.

TO VISIT U. S. A.—King Hassan II, shown in the throne room in Rabat, Morocco, is scheduled to visit the U. S. from March 26 to April 10. His itinerary will include New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago and Detroit.

THERE'S HOPE—The hospital ship Hope is greeted in New York after a 10-month voyage to Peru. The ship is used by the People-to-People Health Foundation, Inc.

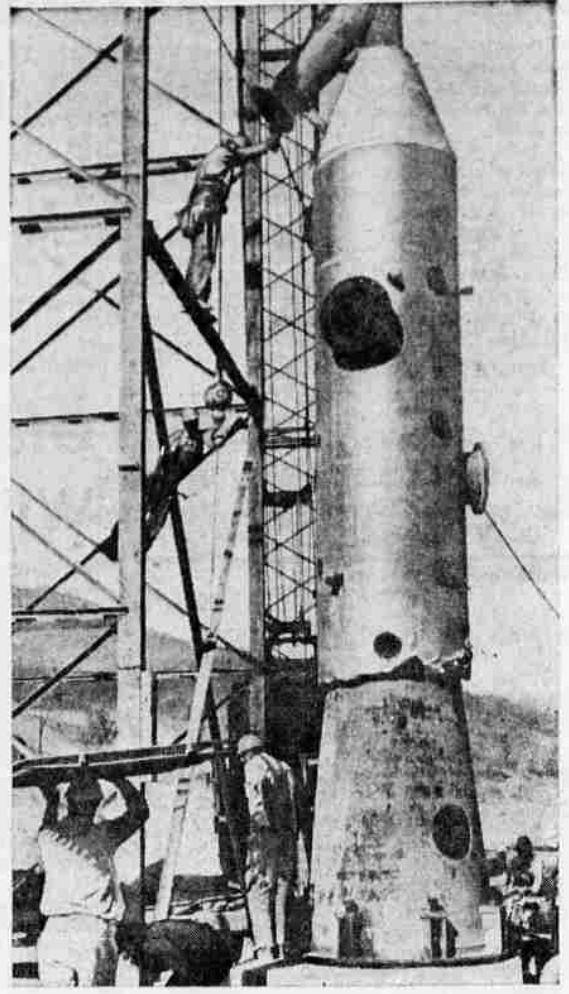

FLAG FOR FOLKLORE—Women put the finishing touches on a flag made by a Munich, Germany, embroiderer for a Bavarian folklore group in Washington, D. C. The flag shows Bavarians dressed in costumes dancing in front of the U. S. Capitol.

SPRING SNIFFER—Meryl Goldfarb, 2½, of New York City wears warm clothes as she sniffs one of the neighborhood's first rhododendron buds... a sure sign of spring.

SPRING—A costume for spring from designer Mamselle is shown in Lisbon, Portugal. Bright yellow chiffon wool coat tops striped chiffon blouse and a matching solid color skirt.

KEEP COOL—No, it's not a missile, but a cooling unit of the concrete batch plant now being built at the site of the Oroville (Calif.) Dam, a key unit of the State Water Plan. The dam will stand 735 feet high when completed.

GOING INTO FLICKERS—Italian film producer Dino De Laurentiis kisses the hand of the former Empress of Iran, Princess Soraya, in Rome, where it was announced she will begin a film career. She said she had wanted to be a movie queen "since I was a little girl."

SMILING SUCCESS—In her dressing room, a smiling Geraldine Page projects her pleasure in the sweetness of success in New York. The star of the Eugene O'Neill play, "Strange Interlude," has been nominated for an Oscar as the best actress for her performance in the movie, "Sweet Bird of Youth."