The Oregon Tech Owls, seeking revenge of a doubleheader loss in Ashland, will host the powerful Southern Oregon Red Raiders nine today at 3:30 p.m. at Gem Stadium in an Oregon Collegiate Conference game.

M. Smith Topples Wright

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — You had to have a scorecard to pick out the winner of the 24th women's Titleholders championship Monday.

When the cheers died down, winner and new champion Marilyn Smith was wracked with sobs and the loser, defending champion Mickey Wright had a big grin.

Moments before, Marilyn, an attractive 36-year-old blonde from Tequesta, Fla., just outside West Palm Beach, had climaxed a dramatic come-from-behind drive to beat Mickey in a playoff by one stroke, 72-73.

The tears were from joy and tension. Just 24 hours earlier, Marilyn, who had never won one of the "major" tournaments in 13 years as a professional, had thrown away a seemingly safe lead and ended the regulation 72 holes of the Titleholders in a 292 tie with Mickey.

Predict Defeat For Marilyn — Just about everyone thought Monday's 18-hole playoff would be anti-climatic; that Mickey, long-hitting 28-year-old Texan from Dallas, would overpower Marilyn just as she had done Ruth Jessen in a similar Titleholders playoff last year.

At the end of the first 12 holes, it appeared that the prediction was correct. Miss Wright was 2 under par, three strokes ahead and going strong.

But No. 14 lay ahead and that's a hole that both contestants in Monday's match probably will long remember. No. 24 is a par-3, 135-yarder. Miss Smith fell a foot short of putting for a birdie. But, Mickey needed three shots to get on the green and then two-putted for a double bogey that cut her lead to one stroke.

Marilyn caught up on No. 6, thanks to a shot which she insisted "gave me my biggest thrill of my golfing life." No. 16 is a par-4, 349-yarder and Miss Smith's second shot landed one foot from the pin.

Go Into 18 Even — The Misses Smith and Wright into No. 18 all even with par and each other. Mickey's second shot hit a slope on the left of the green and bounded almost to the No. 1 tee. The defending champ made a great recovery shot but rimmed to an inch away on her 112-foot putt.

Thus the greatest drama in the long history of the Titleholders was set. Miss Smith needed to sink a six-foot putt or else the playoff would go into sudden-death overtime.

Marilyn sank that putt and fell to her knees. Then, as the crowd broke into cheers, Miss Smith burst into tears and Miss Wright rushed up, put her arms around her and led her off the green.

For her first Titleholders victory, Miss Smith got $1,300 and a green coat — symbol of the Titleholders' champion. Miss Wright, who already had two green coats but who was hoping to win three straight, settled for $1,000 runner-up money.

Pel Booster Club Meets

The Pelican Booster Club will meet Wednesday night at the Bruler Restaurant at 6:30 for its weekly meeting.

The coaches of the various spring sports will give reports on the teams and the future games. Members of the club are urged to attend if possible to raise the attendance at the weekly meetings.

Willamette, PU Win Loop Games

By United Press International — Willamette and Pacific scored wins in Northwest Conference baseball games Monday.

Willamette walloped College of Idaho 8-1 at Caldwell to run its conference record to 4-1 and Pacific edged Whitman 10-9 at Walla Walla.

Linfield leads the league with a 5-1 mark. Jim Booth, Don Stout and Jim Burnett each collected two hits for Willamette. For Pacific, Al Uyematsu had three hits and Jerry Krasberger got two.

Stadium in an Oregon Collegiate Conference game.

The Owls dropped a doubleheader to the Red Raiders last week, 12-3 and 10-3 in Ashland and hope to improve upon that before the home crowd. The Owls are expected to have more backing at the game today.

The charges of Coach Jim Partlow will have their hands full of the Raiders and Dave Hughes. They will have to play their best game to date to down the Red Raiders.

The Red Raiders, however, have also had their troubles of late. They lost to Portland State last weekend in a surprise despite the one-hit pitching performance of Dave Hughes. He did a great job but there were several errors and passed balls by his teammates.

Hughes has been giving the Owls fits for years now in football, basketball and baseball. Coach Ted Schopf says the Raider star is at his best in a baseball uniform despite his prowess in football and basketball.

He probably will hurt today and will face the offerings of right-hander Jim Keller of Oregon Tech. Keller is one of the top unbeatens hurlers in Oregon Collegiate Conference action with a 2-0 record. He has had a sore arm lately, as most of the hurlers, and might need relief help.

John Crumrine will be behind the plate, Ed Appleman at first, Bob Yunk at second, Curt Graf at shortstop, Marv Edwards at third base, Dave Ferris in left field, Don Gredsel in center and Dennis Coleman in right.

Graf is the leading hitter on the team. Gredsel could possibly see some mound action today. He relieved in the College of Siskiyous game last week and a d looked good in his brief stint.

In addition to Hughes, the Raiders will have some hitting power in Joe Funderburg, Bill Bayley, Paul Binka, Don Jarquette, Mike McKibben, and Damien Rossetto.

Dupas Grabs Title From Denny Moyer On Split Decision

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Ralph Dupas climaxed 13 years of fighting and two unsuccessful title bids Monday night, beating Denny Moyer for the junior middleweight boxing championship.

The 27-year-old Dupas showed his appreciation by kneeling in the ring and praying after the split decision was announced.

A crowd of 5,028 paid $29,112.50 to see the championship bout, the second title match to be fought in New Orleans in 46 years.

"I knew it was now or never," Dupas said after the fight. "After two previous losses in championship matches, a third defeat would have been like a third strike in baseball."

Particularly gratifying to Dupas was the fact that he was able to sew up the crown in his hometown, where he began fighting as a 14-year-old Golden Glover in 1950.

It was the 99th professional victory for Dupas, compared with 18 defeats and six draws. Moyer entered the match with 35-1 record.

Dupas previously lost title matches to lightweight Joe Brown and welterweight Emile Griffith. Moyer had defended his title once, defeating Stan Harrington earlier this year in Honolulu.

Although the fight contract contained no provision for a return match, Moyer said he understood Dupas had agreed to give him a rematch if he won. Moyer was guaranteed either 35 per cent of the gate, or $7,500, and Dupas was guaranteed 20 per cent.

Moyer outweighted Dupas 154 to 151.

Heyman Expected To Be First Cage Draft Choice

NEW YORK (UPI) — All-American Art Heyman of Duke is expected to return to New York as a pro today when the National Basketball Association holds its annual college draft.

KBAA Meet Set Thursday

The Klamath Basin Athletic Association will hold its first public meeting Thursday night in the Blue Room of the Wilma Hotel. A special meeting for area coaches will be held at 7 o'clock and the general public meeting will begin at 8 p.m. Coffee will be served. It is a non-dinner meeting.

The KBAA, formed a few weeks ago by interested persons for youth of the city and betterment of athletics, is open to all comers and a membership drive will be a part of the meeting Thursday.

The meeting is being held to discuss with the public, the purpose of the organization and to get a membership drive underway. The club primarily is interested in the sport of track and field right now because it is the sport in season and will be carried through the summer. But it is not the only activity which the club will undertake.

Coaches of the area, including all grade school and elementary coaches are urged to attend the 7 p.m. meeting. This includes all the schools in the county, high school, elementary on down.

Balks Hand Mets Win Over Dodger Nine, 4-2

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

Who says they've eased the balk rule?

National League President Warren Giles tried, but apparently he didn't get through to his umpires.

They set a National League record Monday night by calling the 77th and 78th balks of the season and also set Casey Stengel to doing cartwheels because one of these balks gave the New York Mets a 4-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Dodger reliever Ed Roebuck balked home the winning run during a three-run rally in the seventh inning after winner Roger Craig had crased the old mark of 76 in a single season by talking home a run in the second inning.

"I thought they had eased the rule," said a dejected Roebuck after the game. "I still don't know what the interpretation is."

Craig Perplexed Too — Craig, who beat his former teammates for the first time, was perplexed too, although happier than Roebuck because he won. "I didn't think I balked," said the Met right-hander. "I was sure I stopped before I delivered the ball. But the umpire (Al Barlick) said I didn't."

Dodger Manager Walt Alton said both Roebuck and Craig had balked.

"Neither of them stopped," he said. "Even under the revised interpretation of the rule, both were guilty of balks."

According to Giles' newest directive, pitchers still are required to come to a stop in their delivery when there is a runner on base, but they needn't stop "at least one second" as was the case previously.

Stengel, against the rule from the start, said he understood it perfectly. "But go explain it to my pitchers."

Anyway, Roebuck's seventh inning balk allowed Charley Neal to trot home with the winning run from third and ended the Mets' three-game losing streak.

Rookie Starts Rally — Rookie Ed Kranepool started the winning rally with a double to open the seventh and after Neal bunted safely, loser Bob Miller uncorked a wild pitch that tied the score. Neal advanced to third on Al Moran's single and came home after Roebuck relieved Miller and committed a balk.

The San Francisco Giants snapped a three-game losing streak with a 4-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies in the only other NL game played. Rain washed out scheduled games between the Houston Colts and Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds.

In the American League, the Washington Senators beat the Los Angeles Angels, 9-3, in the first game of a twin-night but lost the second game, 13-8.

The only other scheduled games between the Chicago White Sox and New York Yankees, and Baltimore Orioles and Minnesota Twins were rained out.

Mays Belts 10th Triple — Willie Mays belted the 10th triple of his career in the third inning and came home with the winning run on Orlando Cepeda's single off loser Cal McLish. Former Oriole Jack Fisher was nicked for 10 hits by the Phillies, who dropped their third straight, but went the distance for his first NL victory.

Chuck Hinton drove in three runs with a homer and a single to pace the Senators to their victory in the opener over the Angels. Bob Turley suffered his third straight loss for Los Angeles, although a two-base throwing error by reliever Julio Navarro opened the gates for a four-run Washington rally in the fifth. Don Rudolph hurled an eight-hitter for his first victory.

The Angels came from behind with six runs in the seventh inning to salvage the nightcap. Albie Pearson collected three hits to pace the winner's 14-hit attack. Mel Nelson was the winning pitcher and Jim Hannan the loser.

Track Team Ready For Warmup Meet

The Oregon Tech track team, six strong, will make their home debut today at the Mile High track when they host the Southwestern Oregon College team in a dual meet at 3 p.m.

This will be only the second meet of the season for the inexperienced but rapidly improving Owls. Coach Larry Burleson's charges have been in only one scheduled meet and they won it. The Owls beat Bend's Central Oregon College, Southwestern and a couple of other schools in an invitational a couple of weeks ago in Bend.

This will be the first home meet for the Owls with the exception of the Oregon Tech Open Decathlon which was held last weekend.

Coach Burleson's six members are Ed Cecil, John Marichek, Bob Bryant, Norm Johns, Wayne Dennis and Bob Chard. Dennis pulled a muscle in his leg in the first event of the decathlon and might not be able to compete in today's meet.

Cecil was the outstanding athlete at the last meet and proved his versatility over the weekend by winning the decathlon with 4,307 points. He will compete in the 100-yard dash, 220, 330, shot put, discus and javelin today, probably. Marichek will run the dashes also, broad jump and possibly run the middle distances.

Chard will throw the shot, javelin and discus. Bob Bryant, who finished second in the decathlon, will high jump, broad jump, run the mile, 880 and maybe the short hurdles.

Johns is one of the best discus throwers in the region and will be favored to win that event. He may also run the hurdles and high jump. Southwestern is reported to have a top hurdler and a special event is set up today to have Willie Anderson, running under the colors of the Klamath Basin Athletic Association, run the 330-yard intermediate hurdles against the Southwestern star.

The Owl track team also has a big meet scheduled Friday in Monmouth against the Oregon College of Education Wolves and the Linfield Wildcats. This triangular meet could determine just how much power the small Owls have.

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI) — The program is crowded but the gold medal yield will be light today in the Pan-American Games as the United States, which is making a shambles of this year's competition, continues its march toward a record 121 victories.

Four years ago in Chicago the United States won 129 gold medals and with a bulk of the events still to be decided in this year's competition, the Yanks already have grabbed 64 first places.

The boxing competition, in which the United States is expected to win most of the gold medals, gets underway with qualifying bouts tonight. Some of the finals will be held on Wednesday and the remainder on Friday.

One Track Final
Track and field, fencing, yachting and modern pentathlon dominate today's program. Only one final is on tap in track and field — the 3,000 meter steeplechase — and the United States is not expected to grab the gold medal in this event because of illness to George Young of Las Cruces, N.M.

However, the Yanks are very much in the running in fencing, yachting and the pentathlon, much to their own surprise. The United States leads in two of the five yachting classes — star and lightening — Robert Beck of Boston, Mass., and Richard Stoll of Lacrosse, Wis., are running one-two in the pentathlon, and the Yank fencing team has better than a 50-50 chance of qualifying for the epee final.

In addition, the U.S. meets Brazil in baseball with an outside chance of taking the gold medal in the event Cuba, which leads in the round-robin, falters. The Cubans play Mexico today.

In the windup event tonight, the U.S. men's basketball team plays Uruguay and is heavily favored to continue on the road to a gold medal in this competition.

Outlook Is Rosy
All in all, the outlook is rosy for another large harvest of gold medals later this week, which might enable the Yanks to top that 129 gold medal grab four years ago.

The United States added two gold medals in Monday's abbreviated program when Gary Anderson of Astell, Neb., led the way in rifle shooting.

Anderson, a Hastings College student and a sergeant in the Army Reserve, blasted the target for 1,146 points to take the individual gold medal in the event and when teammate Verle Wright, an Army captain from Ft. Benning, Ga., scored 1,135 points, the United States also took the team gold medal. John Bertva of Sturgis, Mich., and William Krilling of Buffalo Lake, Mich., were the other members of the winning U.S. rifle team.

INJURED ANKLE
DETROIT (UPI) — First baseman Norm Cash will be out of the Detroit Tiger lineup for several days because of an ankle injury.

Cash was sent to Detroit Osteopathic Hospital for treatment to prevent infection from spreading. He was hit on the ankle by a foul tip in New York 10 days ago and aggravated the injury Saturday.

Kentucky's major sports contracts—football and basketball—run through 1969 with several SEC members from the Deep South.

The board did not elaborate on its reasons for wanting Dickey to confer with officials of the other SEC schools.

The statement was interpreted here as meaning that Kentucky can be expected to recruit, or at least accept, Negro athletes on some gradual "phasing" basis.

This could mean that Negroes might first play in minor sports, in which the university has no present contractual or scheduling obligations with SEC schools opposed to, or unable by custom or legislative specification, to play against racially integrated teams.
