New Zealand Nuptial Site

LAKEVIEW — Danny George Heavilin, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Heavilin, has returned to Lakeview to make his home, bringing with him his bride, the former Patricia Mary Ewing Graham of Dunedin, New Zealand. She is the daughter of Mrs. J. M. Graham and the late J. M. Graham of that city.

The couple was recently married at the Hanover Street Baptist Church, Dunedin, with the Rev. E. W. Batts officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Lyndon Graham. Her full length gown of cream lurex threaded satin was styled on classical lines with the heavily pleated skirt extending into a chapel train. A circlet of pearl orange blossoms held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of pale gold carnations and cream roses.

Her bridesmaid, Janice Graham, and junior bridesmaids, Pamela Morrison and Linda Jordan, wore full length frocks of chutney satin. Circlets of matching roses fastened with satin bows were worn in their hair and they carried bouquets of apricot carnations and cream roses.

Best man was Graeme Batts and ushers were Ewan Beck and L. Jane.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sizemore were seated for the bridegroom's parents, who were unable to attend the ceremony. Mrs. Graham wore for her daughter's wedding, a coffee frost lace ensemble with squirrel trim and matching accessories. Mrs. Sizemore chose a gold dress, squirrel cape and white hat.

After the wedding guests were received at the La Scala for the reception.

For traveling, the bride wore a gold lame knit suit. The couple spent their honeymoon touring New Zealand before leaving for the United States on the ship Oriana. They stopped at Fiji Islands, Hawaii, Vancouver, B.C., and San Francisco en route to Lakeview.
