The one who can go the longest without laughing is the winner, and the loser chooses someone else to take his place.

Make a Feather Mobile

By Garna Silke

Here's a way of using the bird feathers you find on the ground when the different flocks of birds fly north for the summer and south for the winter. Make a ball of plastilene or buy a ball of styrofoam at the variety store. Thread a small bolt to the end of a piece of string, then run the needle and string through the ball and attach the other end with a piece of tape to the ceiling light fixture in your room or the side of an open doorway, where it won't hit anyone. Then as you find the various feathers, stick them in the ball, and you will soon have a beautiful and colorful mobile.
