day at noon. There will be open house in the instructional areas and residence halls on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. The big events on Saturday will begin with a barbecue at noon. At an afternoon assembly in the campus theater Dr. Purvine will address the parents, the OTI band will perform, and the 1963-64 student body officers will be installed. The always festive spring formal dance will be held in the gym Saturday night. The seven-piece Dance Master Band will furnish the music. If the occasion follows the precedent of previous years, it will be one of the gayest events of the year. The public is invited to the semi-formal dance.

The old and new associated student body officers spent Friday evening and Saturday at the lodge at Rocky Point at a planning conference. Budgets, revision of the constitution, parliamentary procedure practices, and a preview of next year's activities were on the agenda. Jack Churchill, dean of student personnel services, and Carol Foster, dean of women, accompanied the group.

Members of the graduating class in electronics have scheduled a banquet in the cafeteria on Friday evening, May 17. The students, with their wives or dates, and the staff, with their wives, will have as guest speaker Claude Haggard, safety director for the Copco Division of Pacific Power and Light Company.

Professor George Miller, acting head of the allied arts and science division, received a Kellogg Foundation grant to attend a three-week session on junior college administration at the University of California this summer. The program is part of a two-summer series, the first of which he attended in 1962.

Admissions Counselors Gene Larson and Don Theriault have been hosting groups of high school seniors who have come from all parts of the state and from neighboring states to view Oregon Tech's programs. According to the counselors, 14 students have already scheduled visits for this week from Corvallis, Myrtle Creek, Corvallis, Woodburn and Klamath Falls in Oregon as well as from Mount Shasta, Calif., and Longview, Wash. The visits began in January.

With less than one month before commencement, the tempo of graduation planning is rapidly increasing. The Faculty Wives Graduation Reception Committee met at the home of Chairman Yvonne Parlow on Thursday. Subcommittee heads for the affair are Diane Lyon, food; Joyce Blake, dishes; Barbara Pfeister, serving; Sherry Paris, decorations; Ginger Morris, cleanup; Jane Crowe, guest book, and Wanda Burleson, publicity. The reception will be for graduates, parents and guests following the commencement ceremonies.

AUTOMATED PROBLEMS
HADDONFIELD, N.J. (UPI) — This community needed state intervention Thursday to solve a machine age problem.

It bought a sidewalk cleaning machine recently but found it couldn't operate it because of a law preventing motor vehicles on sidewalks.

Thursday, Gov. Richard J. Hughes signed legislation permitting such devices to operate on municipal sidewalks.

MRS. JOHN GINTHER, Klamath Falls; Mrs. Nellie Gintner, Mrs. Jim Roper, and Mrs. Jim Elder were guests at a meeting of the Home Economics Club at the home of Mrs. Robert Elder, on April 24. Ardis Markus gave an embroidery demonstration with paints. Films on the Bishop method of sewing will be shown at the May meeting at the home of Beatrice Harvey.
