

Koufax Exposes Myth With Win; Red Sox Cop Pair From LA

Braves' Hurler Comes Near No-Hit Game Against Cards

By United Press International

Sandy Koufax exposed one of baseball's oldest myths today by proving a pitcher doesn't necessarily have to take his lumps the next time out after a no-hitter.

Down through the years relatively few major league pitchers have managed to go the distance in their next game following a no-hit performance.

Koufax, who hurled a no-hitter against the San Francisco Giants last Saturday night, not only went nine innings Wednesday night but did better than that, going 12 while leading the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 3-2 extra-inning triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The southpaw fastballer gave up 11 hits but struck out 12 and did not walk a man. It was only the second time in his major league career that he did not give up a walk during an entire game.

Ron Fairly provided Koufax with his fifth victory by singling home Jim Gilliam from second base in the bottom of the 12th. Reliever Johnny Klippstein had retired 14 straight batters before Gilliam singled in the 12th and moved up to second base on Bob Olds' passed ball.

Braves Down Cardinals
Elsewhere in the National League, the Milwaukee Braves defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 9-3, the league-leading San Francisco Giants 4-3, the Cincinnati Reds 4-3, the New York Mets 10-2, and the New York Yankees 4-3, and the Baltimore Orioles 7-1.

In the American League, the first-place Chicago White Sox topped the Detroit Tigers 7-4, the Boston Red Sox took two from the Los Angeles Angels 9-3 and 7-6, the Cleveland Indians beat the Kansas City A's 1-0, the New York Yankees downed the Minnesota Twins 4-3, and the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Washington Senators 7-1.

Bob Headley of the Braves held the Cardinals hitless for 8 1/3 innings before Curt Flood tripled. The Milwaukee southpaw gave up two more hits in the ninth and settled for a three-hitter and his fourth victory. Denis Menke connected for his fourth homer of the year off Curt Simmons, who lost his first game after five straight victories.

Held To Four Hits

The Giants were limited to four hits by loser Don Cardwell and two Pirate relievers but rallied for four runs in the fifth to win. Cardwell, now 1-5, walked winning pitcher Juan Marichal (5-3) with the bases full in the fifth and hit Felipe Alou with a pitch to force in another run. An error by third baseman Bob Bailey on Willie Mays' hard smash produced two more runs.

Frank Robinson and rookie Pete Rose each collected three hits to pace the Reds to their victory over the Cubs as Jim Maloney won his first game of the season with help from Al Worthington.

Southpaw Al Jackson scattered nine hits and struck out six to post his fourth victory for the Mets in their game with the Colts. The Mets took advantage of three unearned runs to hand Ken Johnson his sixth defeat in seven decisions.

Seattle Southpaw Making Way Nearer To Major Loop

By CHARLES H. WILSON JR.

United Press International

For Wilbur Wood, the step from the Pacific Coast League to the majors is as long as the trip from Seattle to Boston, and the young Rainer southpaw is closing that distance just about every time he walks to the mound.

The 21-year-old native of Belmont, Mass., was signed by the Red Sox in 1960 just after being named the outstanding high school hurler in the greater Boston area.

He saw action in a Red Sox uniform briefly at the end of the last two seasons, and he may be wearing that uniform on a more permanent basis if he continues to pitch as he did Wednesday.

Wood held San Diego to six hits and picked up his fourth straight victory as the Rainiers blanked the Padres 4-0. Wood fanned eight men and showed perfect control in not walking a batter.

Other Games
In other action around the league, George Williams' home run sparked a four-run rally by Oklahoma City that carried the soxers to a 7-3 victory over Denver. Hawaii blasted out of a long batting slump with 17 hits to turn back Portland 9-3, the Dallas-Fort Worth Rangers used the home run ball to defeat Salt Lake City 9-5 and superb relief pitching by Ken Rose preserved Spokane's 6-4 victory over Tacoma.

Wood got all the offensive support he needed from teammate Billy Harrell who drove in three runs with two singles and a sacrifice fly.

Oklahoma City and Denver were deadlocked 3-3 when Williams smashed his home run with two men on base to ignite a four-run outburst by the soxers in the seventh.

Johnny Weekly had accounted for all three Oklahoma City runs in the early innings with three hits. Starter Ben Johnson, who left the game for a pinch hitter in the seventh, was credited with the victory, his second in three decisions.

Bernier Leads Islanders
Veteran Carlos Bernier made the most noise in Hawaii's hitting spree with five hits in five trips, including a bases-empty home run. Chuck Dees also got into the act for the Islanders with four safeties and two RBI's.

Hawaii starter Ed Thomas was working on a no-hitter until Portland's Jay Hankins dropped a double down the left field line with one out in the seventh inning.

Joe Christian, George Banks and Ray Jablonski, led Dallas-Fort Worth's home run parade against Denver. Christian's four-bagger ignited a four-run rally in the first inning, and Banks' and Jablonski's home runs came during a four-run outburst in the fifth.

Ranger starter Marv Mecklenburg survived a four-run spurt by the Boes in the eighth and went the distance for his second win in three decisions.

The Spokane Indians got off to a quick 6-0 lead before Tacoma started whittling it down with three runs in the third and one in the sixth.

When the Giants Jim Hart walked to lead off the eighth, Rowe was called in from the bullpen to relieve starter Norm Koch. Rowe struck out the side in the eighth and retired the Giants in order in the ninth to preserve the victory for Koch.

Stuart Hits Grand Slam, Three-Run Homers For Sox

By United Press International

Some guys back up to the pay window, but Dick Stuart had to be different—he went clear over the wall.

Twice!

That's the friendly left-field wall at Fenway Park and what better time to hit a couple of balls over it than on pay day?

They passed out the pay checks all over the majors Wednesday and Stuart picked the occasion to pace the second-place Boston Red Sox to a 9-3 and 7-6 two-night sweep over the Los Angeles Angels with a grand slam homer in the opener and a three-run homer in the nightcap.

It was kind of a mixed-up night for the ex-Pittsburgh first baseman.

The Fenway Park crowd of 12,789 booed him for committing his first two errors of the season but also cheered him for hitting his sixth homer with the bases full in the third inning of the first game and his seventh homer with two on in the third inning of the finale.

Drives In Seven Runs
Stuart drove in a total of seven runs during the twin bill, and although his first homer assured Bill Monbouquette his third victory, Russ Nixon had to break a 6-6 tie with an eighth-inning double in the nightcap to bring reliever Dick Radatz his third triumph.

The league-leading Chicago White Sox came from behind to down the Detroit Tigers 7-4, the Cleveland Indians blanked the Kansas City A's 1-0, the Baltimore Orioles walloped the Washington Senators 7-1, and the New York Yankees ran their winning streak to four games with a 4-3 win over the Minnesota Twins.

In the National League, the first-place San Francisco Giants outlasted the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3, the New York Mets ended the Houston Colts' six-game winning streak 7-4, the Cincinnati Reds ran over the Chicago Cubs 10-2, the Milwaukee Braves subdued the St. Louis Cardinals 9-3, and the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 in 11 innings.

Nicholson Hits Homer
Dave Nicholson's eighth home run with one on highlighted a 12-hit attack on four Tiger pitchers that carried the White Sox to their 11th victory in their last 14 games.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant set down the A's on two hits to even his record at 3-3 with the Indians. Tito Francona singled home the only run of the game in the first inning off Orlando Pena, who suffered his third loss in seven decisions.

Home runs by Jim Gentile, Jackie Brandt and Jerry Adair powered his Orioles to their victory over the Senators. Milt Pappas yielded only three hits, including a homer by Ken Retzer, in winning his third straight without a defeat.

The slumping Twins built a 3-0 lead against the Yankees but Mickey Mantle hit a two-run homer in the sixth inning and Elston Howard singled home the winning run to cap a two-run rally in the eighth.

STRENGTHENS END CORPS
GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—Green Bay Packers coach Vince Lombardi took a step to strengthen his defensive end corps today by signing Urban Henry, who played two years with the Los Angeles Rams, as a free agent.

The Georgia Tech alumnus will probably be tried in the defensive end spot vacated when Bill Quinlan was traded to the New York Giants.

Rookie Dave Robinson of Penn State and veterans Ron Gassett and Ron Kostelnik are also trying for the end spot.

DIDN'T LOSE A POUND IN 125,000 MILES

"We had a '55 Dodge truck that went 125,000 miles without a wrench touching it. At 125,000 miles we tuned the engine and found every one of the eight cylinders registering 125 pounds compression or better. When that truck was wrecked in a smashup we replaced it with a 1962 Dodge D500 with a 361 cubic inch V8 engine. That Dodge outperforms any other truck I've ever driven or used.
