

KBAA Sponsoring Mammoth Track Meet Saturday At Modoc

Pro Bowler Tom Hennessey Rolls 722 In Exhibition Here

Over 350 Entries In Cinder Kickoff

Women golfers of Reames Golf and Country Club will play first round matches for the spring handicap Friday. These matches must be completed by Thursday, May 30. Ladies are requested to check their revised handicaps prior to play.

Pairings are as follows: First Tee: 8:30 a.m. Pauline Pernel vs. Yvonne Alford; 8:40, Arlene Cary vs. Rose Chapman; 8:50, Ellen Miller vs. Cathy Flink. Third Tee: 8:30, Edna Dakin vs. Dorothy Swanson; 8:40, Coral Renick vs. Lynn Starbuck; 8:50, Mary Dren vs. Mid Merryman. First Tee: 9:00, Britta Franz vs. Marlys O'Neill; 9:10, Martha Bartlett vs. Jan Fern; 9:20, Eve Ashley vs. Margaret Larkin.

Pairings will be made at the pro shop for those who have drawn "byes" for the first round matches.

Results of last Friday's qualifying round for medalist were 18-hole play, Pauline Pernel with a net 75; 9-hole play, Britta Franz with a net 37.

The Medford Invitational is scheduled for Thursday, June 6, and interested women golfers are reminded to sign up now in the clubhouse.

Junior golfers will participate in a nine-hole Kalloway tournament Saturday morning at 8:30 sharp. An automatic handicap for each player is figured by subtracting the two worst holes from total score. All children of Reames members are invited, regardless of attendance at swing sessions. Juniors are reminded to bring their own clubs and prizes will be awarded by chairman, Mrs. John Fern.

Major League Standings By United Press International American League

	W.	L.	Pct.	GB
Chicago	24	15	.615	—
Baltimore	24	15	.615	—
New York	24	13	.690	1
Boston	19	16	.543	3
Kansas City	20	17	.541	3
Cleveland	16	17	.485	5
Los Angeles	19	23	.452	6 1/2
Minnesota	17	21	.447	6 1/2
Detroit	14	23	.378	9
Washington	14	27	.341	11

Wednesday's Results
Minnesota 3 Boston 1
NY 8 KC 7 (11 ins, night)
Baltimore 2 Detroit 1 (night)
Los Ang. 7 Cle. 6 (11 ins, night)
Chicago 9 Washington 3 (night)

Thursday's Probable Pitchers
Washington at Baltimore (night)
—Osteen (9-3) vs. Roberts (2-4)
(Only game scheduled)

Friday's Games
Kansas City at L. Angeles, night
Chicago at Minnesota, night
Boston at Detroit, night
Baltimore at Cleveland, night
Washington at New York, night

National League

	W.	L.	Pct.	GB
San Francisco	26	15	.634	—
Los Angeles	25	16	.610	1
Chicago	20	19	.513	5
St. Louis	21	20	.512	5
Pittsburgh	19	19	.500	5 1/2
Cincinnati	18	18	.500	5 1/2
Milwaukee	19	21	.475	6 1/2
Philadelphia	17	22	.436	8
Houston	18	24	.429	8 1/2
New York	16	25	.390	10

Wednesday's Games
Chicago 7 St. Louis 6 (11 in.)
San Francisco 10 Phila. 2
Cincinnati at Milw., night, 7p.d.
cold weather.

Thursday's Probable Pitchers
St. Louis at Chicago — Broglio (4-1) vs. Ellsworth (5-2)
Cincinnati at Milwaukee — O'Toole (6-2) vs. Lemaster (2-1)
(Only game scheduled)

Friday's Games
Houston at Chicago
Phila. at Cincinnati, night
Pittsburgh at Milwaukee, night
New York at St. Louis, night
L. Angeles at S. Francisco, night

TEE TALK

Women golfers of Reames Golf and Country Club will play first round matches for the spring handicap Friday. These matches must be completed by Thursday, May 30. Ladies are requested to check their revised handicaps prior to play.

ABC King Admits Oregon To Liking

By JERRY WAGGONER
Herald and News Sports Editor
Tom Hennessey, the pro bowling champion who won the ABC Classics title this winter, was on exhibition at Lucky Lanes Wednesday under the auspices of the Brunswick Advisory Staff. And what an exhibition he put on.

The chunky St. Louis bowler, who pulled down the Classic singles title with a very good 732 series and All-Events with a brilliant 1928, won the huge crowd attending the exhibition with his humorous line of chatter as well as his brilliant bowling.

Hennessey, a member of the Brunswick Advisory Staff and here to put on an exhibition and aid bowlers when possible, set lanes 19 and 20 on fire with a hot 722 series which included a high game of 258 in the night session.

Promotion manager of Lucky Lanes, Larry Jones, howled Hennessey in an afternoon session of singles. He rolled a very respectable 643 series for the first time at rolling on a set of lanes.

He and Jones teamed up in a doubles match in the night session against Al Hakenwerth and Gino Rosterolla. The two locals gave the pros a real run to the fans' delight.

Hennessey rolled a first game of 241 in the doubles. He had six straight strikes to begin the game.

He opened the game with a split for only eight pins. He then hit a strike and a spare. But he found the pocket then and continued to roll strikes as though radar guided the ball. He threw nine straight strikes to close out the game for a 258. He finished with a 722 series and a 147 and Rosterolla finished with a 1301 series, a very fine series. They were exactly 100 pins ahead of Hakenwerth and Rosterolla.

"We spotted them 100 pins before the match so we are tied. How about one more game," he asked the crowd. Everyone approved. He rolled a 210. Jones fell way down to a 147 and Rosterolla had a 199. Hakenwerth was the hot gun in this game with a 243. He had six straight in that string.

Hennessey proved to be funny in his comments. "If my partner had bowled his weight, no one in the world could beat us," he joked of Jones. "I always bowl good in Oregon. I had a 300 at Cottage Grove last year and always seem to average around 230 out here. I don't know what it is. Maybe I should move out here and I'd be a star," he joked.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit. The pins just fell funny." In the third game when he was hot, he said after the eighth straight blow, "this isn't a bad house."

Hennessey had commented earlier that the establishment was a high scoring one. He also said before the beginning of the matches that he hoped they could give the crowd lots of strikes. The four bowlers made 94 strikes in the four games. Hennessey had 32 strikes in the four games for an average of eight per game.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

About 6,000 persons, including 30 Cleveland players and coaches and another large group from Syracuse University heard final rites in the First Baptist Church and were present at the interment in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Davis was born Dec. 14, 1909 in Uniontown, Pa., and came here when he was six. He followed Cleveland fullback Jim Brown to Syracuse and earned most of Brown's collegiate records.

Davis' last appearance in a football game was in Buffalo last June when the East defeated the West in the second annual All-America football game.

He commented to questions that he has 17 300 games in his career and seven are sanctioned. He also said that spares are a highly important part of the game.

He opened the doubles with six straight strikes. After the fourth one he commented, "It's fun so far." He got lucky on one hit and had an odd carry for a strike. "It was a good hit