Summer Time And Life Is Fun... For Youngsters In Klamath Park Program

ANY LUCK ISAAC? — One more chub and I'm going swimming said one angler to the other. When your luck's at an ebb and the sun is beating down on your head that water sure looks inviting. But a better place for a swim is the Municipal Pool scheduled to open June 10. A boy doesn't worry too much whether it's a chub or trout as long as it's biting, but when he brings a mess of "native" chubs home and tosses them in man's sink... watch out!

Now that summer vacation is here, many youngsters are wondering how to spend their leisure hours. To help answer the question, "What to do?" the Klamath Falls Parks and Recreation Department developed a schedule of summer activities that will help solve the problem.

To help introduce youngsters and parents to the complete city recreation program the Herald and News will have a series of three articles outlining the activities before June 10, the official kick-off date.

Today's article, the first of the series, will deal with the entire agenda of the summer's organized recreation programs. The second article will give information regarding the summer schedule at the Municipal Swimming Pool and the third will describe all the facilities made available by the Park and Recreation Department under the direction of Gary Woodring.

The Organized Summer Recreation Program offers twelve different recreation activities, eight for children and three for both children and adults.

"Well qualified leadership, com-regular classes on MWF and $10 for semi-private classes on the same days. A fee of $4 will be charged for regular Tuesday and Thursday classes and $6 for semi-private classes on the same days.

A city tennis tournament open to all players in the immediate area will be held during the last week in July. A Herald and News tournament, open to all comers, will be held during Labor Day weekend.

A tennis league will be formed during the first week in July for those interested in team tennis play. No fee will be charged for this activity.

A new program offered this summer by the recreation department will be a Children's Theatre. Mrs. George Harris will direct the program open to boys and girls from the second to eighth grades.

The children will train for their acting parts and stage construction tasks twice weekly from 9 to 12 a.m. beginning July 8 and ending Aug. 16. A fee of $4 will be charged for the six-week session.

The city recreation department again is offering entertainment, leadership and equipment to neighborhood groups wishing to organize an evening-in-the-park get-together.

"The many beautiful neighborhood parks in Klamath Falls lend themselves to a common meeting place for this type of activity," Woodring said.

A PeeWee Softball League for boys from 7 to 12 years old (as of July 1, 1963), who are not playing Little League baseball will begin June 17.

Tryouts will be held at Kiwanis Park, June 7, from 1 to 3 p.m. for boys 7 to 9 years of age and at 1 to 3 p.m., June 8, for the older boys.

The rules provide that each boy will play in every game and the dads will be coaches. Team sponsors provide caps and T-shirt uniforms.

There will be supervised wading pools at Kiwanis Park from Aug. 12 at Modoc Field and the games will be played evenings at 7 o'clock.

Friday all summer. The Moore Park and Municipal Pool wading pools will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. daily and on weekends.

A three-week class in wrestling fundamentals will be offered for elementary and high school age boys. DeLance Duncan, KUHS wrestling coach, will teach these classes which meet Monday through Thursday in the KU wrestling room from 7 to 9 p.m.

The summer basketball instruction and team play will start June 10 and end July 26. Junior high through college age boys are welcome to participate. Al Keck, KU basketball coach, heads the program which will be at Pelican Court, Monday through Thursday, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Finally, the department offers a get-in-shape touch football program for junior high through college age boys. The program is supervised by Bob Williams, KU football coach. Play will begin Aug. 12 at Modoc Field and the games will be played evenings at 7 o'clock.

WINS SUMMER POPULARITY POLL — The Municipal Pool is by far the most popular of the park department's facilities. Swimming instruction, lifesaving instruction and a whole gamut of pool activities are scheduled at the city pool again this year. Here the summer staff closely supervises the instruction as the youngsters keep close tabs on their swimming "buddies."

Another interesting program will be baton instruction under the direction of Juanita Stevens, Northwest twirling champion. There will be four weeks of instruction beginning July 8 and ending Aug. 2.

Marching, balance, and coordination can be picked up through this instruction. The classes are open only to girls from third to eighth grades and will be held at Kiwanis Park in the Mills Addition, Monday and Tuesday at 9 a.m. for beginners, and 10 a.m. for intermediates and advanced. A fee of $4 will be charged.

Children, beginning the fifth grade and older, and adults will be able to learn the fundamentals of tennis at the Moore Park courts again this year. Jim Norland, Washington State University tennis star, will be instructing. Lessons will last seven weeks beginning June 17.

Of special interest this year will be semi-private lessons limited to groups of six students each. The tennis schedule follows:

MWF, 8 to 10 a.m., beginning boys and girls; 1 to 3 p.m., intermediate boys and girls, and 3 to 5 p.m. semi-private instruction for beginning and intermediate boys and girls.

MW, 6 to 8 p.m. semi-private instruction for beginning and intermediate adults.

T Th, 8 to 10 a.m., beginning through advanced women; 1 to 3 p.m., beginning boys and girls; 3 to 5 p.m. semi-private intermediate and advanced boys and girls. There will be a fee of $8 for PRECISION IN THE WATER — In the swim of things is a group of aquatic nymphs at the Municipal Pool. The Municipal Pool program's schedule, which will begin June 10, will be outlined in full in the second story of this series on the park department's summer activities.

SUPERVISED GAMES AT MOORE PARK — Two KF boys enjoy a fast game of knip-knop at Moore Park as one of the summer staff members stands by keeping score. The Moore Park program offers several recreation activities for energetic kids.

GOING FOR A SPIN — Two youths get together at one of the city parks and take an early morning ride on this makeshift dizzy device. The city parks are loaded with swings, slides and all sorts of amusement gadgets for youngsters to get exercise and fun.

ACTING OUT MOM'S ROLE — These young women on the left look as though they may be ready to try out for a role in the new Children's Theatre program this summer. The activity will give boys and girls from second through eighth grades a chance to try their hand at acting and set designing under the direction of Mrs. George Harris. The boys on the right probably don't care much about the law of gravity, if that slide is slick enough they'll go down whether they know about gravity or not, and the slicker the slide the faster the ride.
