Three butterfingers in the National League race on Sunday.

The culprits were shortstop Jose Pagan of the San Francisco Giants and outfielder Duke Carmel of the St. Louis Cardinals, but before climbing all over them or suggesting they sell their gloves, be advised they ordinarily do a fine job on defense.

Not Sunday, though. Pagan committed three errors and his last one in the 10th inning enabled the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers to beat the first-place Giants, 4-3, and slice their league lead to two games.

Carmel and Gibson each made errors during the 11th inning of a nightcap against the New York Mets, helping Casey Stengel's crew snap a seven-game losing streak and defeat the third-place Cardinals for the first time this season, 3-2. The Cards won the opener, 7-4.

It was a miserable day all around for Pagan, who went hitless at the plate, set up one Dodger run with a wild throw in the fourth inning and let in the tying run with another bad peg in the seventh.

With Don Larsen pitching in the 10th, Jim Gilliam bounced a routine grounder to Pagan, who then threw wild again, allowing Gilliam to go all the way to second.

Prep Games Rescheduled

PORTLAND (UPI)—The Oregon high school baseball championship tripleheader at Multnomah Stadium here Thursday has been rescheduled from at night to the afternoon, it was announced Sunday.

The class A-1, A-2 and B title games, which have been played as a nighttime tripleheader at Portland since 1956, will start at 5:30 p.m., 3:30 and 1:30, respectively.

from where he scored the winning run on Tommy Davis' single.

Winner Don Drysdale (6-4) gave up eight hits, including solo homers by Jim Davenport and Felipe Alou.

In the Mets-Cards nightcap, Carmel, who had replaced left-fielder Stan Musial in the 10th, muffed Charley Neal's 11th inning fly for a two-base error, Chico Fernandez then bunted toward the mound and Gibson fired wildly past first base for another two-base error that scored Neal with the winning run.

The defeat cost the Cardinals a chance to move within 3½ games of first place after they beat the Mets in the opener on a three-run homer by pitcher hitter Charlie James in the eighth inning. St. Louis bombed four of five Met pitchers for 16 hits, including five by Ken Boyer and four by Bill White.

Phils Win Pair

In other National League games the Philadelphia Phillies swept a twin-bill from the Cincinnati Reds 10-4 and 3-0; the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 5-2, in 11 innings, and the Chicago Cubs downed the Houston Colts, 5-1.

Ray Culp, a 21-year-old bonus rookie pitcher who received $100,000 for signing, and 36-year-old veteran Roy Sievers, who was given only a new pair of baseball shoes for signing his first major league contract, were the standouts in the Phillies' sweep of the Reds.

Fans Twelve

Culp struck out 12 batters and set down the Reds on three hits in recording his fifth victory in the nightcap while Sievers delivered a pinch grand slam homer in the eighth inning to clinch the opener. The grand slam was the 10th of Sievers' career, trying him for top spot among the active players. Joey Jay suffered his eighth loss against one victory in the second game.

Bob Bailey's three-run homer off loser Frank Funk in the 11th inning powered the Pirates to their victory over the Braves after Bill Mazeroski's ninth inning homer had tied the score at 2-2. Al McBean, fourth of five Pirate pitchers, was credited with his fifth victory. Bob Clemente also homered for Pittsburgh.

Home runs by Ron Santo and Ken Hubbs paced the Cubs to victory over the Colts. Santo's sixth homer in the fifth inning with one man on sent loser Dick Drott to the showers and Hubbs belted his fourth homer in the seventh off Don McMahon. Bob Buhl allowed eight hits in recording his third victory and first since April 28.

Jose Pagan Boots Three As LA Whips Giants 4-3

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—"A bad day...a bad day."

Thus did Jose Pagan, the San Francisco Giants' usually reliable shortstop, sum up the three errors he committed Sunday to help the Los Angeles Dodgers pull out a 4-3 victory in 10 innings.

"My arm doesn't hurt," the sturdy little Puerto Rican added. "But I wasn't picking the ball up right to make the throws."

After committing two wild throws during the first nine frames, Pagan uncorked another in the 10th on a routine grounder hit by Jim Gilliam. The latter sped to second base on the miscue then scored on Tommy Davis' single to center.

All told, Davis drove in three runs. He had batted a pair across in the fourth inning with a hard double that rolled to the left center field fence.

Two Game Lead

The Giants, who defeated Los Angeles 6-2 Saturday, now lead the Dodgers by two games as both teams head for the Midwest.

Juan Marichal of the Giants is slated to open against Jim O'Toole Tuesday night at Cincinnati while Sandy Koufax squares off against Milwaukee's Bob Hendley.

Both West Coast clubs are idle today.

Don Drysdale, now 6-4, went the route for Los Angeles yesterday while manager Alvin Dark of the Giants used four hurlers. The final man to come, Don Larsen, was the loser. His record dropped to

Playboy Angel Incarcerated By Reassignment To Hawaii

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bo Belinsky, the playboy Angel with the "Joisey" accent, was incarcerated today in what has to be regarded as baseball's nicest doghouse.

The Los Angeles Angels, disturbed over his 1-7 record this season, picked Saturday night—a long noted as swing time—to option him to their Hawaii farm club on 24-hour recall. It seemed particularly fitting considering the left-handed pitcher's penchant for pleasant living.

"Just as soon as this left-handed plays the way he can," said manager Bill Rigney, "he'll be back with our club."

Whether Bo will want to come back is something else again, although in all truthfulness he probably would prefer the Hollywood lights even to the Hawaiian moon. Which, actually, is a nice thing to have to make a choice about.

The site of his exile is, of course, a cut above some of the other minor league localities through which Bo wandered before arriving in the majors last year.

Wandered Around
You can pick out your own "don't likes" but he wandered from Brunswick, Ga., to Pensacola, Fla., to Knoxville, to Aberdeen, S.D., to Amarillo, Tex., to Stockton, Calif., to Pensacola, to Vancouver, to Little Rock, Ark.

"You ever ride a bus with a minor league team?" he said after being assigned to Paradise on the Pacific. "It's 640 miles from Little Rock to Macon. You make it in only 14 happy hours and two packs of cigarettes. I used to look at all that red dirt and tell myself if I kept this up I'd be a professional bum."

Bo almost blew his chance with the Angels prior to last season when he held out against signing for the $6,000 a year major league minimum salary. But when they threatened to tear up the contract, Bo grabbed the pen.

He wowed them at first but only, it is believed, because he hadn't yet started finding his way around town. Bo captured four games in a row and then pitched a no-hitter against Baltimore on fore arriving in the majors last year.

By June things were humming. It was going on four a.m. one morning when a young lady leaped screaming from Bo's red convertible with a gasp over her eye. As it developed, she merely bumped her head. There were no charges.

By September, in a season where Bo had a 10-11 mark and led the league by giving up 122 bases on balls, it leaked out that Bo was to be traded to Kansas City. Commissioner Ford Frick voided the trade as a "secret" deal.

Bo's off-field antics were kept to a minimum this season, one in which, incidentally, he became engaged to actress Marnie Van Doren.

"The change will do him good," quoth she as he was exiled to durance lovely. "Hawaii is one of my favorite spots."

By MILTON RICHMAN UPI Sports Writer

The league-leading Baltimore Orioles call Wes Stock "The All-American out" and that applies not only to his abysmal hitting but also to his incredible pitching.

As a hitter, Stock is strictly an out man and a formidable threat to Hank Aguirre's title as the worst in the American League.

Stock still is looking for his first major league hit even though this is his fifth season with the Orioles.

As a relief pitcher, the 29-year-old right-hander also is an out man, but of a completely different variety.

He won both ends of a doubleheader in Sunday's 10-6 and 6-1 sweep over the Cleveland Indians and ran his season record to 5-0 as the Orioles increased their league lead to 2½ games by winning their seventh and eighth straight games.

Remarkable Form
Stock, who went nearly two full years without a defeat before Boston finally beat him last June 21, displayed the same remarkable form Sunday that enabled him to go unscathed upon in 40 of his 33 relief appearances last season.

In the opener he hurled two hitless innings and struck out two of the four Cleveland batters he faced after the Indians had hit starter Steve Barber for nine hits and six runs in 3 1-3 innings.

Summoned from the bullpen again in the nightcap, Stock shut out Cleveland on one hit over the last three innings as teammate Boog Powell broke a 1-all tie with an eighth inning single off loser

Jim (Modcat) Grant. Jackie Brandt tripled home two more runs in the same frame.

Jim Gentile's two-run single capped a three-run seventh inning rally that decided the opener.

Gentile also belted a two-run homer in the fourth that helped Dick Donovan suffer his third loss in five decisions. Brooks Robinson also homered for Baltimore.

Senators Win One

Elsewhere in the American circuit, the Washington Senators won their first game under new manager Gil Hodges and ended an eight-game losing streak with a 7-6 nightcap victory after the New York Yankees won their sixth in a row, 7-1, in the opener.

The Detroit Tigers beat the Boston Red Sox, 12-3, in the first of two, but dropped the nightcap, 6-5; the Minnesota Twins made it seven in a row with a 5-2 decision over the Chicago White Sox, and the Los Angeles Angels beat the Kansas City A's, 6-4.

Errors Hurt Yanks

Errors by Bobby Richardson and Clete Boyer in the seventh inning of the nightcap enabled the Senators to score what was to be the winning run against the Yankees. Rookie Jim Duckworth held the Yanks to two runs on six hits over the last six innings to gain his first major league win.

Jim Bouton posted his sixth victory with a seven-hitter in the opener as Elston Howard and Mickey Mantle tagged loser Don Rudolph for home runs.

Although rapped for two homers by Russ Nixon and one by Gary Geiger, Jim Bunning registered his second victory for the Tigers with an eight-hitter in the opener. Bunning struck out 10 batters and was aided by Al Kaline's two-run homer and a three-run blast by Dick McAuliffe.

Eighth-inning homers by Ed Bressoud and Geiger powered the Red Sox to victory in the second game.

The Twins also employed home run muscle to beat the White Sox. Zoilo Versalles, Harmon Killebrew and Earl Battey each connected as Jim Perry scored his third victory with help from Bill Dailey in the eighth.

Jim Fregosi and Billy Moran each singled home two runs in the sixth inning to break a 2-all tie between the Angels and the Athletics.
