

Naida Smith Recent Bride

Of interest to friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne D. Smith, this city, is the news of the recent marriage of their daughter, Naida Jean, to Robert Floyd Rohrbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Rohrbach, Bend.

The young couple exchanged marriage vows in Kern Park Christian Church, Portland, in a double ring ceremony read by the Rev. Kenneth Johnston. Yellow and white gladioli and white tapers decorated the church for the two o'clock ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of embroidered white nylon organza and carried a cascade of stephanotis and yellow rosebuds with white satin streamers centered with a white orchid. Her bouffant shoulder veil was held by an ornament of flowers fashioned of pearls. For something old, she carried a lace handkerchief from Brussels, Belgium, which had belonged to her great-grandmother.

Jean Barnes, Roseburg, cousin of the bride, sang "I Love Thee" and "At Dawning."

Mrs. Bernard Heuker, Portland, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Barbara Barnes, Roseburg, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Donnie Dunlap, sister of the bridegroom. All three wore short, yellow embroidered organza frocks over yellow taffeta and carried bouquets of yellow and white carnations. Their short yellow veils were held by circlets of net leaves. The pearl bracelets which they wore were gifts of the bride.

Couple Weds In Anderson

Shirley Claire Stewart and Rickles N. Adkins Jr. exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony May 5 at the Trinity Methodist Church in Anderson.

The Rev. Haven Martin performed the rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Stewart of Deschutes Road. The bridegroom is the son of Rickles N. Adkins, Klamath Falls, and Mrs. Alberta Snyder of San Francisco.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a waist length dress of white lace with a white chiffon overskirt. The dress was fashioned with three-quarter sleeves and a rounded neckline. Her shoulder veil was held by a crown of pearls and she carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

Ella Elsmore, maid of honor, wore a ballerina length dress of pale yellow brocade. Her flowers were yellow carnations.

Bridesmaid was Peggy Schoefter. She was dressed identically to the maid of honor.

Jim Reynolds and Donald Sewart, the bride's brother, seated the wedding guests.

Best man was Robert Ericson. Wesley Robinson was organist. A reception was held in the church social hall immediately after the ceremony.

The three tier wedding cake was decorated with white roses and white sugar bells and held the traditional bride and bridegroom figurines on the top layer.

Oregon was the couple's honeymoon destination.

The bride was graduated from Anderson High School in 1960 and attended Shasta College. She is employed by Shasta Title Company of Redding.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Klamath Union High School and Shasta College. He is employed as a deputy at the Shasta County sheriff's office.

The newlyweds will make their home in Redding.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Littlefield of Yreka, uncle of the bride. Family and friends of the bridegroom from Klamath Falls were Mr. and Mrs. Rickles N. Adkins Sr., Jack, Donald, and Karma Jo; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Haggren and family; Mr. and Mrs. Arliss Reeder and family, and Oscar Gerleve. Family of the bridegroom from San Francisco included Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Blando and family, and Mrs. Alberta Snyder.

TO WED — Mrs. James Drazil, Malin, recently received this picture of her son Bill Dowell and his fiancée, Marie Khatchadourian. Their engagement was announced in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, where he serves with the Peace Corps. The couple will be wed in July and will spend their honeymoon in Cairo.

A reception followed in the church fellowship hall. The wedding cake was served to about 200 guests by Joan Lokken and Sandra Westlund. Mrs. Theodore L. Barnes, Roseburg, aunt of the bride, served punch and Mrs. William S. Barnes, another aunt, Roseburg, poured coffee and tea. Betty Nakishimada, Portland, was in charge of the guest book and La Vonne Wauters, Portland, took care of the gifts.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith wore a sheath type frock of light green lace with matching accessories and corsage of pale pink orchids. The bridegroom's mother chose a pink linen sheath with white accessories and light green orchid corsage.

The bride's going-away outfit was a soft green coat and dress ensemble with black accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

After a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe, the newlyweds are at home at 239 12th Street, Apartment 6, in Redmond, where he is employed by Crater Lake Machinery Company.

The new Mrs. Rohrbach attended Medford High School, Robertson's School of Business and Linfield College and has been employed in Portland the past five years. Her husband attended Central Oregon College and the University of Oregon where he was affiliated with Theta Chi fraternity.

This is one of a new series of informative reports on the unique advantages of print media presented by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Most people do.

They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features... designs... and prices, for example.

People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

People read an ad because they want to (it's never forced on them). They can even check back later; the message is still there.

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of consumers, print makes sales.

Most people read and then buy. Don't you?
