Willie-The-Wisp Wins Title; To Defend In Europe Soon

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Happy Willie Pastrano said today there was a "strong possibility" he might make the first defense of his newly won light-heavyweight championship in Europe in about 90 days.

Swarthy, black-haired Willie, who wrestled the 175-pound crown from veteran Harold Johnson Saturday night on an upset split 15-round decision at the Las Vegas Convention Center, mentioned these three possible European challengers:

—Chick Calderwood of Scotland, who outpointed Willie in Glasgow on Sept. 16, 1960.

—Lennart Risberg of Sweden, who held Willie to a draw at Stockholm Aug. 6, 1961.

—Giulio Rinaldi of Italy, current champion of Europe.

Better Financially

Smiling Willie, 27, explained that, right now, a fight with any one of those three European boxers seemed a better money match than any that could be made in the United States.

He emphasized, however, that manager Angelo Dundee would pick the opponent, site and date. Dundee flew to New York Sunday to help his welterweight champion Luis Rodriguez, with his final grooming for Saturday's first defense against ex-champion Emile Griffith at New York.

Dundee said Sunday he was not interested in a return bout with Johnson, who had accepted Pastrano as a second substitute challenger only after Mauro Mina of Peru and Henry Hank of Detroit had withdrawn from the Las Vegas match because of training injuries.

"And besides," said Dundee, "Johnson is not a drawing card."

Saturday's rainy-night fight, indoors at Convention Center, drew only 2,570 fans and about $35,000. In addition, the television money was $60,000. Johnson was guaranteed $37,500; Pastrano, $21,250.

Result An Upset

Pastrano's victory was a terrific upset. He had gone into the ring a 3-1 underdog against a champion boasting 19 straight wins.

Pat Oliveri, manager of the defeated 34-year-old Johnson, arranged with attorney Alfred Klein of Philadelphia to make a formal request Tuesday to the World Boxing Council to order a return title fight with Pastrano because of the controversy over the split decision.

The split decision favored Pastrano on a five-point basis as follows: referee Jimmy Olivas, 60-68; judge John Romero, 68-69; judge Harry Krause, 69-67. Only Romero favored Johnson.

The United Press International had Johnson ahead, 69-68; and a UPI poll of 14 sports writers at the ringside favored Johnson, 9-3.

Lorenzen Nurses Entry To Win Stock Race Title

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI)—Fred Lorenzen nursed his out-of-gas Ford for three laps around the Charlotte Motor Speedway and glided across the finish line at 30 miles per hour Sunday to win the World 600 late model stock car race and $26,250.

The lead-footed North Carolina native, who now lives in Elmhurst, Ill., combined cagey strategy and a lot of luck to set a blistering mark of 132.417 miles an hour and boost his total earnings this season to well over $75,000.

He purposely relinquished the lead to Junior Johnson at the 20th lap and trailed the Chevrolet jockey, by "dragging" behind Johnson he conserved fuel.

But this still wouldn't have been enough. It took a stroke of luck to turn the tide. Johnson blew a tire three laps before the finish and Lorenzen's scot-back Ford whizzed past.

For the next three laps, he rocked his car to feed the last drops of gasoline in the tank into his engine.

Johnson finished second despite the blowout and won $11,410 in prize money and $6,050 for leading the race for 291 laps.

About 60,000 persons witnessed the accident-free race, marred for a short time by a slow drizzle.

Despite the rain, Lorenzen's time was about 10 miles an hour faster than the previous track record.

Finishing in third place was another Chevrolet, piloted by Rex White of Spartanburg, S.C., who won $8,290.

Joe Weatherly of Norfolk, Va., last year's NASCAR champion, piloted his Pontiac to fourth place and $5,675; David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., finished fifth in a Dodge for $4,425; and Nelson Stacy and Marvin Panch, both from Daytona Beach and driving Fords, finished in sixth and seventh places.

USC Defeats Beavers 2-1 For BB Title

CORVALLIS (UPI)—Southern California captured the NCAA District 8 baseball title Saturday by defeating Oregon State 7-5 in the second game of a doubleheader after losing the first contest 8-6.

The win gave Southern California a 2-1 series victory and advanced it into the NCAA championship tournament at Omaha June 10-14.

Southern California wrapped up the nightcap with two runs each in the seventh and ninth innings. Willie Brown hit a two-run single in the seventh. Bud Hallowell hit his second home run of the day and Brown scored on a throwing error in the ninth.

In the first game, Oregon State scored six runs in the first inning on seven walks and a two-run single by Jimmy Jarvis.

Dennis Straub went the nine-inning distance for the Beavers, striking out 15.

Big Y, Hal's Winners In Suburban LL Games

In Saturday games in the second, two in the third, three in the fourth and another in the fifth.

Pranghofer's double was the only extra-base clutch of the game.

Hal's bunched up five runs in the first inning against Western Oil to take a lead they never gave up. Herbert hurled the first three innings and Warren the last three.

Dusselt hammered out a home-run and a double to lead the hitting for Hal's. He had three for four for the day, adding a double and a single to the roundtripper.

Western Oil had only four hits but were aided by six walks.

B. Kuhn and B. Ernst did the hurling duty for Western Oil.

Big Y added another in the second, two in the third, three in the fourth and another in the fifth.

Look for the San Francisco Giants to break the National League race wide open any day now.

Why?

Willie Mays, that's why.

When Willie gets into one of his hitting streaks he literally carries the Giants, even with all those other muscular hitters, on his back. He gave evidence that he has shaken off his most recent slump Sunday by rapping three homers as the Giants defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-4.

They were homers No. 8, 9 and 10 for Mays, who hadn't hit one since May 17. During that period the Giants won seven games and lost six, and even though they held onto first place in the NL race, it hardly was a pace befitting a contender, let alone the defending champion and favorite.

Hits In Streaks

Throughout his major league career the 32-year-old Mays has been a streak hitter, and this year doesn't seem any different than the other 11. The thing about Mays' hitting streaks, though, is that they sometimes produce awesome results — such as Sunday's three homers.

The first homer came with Harold Kuhn aboard in the first inning and was a typical four-base blow — not too long a drive but no cheapie by any means. The second hit the scoreboard at St. Louis' Busch Stadium in deep left-center, a drive of about 400 feet, and came with the bases empty in the eighth. The third reached to the foot of the scoreboard in the ninth and gave the Giants a 6-1 lead.

Willie showed signs of coming out of his hitting slump on Saturday when he got three hits in four at-bats. He finished the three-game set against the Cardinals with six hits in 11 at-bats and raised his average 18 points to .254 — far below his career average of .315.

The victory enabled the Giants to salvage one game against the Cardinals and widened their lead to two games over second-place St. Louis and 3 1/2 over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who lost to the Cincinnati Reds, 5-2.

In the other NL games, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1 and 4-3; the Houston Colts nipped the Milwaukee Braves, 3-1, in 17 innings; and Philadelphia and Chicago split, the Phils winning the opener, 5-2, and the Cubs taking the nightcap, 3-2.

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians defeated the New York Yankees, 2-0 and 7-2; the Los Angeles Angels downed the Baltimore Orioles, 8-2; the Washington Senators won over the Kansas City Athletics, 6-4; the Detroit Tigers shamed the Minnesota Twins, 7-6, and Boston and Chicago split, the Red Sox winning the opener, 11-9, and the White Sox the nightcap, 10-0.

Wins Ninth Game

Jim O'Toole picked up his ninth victory in beating the Dodgers, but it took some weird doings to achieve as the Reds scored three runs on a bunt during a five-run second inning. A double, infield hit and a walk loaded the bases after two out in the second. The Dodger infield then threw the ball around, two runs crossing on an error by Dick Tracewski and three on a wild throw by Don Zimmer.

The Mets gained their first victory when Bill Virdon and Jerry Lynch collided chasing a fly ball in the 10th inning as pinch-runner Rod Kanehl scored from second, and they gained their second win on a 10th inning homer by Jim Hickman. Reliever Elroy Face was charged with both defeats.

Four consecutive singles in the top of the 17th produced the margin of victory for the Colts, who struggled four hours and 36 minutes before beating the Braves. Hal Woodeshick, who pitched six innings of shutout relief ball, was the winner, and Ron Piche, who worked the last two, took the loss. Between them, the Colts and Braves left 30 runners stranded. Veteran Cal McLish, given a three-run lead at the start, coasted to his fifth straight victory as the Phils won their opener, but Cal Koonce and Barney Schultz combined on a five-hitter to gain the Cubs a split. Art Mahaffey, who won 19 games last year, suffered his seventh loss against only two victories.

Lefties Baffle Yankee Hitters

City Athletics gave up a single to Clete Boyer in the third inning and a single to Mickey Mantle in the seventh.

Joe Adcock's three-run homer in the sixth inning decided the issue for Kralick over Bill Stafford. It was Jack's fourth victory in nine decisions and third since coming to the Tribe on May 2.

McDowell didn't pitch nearly as well in the nightcap, but he had more to work on as the Indians opened up a 6-2 lead in six innings. Fred Whitfield, who took over for Adcock in the second game, was the hitting hero with three runs batted in on a double and homer.

Singles In Ninth

Rocky Colavito's ground single in the ninth drove in the winning run for the Tigers after the Twins had rallied to tie the score at 6-6 in the eighth on a double by Jim Hall and a single by Rich Rollins. Colavito homered earlier in the game as did Al Kaline.

Chuck Hinton's two-run homer in the 10th inning led the Senators to their victory over the A's. Don Lock's eighth home run in the seventh tied the score after the A's had taken a 4-3 lead in the sixth. Jim Coates was the winner in relief and Dale Willis, who took over in the 10th, was the loser.

WIDENER HORSE WINS

PARIS (UPI) — Spy Well, owned by Mrs. Alec Widener and ridden by Roger Poincelot, won Sunday's $24,000 Prix Jean Prat horse race at the Longchamp track. Fast Dip was second and Manderlay was third.

WINS BOARDWALK MILE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—Vern Morgan of the Delaware Valley Athletic Association won the annual Boardwalk mile Sunday for the third consecutive year and broke the record he set last year. His time of 4:03.5 broke his previous record of 4:04.6.

Drop Fifth Straight

The Angels handed the Orioles their fifth straight loss as Dean Chance gained his fifth victory, stopping the Birds on six hits. He needed relief help from Julio Navarro to get the final out. Little Albie Pearson provided the punch

Drabowski Looking Up

Portland's Drabowski, aiming for another shot at the major leagues, struck out seven to pick up his fourth win against a single loss. Dick Green's sacrifice fly brought in the winning run for Portland.

Rod Graber's two-run homer in the first game for Spokane helped Howie Reed get his fifth win. Mike Brumley and John Werhas collected three hits for Spokane while Manny Jimenez hit a solo homer for Portland.

Eight home runs were hit in the Hawaii-Dallas Ft. Worth doubleheader. Hawaii's Bobby Knoop headed the slugfest with a three-run homer and a solo blast. Dick Simpson's three-run homer in the eighth gave the Islanders their uphill victory in the first game. The Rangers led 6-1 at the end of five innings.

In the second game, home runs by Joe Christian and Tony Oliva highlighted the Rangers' winning attack. Other first-game homers were hit by Carlos Bernier of Hawaii and Cesar Tovar and George Banks of Dallas-Ft. Worth.

Freeze Belts One

Gene Freeze's two-run homer put San Diego one run behind Oklahoma City at the end of five innings. But in the sixth, the Bers tallied on two singles and a pair of walks.

Padre reliever Flavin walked an error with the bases loaded to force in the winning run. Three singles gave San Diego its third win in the seventh.

In Saturday's games, the Bers and Padres split a twin bill with Oklahoma City winning the opener 4-0 and losing the nightcap 6-4; Dallas-Ft. Worth downed Hawaii 7-3; Spokane defeated Portland 7-4; Tacoma overpowered Denver 9-3 and Salt Lake City took 12 innings before ending a 16-game losing streak by edging Seattle

United Press International

Bob Garibaldi gets the headlines, but Ron Herbel writes the scripts for the front-running Tacoma Giants of the Pacific Coast League's northern division.

Unheralded Herbel, a 25-year-old right-hander from Brighton, Colo., was signed to a contract by the San Francisco Giants for practically peanuts while it took bonus loot in excess of $130,000 to lure Garibaldi off the Santa Clara Campus.

Now it looks like the Giants might have given the bonus stipend to the wrong pitcher. Garibaldi received rough treatment from Denver yesterday and ended up losing 6-2 to the Bers. He was relieved by John Pregoner in the seventh after giving up five runs.

In the nightcap, Herbel pitched the full seven innings and scattered four hits in downing the Bers, 3-1. It brought Herbel's record to 6-5 while Garibaldi was losing his second game after winning six.

But records don't tell the full story.

Seven Complete Games

The game was Herbel's seventh route-going performance of the PCL season. This is the best in the league. Herbel also owns an earned-run average in the vicinity of 2.60. Garibaldi's ERA is 4.30-plus and he has pitched five complete games.

Denver unleashed a 15-hit attack on Garibaldi, Pregoner and two other Tacoma pitchers in the opener. Outfielder Ethan Blackaby
