

Legalized Racing Begins In Philly

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The horse players of Pennsylvania, surrounded by states with legalized betting, can do it at home with the full blessing of the law beginning this Friday.

Liberty Bell Park, the Commonwealth's first licensed harness racing track with pari-mutuel betting, writes Keystone State history when it opens a 50-day meet, and the bettors can hardly wait. Actually, they have been waiting for something like 150 years for just such an occasion, the result of a 1959 law passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature. However, flat racing still is locked in the stable.

The feature of Friday night's nine-race opening card is the Liberty Bell, naturally, a $20,000 added three-year-old race. The program is for nine races, six nights each week.

Other Tracks Readied
Liberty Bell, in Philadelphia's Northeast section, begins the new sports era with a three-week lead. The Meadows opens at Washington, Pa., near Pittsburgh, June 28.

The William Penn Assn. opens its fall meeting Sept. 9 at the Liberty Bell track. And ground has been broken for Pocono Downs in the Wilkes-Barre-Scranton area, the state's other license of the four permitted.

M. J. (Mike) O'Neill, president of Liberty Bell, said: "Pennsylvanians have waited 150 years for this. History shows harness racing was probably the first formalized sport on the North American continent. There was a spotlight harness racing in Philadelphia more than 100 years ago. "Now we're in a position to have Pennsylvania breeders race their horses in Pennsylvania. And we're happy we made it."

Built Within Year
It came close to being a dead heat. The $12.5 million plant was built in 10 calendar months. And it's a beauty.

One year ago, there were 293 acres of farm land, gulleys and trees. Forty-foot fills and 30-foot cuts faced the bulldozers. The first steel was planted last July 26.

Now there's a three-tiered stand, glass enclosed and air conditioned for the summer meeting, with heating for the chilly September, October and November nights. It accommodates just a shade under 10,000 spectators.

The track is 5/8ths of a mile, and 90 feet wide for eight-horse events, with allowances made to lengthen it to a mile if flat racing ever is approved by the state. A practice track also 5/8ths of a mile, is in the stable area.

The stables can accommodate 1,200 horses, with fire brick walls and automatic sprinkling systems to avoid catastrophic barn fires. There are double-level motel type accommodations for groomers.

Horses Arrive
The big name trainers, owners and horses are moving in. Mister Newport of Newport Farms, a full brother to Newport Dream, the 1954 Hambleton winner, was the first racer to step from his van.

Stanley Dancer and Del Miller each will move in 35 horses. Billy Houghton 36 and Joe O'Brien 40.

Medford Has Four Stars

EUGENE (UPI) — The State baseball team for the annual prep-all star series here June 15-16 will include four left-handed pitchers and two right-handers.

Lefty Steve Bunker of Pendleton will be joined by southpaw Stuart Young of Medford, Ross Duane of Reynolds and Butch O'Brien of Prairie City. Right-handers will be John Conrad of Bandon and Loren Whitaker of North Salem.

Catchers are R. J. Hudson of Oregon City and Bob Cook, Pendleton.

Other squad members include: Jack Willis, South Eugene, and Chris Kirby, Forest Grove, first base; Dick Deffley, Medford, second base; Dave Stanley, Albany, third base; Dan Miles, Medford, and Wayne Smith, South Eugene, shortstops; Randy Dolven, La Grande, utility infielder.

Outfielders: Gary Reddick, Medford; Bob Officer, South Eugene, and Dennis Baldrige, McKenzie.

Stanford Names Grid Captains

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — The Stanford University football team has elected Clark Weaver a and Marv Harris co-captains for the 1963 season.

Weaver, a quarterback, comes from Phoenix, Ariz. Harris is a center from Coos Bay, Ore.

Beatty Joins Wilson In Fight Against Warring Factions

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee, and champion miler Jim Beatty joined Gen. Douglas MacArthur today in deploring the latest outbreak of hostilities between the NCAA and the AAU.

Wilson urged that MacArthur call the opposing sides together "in the very near future" to forestall another track "war" that would weaken the U.S. team for its dual meet against Russia in Moscow next month.

The Olympic leader said in Chicago that the current dispute "apparently has come out of a difference of interpretation of Gen. MacArthur's March 12 ruling" when the five-star general first mediated the AAU-NCAA squabble over control of track meets.

Beatty asked the warring factions to discontinue their feud because "it would be a shame if this summer in Moscow the men's track and field team of Russia defeated the U.S. men's team for the first time."

new war could prevent NCAA athletes from competing in the AAU championships at St. Louis June 21-22. Without USTFF sanction, many of the nation's outstanding college track stars would shun the event that selects members for the meeting against Russia in Moscow.

"I am reluctant to believe that either of these groups, directly or indirectly, intend to aggravate their given word to the detriment of their country and the athletes whose activities they control," MacArthur said in a statement that urged a halt to the new flareup.

ment gave it sole sanctioning power in the United States for open track and field competition. Some NCAA officials, however, never accepted that edict because it failed to grant the USTFF's proposal for dual track meet sanctions.

Spokane Applies Second Game Jinx To Denver

By United Press International
Denver is the latest victim of Spokane's unique second game whammy.

The Indians are a so-so 26-26 in the Pacific Coast League Standings, but are 15 for 15 in the second games of all their PCL series.

The Indians, five games behind Tacoma in the northern division chase, got a stiff battle Tuesday night before Dick Nen's single in the bottom of the ninth brought a 4-3 victory.

Denver jumped off to a quick lead, but nice relief work by Joe Moeller and Ken Rowe and Al Ferrara's two-run homer in the fifth helped set the stage for Nen's game winning blow.

Ferrara's blast ran his run batted in total to 31 for the campaign.

The weatherman and a couple of hot pitchers pretty well took care the rest of the PCL action last night.

Portland was postponed at Seattle and Salt Lake City at Tacoma because of wet weather. Hawaii mashed Oklahoma City 6-1 behind Dick Sovde and Dallas-Pi Worth thumped San Diego 4-0 with dazzling Lee Stage doing the honors.

Sovde allowed six hits, but still only faced 32 batters since he did not walk a man.

Damaging Homer
Ex-Los Angeles Dodgers Jim Golden took the loss although Dick Simpson's three-run homer off reliever Butch Nixon did the heaviest damage.

At Fort Worth, the Rangers' Stange allowed but three hits and fanned 15 Padres in running his record to 5-0. Loser Sammy Ellis gave up only one run before retiring for a pitch hitter in the eighth.

The win moved the Rangers a game and a half ahead of San Diego in their southern division battle. The teams are going steady during the next few weeks with all 11 meetings between the teams scheduled soon. San Diego may have its problems.

Off the field yesterday, Seattle and Tacoma pulled off a big trade that sent first baseman Don Gile to the Giants for outfielder Felix Maldonado.

Gile, presently hitting .260, came to Seattle in 1960. He hit .306, had a shot with the Boston Red Sox, but then was shipped down to the Rainiers.

Maldonado was hitting .237, signed by the San Francisco Giants out of Ponce, Puerto Rico. He has played with St. Cloud of the Northern League, Eugene of the Northwest League and El Paso of the Texas League.

Nicklaus Could Slam Say Golfers

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus and not Arnold Palmer is the only man who possibly could make golf's coveted "grand slam," their fellow professionals agreed practically unanimously today.

But, they added, it is in the realm of fantasy to believe that any man could sweep the big four — the U.S. and British Opens, the Masters and the PGA — under current conditions.

"Arnold is been dreaming, smoking the weed, if he thinks any man can win all four of them these days," said Buck White.

"But if anybody could do it, then it would have to be Nicklaus." The reasons they all give is that there are too many good players on the tour in this era for one man to win all of the big four in one year, the variety of courses would have to trap a hopeful merely on changing playing conditions, the pressure would become insurmountable in the final leg of such a journey to golf immortality and the side business pressures would become intolerable.

As for Nicklaus being the almost unanimous choice to carry off the impossible, they all give him the edge on age alone. He is only 22 against Palmer's 33.

"But it goes beyond that," analyzed former PGA champion Jay Hebert as he practiced for the Buick Open. "In addition to age, Nicklaus has patience on his side. Palmer is a charger and you can't charge every type of course. Nicklaus has the game plus the patience to wait for openings before making his big run at the head end."

"Nicklaus will come closer to doing it somewhere along the line than anybody else," Herbert asserted.

"I hate the word 'impossible,'" argued blond Dave Marr, one of the better young players. "Yet it seems highly improbable that one man could pull off such a feat in an era where we have so many fine players. The pressure would be too big in the fourth one."

Back on his own game after two years of back and thumb trouble, Ken Venturi hinted that he wasn't spotting anybody anything when it comes to charging at the big ones.

"It's possible but not probable that anybody could win all four," he said. "I know if I ever did, I'd quit the game. There would be nothing left to accomplish. But as far as Palmer and Nicklaus are concerned they wouldn't have a fair chance. The outside interests and pressures would build up too tall against them."

"I really doubt," said Canada's George Knudson, "that anybody could pull it off—but I'd have to go with Nicklaus."

Bob Toski explained that he, too, would pick Nicklaus but called even Jolting Jack's chances "practically non-existent."

Veteran Ted Kroll picked Nicklaus over Palmer "because he's bigger, younger and hits it farther and straighter off the tee than anybody else" but held it was impossible now "because we don't have any more Ben Hogans left."

"Nicklaus is the only one you could pick this year," big George Bayer said with dry humor. "He's already won the Masters."

The unanimity on almost all counts isn't too surprising, however. Each one of these guys believes underneath that he personally would be the one to stop either of the big guns. But it does demonstrate the stature to which Nicklaus has risen in less than two years as a pro.

Final Hearing Slated Friday

PORTLAND (UPI) — A final hearing on 1963 hunting season regulations will be held here at 10 a.m. Friday in room 36 of the State Office Building.

The State Game Commission will set final regulations following the hearing. Tentative regulations were announced May 24. The hearing will concern deer, elk, antelope and bear hunting.
