

Newspaper Published By Students Of Sacred Heart

Success of publication of a high school annual and monthly issues of a school newspaper, depends on teamwork of the entire journalism class but the effort centers around the editors who wield the blue pencil and organize the copy, write the editorials and the heads, and make sure everything goes "to press" on deadline.

Sacred Heart Academy students and the faculty are proud of their annual, the Atrian, a Greek word meaning "hope," and their newspaper the Chimes.

Three girls and one boy are editors, Toni Negus and Frances Dal Brol are co-editors, Mary Jo Amerling is feature editor and Richard Owens is sports editor. Joan Duracha typed all the stenographs.

Contributions are received from all members of the journalism class taught by Sister John Magdalen. Seniors are in charge of the annual, Juniors the Chimes.

Every phase of publication is covered in the journalism course and the projects completed during the last year were varied and interesting. The class interviewed 107 merchants to discover merchant reaction to Sacred Heart Academy students; conducted a dating survey published in an issue of Chimes before the junior-senior prom to discover what boys and girls thought of dating, and sent two delegates, Carmelle Hartin and Margaret Ann Casey of the Atrian staff to a press conference in Seattle.

Toni will attend a one-week journalism workshop in Chico during the summer.

A completely new yearbook will be published during the 1963-1964 school year, called a Portfolio Format. The school will purchase a regular annual cover but will use all Chimes published during the year, bound together for the book.

Numerous subjects have been featured in Chimes. One issue was devoted to automobiles, accident statistics, comparison of the number of citizens killed in wars and on the highways, which was concluded with a self quiz to enable student drivers to evaluate themselves.

Students interviewed persons in town and rural areas with unusual and interesting jobs, the owner of a tackle shop, a parole officer, crop dusting plane pilot and others. An issue of literary contributions was published at the Christmas holidays. Much of this work was accomplished outside the classroom.

The class received two awards at the press conference in Seattle, one to Frances Dal Brol for excellence as a copy reader, the second by Toni Negus for editorial distinction.

The class also received an award from the yearbook Association which gave the Atrian the highest possible rating. Atrian this year is to be published during the summer and distributed at the start of the fall term to permit publication of prom and graduation activities in the year in which they occurred.

No ads have been sold for the last two years to help support the publications.

There are 20-25 students in the class.

A SCHOOL HOUSE

This coming Monday June 10th we will be voting on two School Districts consolidating into a single Klamath County School District (and MAYBE the abolishment of the Klamath Union High School District); when in all honesty we should be voting on a School House (or Houses) to solve the problem of too many students at Klamath Union High School.

Basically and geographically Klamath County is a two School District County. The Philosophy on WIDTH OF CURRICULUM ECONOMICALLY OFFERED depends upon two major factors:

- A. The number of students.
- B. The concentration and location of the students.

If we have a larger concentration of students in a smaller area, it is more economically sound to offer a greater width of curriculum (4 years of mathematics and foreign language, advanced physics and chemistry, and the ambiguous courses that are "frills" to one parent, but a definite necessary requirement to another.)

The proponents of the Single County Unit say that a Metropolitan (Urban) and Rural School District is what we need, but that it is IMPOSSIBLE to obtain equalization. So the ONLY plan is a second choice educational program to TRY to solve the problem, at the increased expense to the rural district.

There are only four County Unit School Districts in Oregon. Two of these are having extreme administrative difficulties, one of the others has only one High School, and the fourth is too new to evaluate. Yet, the proposal that a "Single Unit is Best" is offered even with many, many legal uncertainties involved.

It has been said that the Single Unit Plan is the BEST proposal for insurance of our educational future, but it doesn't say how, when, or how much to solve the overcrowding at K.U.H.S. — the only apparent certainty is an increased tax burden to the rural people.

This seems to be an extremely drastic GAMBLE on our admitted good school systems and their future growth. We personally feel we have enough centralization and consolidation on the State and Federal levels, and the more local control of our schools (urban and rural) the better.

There are other solutions to the K.U.H.S. problem, which if re-evaluated, would be better educationally, cheaper, faster, and less offensive TO ALL the residents of Klamath County.

Our immediate need is a plan for a School House to relieve the overcrowded conditions at K.U.H.S. The magic words to the Suburban area are the Summers Lane Site or the Henley Site. A 1200 student Junior High School (Grades 8 & 9 now to be followed by grade 7 AS NEEDED); or a partial redistricting of a suburban area, with the consent of these people, into the County Unit for high school purposes, would do the job.

Recent legislation now gives us the legal machinery to reorganize as we wish, (watch how the Single County Unit proponents hedge and change the subject on H.B. 1556 (Carroll Howe), and S.B. 287, (The new Optional Reorganization Law), which allows us to reorganize our Districts to obtain grades 1 to 12.

Then our Citizens Committee, with the three School Boards, AND THE PRESSURE OFF at K.U.H.S., would have the time and the new legislation to reorganize, in an orderly fashion, two School Districts with grades 1 to 12, under the new Optional State School Reorganization Program. (H.B. 1556 and S.B. 287.)

Thusly, School District No. 1 and School District No. 2 have faced their problems without sticking our good rural neighbors with an unfair tax bill.

We sincerely feel that the Single County Unit School District is NOT the ONLY or BEST solution, but just a second choice educational program that could lead to years of difficulty in voting budgets for operating the schools and serial levies for building programs, and that is why we are opposed to the Single County Unit Consolidation Plan.
