

In The Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS

In the news of this morning—at least up to the hour this is written—there is nothing that GOES BANG!
It isn't a big headlines day.

In a graduation address at American University, President Kennedy announces a moratorium on nuclear testing in the atmosphere as a part of a new "high level" effort to resolve the five-year old test ban deadlock with Russia.

He said:
"The U.S. does not propose to conduct nuclear tests in the atmosphere SO LONG AS OTHER NATIONS DO NOT DO SO."

He conceded that successful conclusion of a nuclear test ban treaty depends on Soviet leaders adopting a "more enlightened attitude." But, he added, "I believe we can help them do it by SETTING THE EXAMPLE in all areas of human relations."

Well, it's worth a try—
So long as we KEEP OUR POWDER DRY.

In his address this morning, President Kennedy noted that Russia and the United States have never opposed each other on the battlefield, and then added:

"Both the United States and its allies and the Soviet Union and its allies have a mutually deep interest in a just and genuine peace and in halting the arms race."

True enough.

But—
The Soviet Union is ruled by communists whose purpose is to CONQUER THE WORLD FOR COMMUNISM.

As long as that remains true, an eventual clash is inevitable. As long as the U.S.A. remains the U.S.A., Americans will never submit to communism without a battle to the death.

Mr. Kroosh might as well put that in his pipe and smoke it.

A thought:
We might have clashed with Russia over Alaska. We DIDN'T.

We might have clashed with Russia over the Russian settlements on the Northern California coast. We DIDN'T.

But that was before COMMUNISM took over Russia.

In conclusion, two questions:
1. Where is American University?
2. What is American University?

Here are the answers:
1. American University is located in Washington, D.C.
2. It is a coeducational liberal arts college. It was chartered in 1863, and is controlled by the Methodist church. It has a college of arts and sciences, a School of Public Affairs, and a Graduate School.

Its normal enrollment is in the general neighborhood of 3,000 to 4,000.

Phone Firm
Asks Boost

SALEM (UPI)—Telephone rate increases for 16 Oregon communities were requested today by Pacific Northwest Bell.

T. E. Bolger, the firm's vice president and general manager, said the areas are being reclassified because of growth.

The telephone company asked the public utility commissioner for authorization to begin using the new rates in July.

Weather

Klamath Falls, Tulelake and Lakeview
—Generally fair through Tuesday. Slightly cooler tonight, lows 20-27. Slightly warmer Tuesday. Highs 42-53. Decreasing winds tonight. Northerly 8-14 m.p.h. Tuesday.

High yesterday 44
Low this morning 22
High year ago 72
Low year ago 44
Precip. past 24 hours .00
Since Jan. 1 1.42
Same period last year 8.11

Price Ten Cents—14 Pages

KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON, MONDAY, JUNE 10, 1963

Telephone TU 4-8111 No. 7164

Herald and News

Weather

AGRICULTURAL FORECAST
Improving conditions next five days with highs rising to 70-80; lows 32-40. More sunshine, less wind, no precipitation expected. Eight-inch soil temperature 34 degrees. Haying outlook good to excellent.

Kennedy Announces Moratorium On A-Tests

ALL SMILES — Dark-haired Cathy Ross of Chiloquin, left, won the rhinestone-studded crown that will send her as 1963 Klamath County Dairy Princess to state competition at Portland. She was crowned Saturday night at a dinner-dance at Reames Golf and Country Club by James Chance, Merrill, master of ceremonies. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Ross, Chiloquin, Modoc Point ranchers. She was presented with an armful of red roses by the sponsoring groups, the Klamath County Dairymen's Association and the Klamath County Farm Bureau. Numerous gifts were presented to the three candidates by local firms. In picture, left to right, are Gene Lee of Bonanza, Princess Cathy, and Nancy Wenz, Klamath Falls. Some 200 persons saw the ceremony.

Huge Force Prepared To Keep Law, Order

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI)—A force of more than 800 policemen backed by 700 National Guardsmen maintained order in this college town today on the eve of the pending registration of two Negroes at the University of Alabama.

Gov. George C. Wallace was scheduled to fly here from Montgomery this afternoon to take personal charge of plans for blocking the enrollment of two Negro students Tuesday. Despite a federal injunction against his interference, Wallace intends to "stand in the doorway" to keep Negroes out of the university.

Wallace has said, however, that the huge force of 1,500 police officers and Guardsmen was here to keep law and order and not to keep the Negroes off the campus.

Death Term Appeal Nixed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U. S. Supreme Court today denied a hearing to Larry West Shipley, 21, McMinnville, Ore., who is under sentence to die for the slaying of Linda Jean Stevens, 16, Willamina, Ore., on Aug. 8, 1961.

The brief order leaves the state of Oregon free to carry out the execution. A death date will be set in Lincoln County Circuit Court.

Shipley and Glen Douglas Dixon both were convicted of first degree murder in the slaying of the girl, whose bullet-riddled body was found on a forest path near Otis Junction.

Shipley received a death sentence and Dixon was sentenced to life.

The petition for Supreme Court review was filed by Attorney Jonathan U. Newman of the American Civil Liberties Union in Portland.

Cathy Ross Wins Crown

Klamath County's new Dairy Princess, Cathy Ross of Chiloquin, beamed for her audience when the awaited announcement was made on status of the three pretty contestants for the 1963 crown Saturday night at Reames Golf and Country Club.

The jeweled crown was placed on her dark curls by the master of ceremonies, James Chance, Merrill, who opened a sealed envelope containing the judges' decision. The choice was made on speech ability, dairy background, poise and ability to explain what the candidate would do to further sale and use of dairy products.

Death Term Appeal Nixed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U. S. Supreme Court today denied a hearing to Larry West Shipley, 21, McMinnville, Ore., who is under sentence to die for the slaying of Linda Jean Stevens, 16, Willamina, Ore., on Aug. 8, 1961.

The brief order leaves the state of Oregon free to carry out the execution. A death date will be set in Lincoln County Circuit Court.

Shipley and Glen Douglas Dixon both were convicted of first degree murder in the slaying of the girl, whose bullet-riddled body was found on a forest path near Otis Junction.

Shipley received a death sentence and Dixon was sentenced to life.

The petition for Supreme Court review was filed by Attorney Jonathan U. Newman of the American Civil Liberties Union in Portland.

Hoffa Faces Charge Of Attempted Bribe

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Teamsters president James Hoffa and 10 other persons appear in federal court here today to answer charges of attempt to bribe or "corruptly influence" jurors and prospective jurors at Hoffa's $1 million conspiracy trial last year.

The defendants, indicted by a special grand jury last month, were to be arraigned before Federal Judge Frank Gray Jr. Hoffa said he would plead innocent.

Bill Seeks Equal Pay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy planned to sign into law today a bill extending equality of the sexes to the pay window.

The new law will forbid the employers of 27.5 million U.S. workers to pay women less than men for doing the same work.

The legislation does not cover all women workers and will not take effect for one year. But despite its limitations, advocates of women's rights called the measure their most significant advance in many years.

No one knows now how many workers eventually will get higher pay as a result of the new law. Advocates of the bill cited specific examples of wage discrimination because of sex, but made no estimates of the totals.

The equal pay bill passed Congress with little controversy after years of futile efforts to establish wage parity in the law.

Mid-July Test Ban Talks To Be Conducted In Moscow

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today announced a moratorium on U. S. nuclear testing in the atmosphere as part of a new "high-level" effort to resolve the five-year-old test ban deadlock with Russia.

"The United States does not propose to conduct nuclear tests in the atmosphere so long as other states do not do so," he declared. "We will not be the first to resume."

Kennedy said the new test ban talks, expected to start in Moscow in mid-July, will carry with them "the hopes of all mankind."

He warned, however, that "our hopes must be tempered with the caution of history," an allusion to past failures in the area.

The talks were agreed upon by Kennedy, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan as the result of a recent exchange of correspondence. But they will be conducted at a level somewhere short of the foreign ministers.

The chief executive, who announced the step in a commencement address at American University here, said the terrible threat of atomic annihilation implicit in the current arms race called for "a fresh start" on nuclear test ban negotiations.

Federal Mediator George Walker said his office was constantly in touch with both sides. Asked if he thought there would be a negotiating session this week he said it was "hard to tell but it is possible."

The International Woodworkers of America (IWA) and the Lumber and Sawmill Workers (LSW) last week struck St. Regis and U.S. Plywood in a dispute over wages. Four other members of the Big Six—Weyerhaeuser, Crown Zellerbach, International Paper and Rayonier shut down operations in Oregon, Washington and Northern California on the theory that "a strike against one is a strike against all."

No new negotiating sessions have been announced between another large employer group, Timber Operators Council, and the two unions. The some 196 members of the TOC still were operating.

The indictment alleged the three detectives attempted to influence the outcome of the trial by calling prospective jurors on the telephone and telling them of the "publicity and national importance connected with the case."

They allegedly made the calls while posing as reporters of the Nashville Banner.

Hoffa was named in all five counts of an indictment returned May 9. He could receive up to 25 years in prison and a $25,000 fine if convicted on each count.

The Teamsters chief, on his arrival here Sunday night, complained he could not get a fair trial anywhere in the United States.

It would be impossible to find an unbiased jury, Hoffa told newsmen when he got out of his private plane here.

He said Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy had gone on television and said "Hoffa is guilty of this, and Hoffa is guilty of that, and juries who didn't convict him didn't know what they were doing."

The indictments returned by the grand jury charged that Hoffa bribed at least $75,000 were offered to influence jurors and prospective jurors to vote for Hoffa's acquittal.

Henry F. (Buster) Bell of the Bronx, New York, was accused of conspiring to offer bribes totaling $53,000. The indictments alleged Bell offered a prospective juror $30,000 and offered a Nashville man $25,000 to persuade two jurors to vote for Hoffa's acquittal.

Lawrence Medlin, a Nashville businessman, was charged with offering a prospective juror $10,000, and Thomas Ewing Parks of Nashville was accused of offering the son of a juror $10,000 to be split with his father.

The government also contended that Ewing King, president of Teamsters Local 327, offered to assist the husband of a woman juror in obtaining a promotion in the highway patrol if he would persuade his wife to vote for Hoffa's acquittal.

Other defendants in the case were Allen Dorfman, Chicago in-

into the prime minister's office, Butler looked grim.

Lord Poole, the man called in to add new vigor to the faltering party organization, also met with Macmillan.

Lord Hailsham told newsmen after seeing Macmillan: "There's a lot of things I would like to say but nothing I am going to say."

Pressure built up for Macmillan to resign because of the scandal, which was said to have started when Profumo, 48, began chasing a scantily clad redhead around a moonlit swimming pool.

The connection between the resignation of Profumo last week and Cuba was disclosed in an exchange of letters between the Earl of Home, British foreign secretary, and the Earl of Arran, a director of the London Daily Mail. The letters were published in the Mail today.

A letter from Arran to Home dated Oct. 31, 1962, showed that Soviet diplomat Eugene Ivanov "asked by Dr. Stephen Ward, ostensibly tried to arrange a London 'summit meeting' at the height of the Cuban crisis."

Home's reply, of Nov. 7, 1962, said he thought Ivanov's maneuver was meant to "drive a wedge" between London and Washington and "to test our resolve and to lay a bait to our vanity...."

Ivanov is a former assistant naval attaché at the Soviet Embassy here who shared with Profumo the favors of red-haired Christine Keeler, a 21-year-old call girl.

Ward, 50, a society osteopath with numerous well-known clients, was the man who introduced Profumo to Miss Keeler and was the key figure in exposing the relationship between the two.

it might have been if the history of the past 18 years had been different, he said this country "must persevere in the... hope that constructive changes without the Communist bloc might bring within reach solutions which now seem beyond us."

Voters Face County Unit School Issue

Klamath voters have an important task before them today, June 10, in the county-wide election on school district consolidation.

The question is whether or not the city elementary school district will join the county district to form a single county-wide district, automatically dissolving the Klamath Union High School District.

The Herald and News has presented a great deal of pro and con material in an effort to give voters some basis for decision. Residents are urged to vote, whether yes or no, so the will of the people is made clear to school officials.

Voting hours in both districts are from 2 to 8 p.m. The Fremont Elementary School, 715 High Street, is the only polling place for residents of the city elementary district. The several polling places for county district residents appeared on the front page of the Herald and News, Sunday, June 9. County district residents are reminded that their precincts have been changed and the new precincts are also listed in Sunday's story.

If voters have any questions they can contact Harold Ashley, city school clerk, TU 4-3432, or Dale Goode, county school clerk, TU 2-2501.

Residents of the Suburban Rural Fire Protection District will vote in a special election at the Suburban Fire Station, 2342 Gettle Street, between the hours of 2 and 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 11, to determine whether the tax levy for the district should be increased $38,129.02.

The Suburban Fire District includes generally that area from Washburn Way east to about one mile past the Lakeview Junction and from Eberlein Avenue south to Airway Drive.

G. A. Robustelli, president of the district's board of directors, has stated that increasing the tax levy is necessary because sufficient funds to provide adequate fire protection in the district cannot be raised within the limits of the tax base for the district.

The growth and development of the district, necessitating additional personnel and fire-fighting equipment, has increased more rapidly than the increase permitted in the tax levy, he pointed out.

Under Article XI, Section 11, of the Oregon Constitution, the tax levy may not exceed six per cent of the budget raised for the previous year.

Fire District Vote Slated

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon warned Saturday that the United States must guard against sacrificing its own independence in a world of interdependence.

The governor spoke at the 60th commencement exercises at Whittier College.

He urged the graduating students to "take action which will prove that government can recognize opportunity without yielding to impurity."

WHITTIER, Calif. (UPI)—Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon warned Saturday that the United States must guard against sacrificing its own independence in a world of interdependence.

The governor spoke at the 60th commencement exercises at Whittier College.

He urged the graduating students to "take action which will prove that government can recognize opportunity without yielding to impurity."

WHITTIER, Calif. (UPI)—Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon warned Saturday that the United States must guard against sacrificing its own independence in a world of interdependence.

The governor spoke at the 60th commencement exercises at Whittier College.

He urged the graduating students to "take action which will prove that government can recognize opportunity without yielding to impurity."

MEXICO BOUND — Determination and hard work paid off for students of Klamath Union High School Spanish class who left by chartered Trailways bus Monday morning for a trip to Mexico. Cash for transportation was earned by the Spanish Club by candy, cookie and baked food sales, rummage sales and a car wash. Students will pay their own personal and living expenses on the 10-day trip. They were accompanied by Mrs. Beatrice Tanielian, Spanish teacher and sponsor of the Spanish Club, and Mr. and Mrs. James Shields. (See story on Page 4.)

Prime Minister Returns Home To Face Playgirl Scandal

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan returned from a golfing holiday today and went into a huddle with his cabinet members on the spreading scandal that threatens his government.

It was learned, meantime, that the lord chancellor for the last 10 days has been investigating the security aspects of the scandal involving former War Minister John Profumo along with a former Soviet Embassy official and red-haired playgirl Christine Keeler.

An investigation by the lord chancellor, chief of Britain's judicial system, has taken place only twice in Britain since the end of World War II—once when a junior minister in the Labor government was accused of taking bribes in 1948 and again in 1957 when the Exchequer was shaken by unfounded allegations that vital financial secrets had been leaked.

Lord Dilborne, the lord chancellor, probably will make his report this week, government sources said.

Disclosure of the rare top-level investigation came as one of the key figures in the scandal, Dr. Stephen Ward, was ordered held without bail for a week.

Ward, 39, a society osteopath, was arrested Saturday on charges of living off the earning of prostitutes.

Barely two hours after Macmillan returned from his vacation in Scotland, he was visited by Lord Hailsham, the science minister who carried great weight with the rank-and-file of the Conservative party.

About 10 minutes later, Home Secretary Richard A. Butler, the man most favored to succeed Macmillan as party leader, went into the prime minister's office, Butler looked grim.

Lord Poole, the man called in to add new vigor to the faltering party organization, also met with Macmillan.

Lord Hailsham told newsmen after seeing Macmillan: "There's a lot of things I would like to say but nothing I am going to say."

Pressure built up for Macmillan to resign because of the scandal, which was said to have started when Profumo, 48, began chasing a scantily clad redhead around a moonlit swimming pool.

The connection between the resignation of Profumo last week and Cuba was disclosed in an exchange of letters between the Earl of Home, British foreign secretary, and the Earl of Arran, a director of the London Daily Mail. The letters were published in the Mail today.

A letter from Arran to Home dated Oct. 31, 1962, showed that Soviet diplomat Eugene Ivanov "asked by Dr. Stephen Ward, ostensibly tried to arrange a London 'summit meeting' at the height of the Cuban crisis."

Home's reply, of Nov. 7, 1962, said he thought Ivanov's maneuver was meant to "drive a wedge" between London and Washington and "to test our resolve and to lay a bait to our vanity...."

Ivanov is a former assistant naval attaché at the Soviet Embassy here who shared with Profumo the favors of red-haired Christine Keeler, a 21-year-old call girl.

Ward, 50, a society osteopath with numerous well-known clients, was the man who introduced Profumo to Miss Keeler and was the key figure in exposing the relationship between the two.